470 Are Rescued At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A vicious fire raged uncontrolled through the cruise ship Viking Princess today driving the reported 471 passengers and crew members from the Miami-based vessel.

The Coast Guard reported 470 were rescued, 1 dead and 10 missing.

The survivors—including the ship's veteran Norwegian captain, chief officer and navigator—were plucked from the gently rolling Atlantic Ocean by three merchant vessels.

The $16-million Viking Princess was reported blazing fiercely, a towering column of smoke marking its death throes in the Windward Passage between Cuba and Haiti.

"All (survivors) are in good shape," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The German freighter Cap Nort picked up 376 survivors and one body, the Liberian freighter Navigator rescued 81 and the Chunking Victory, a Nationalist Chinese merchant ship, saved 13 more.

Lt. David Carey, a Coast Guard public information officer, said:

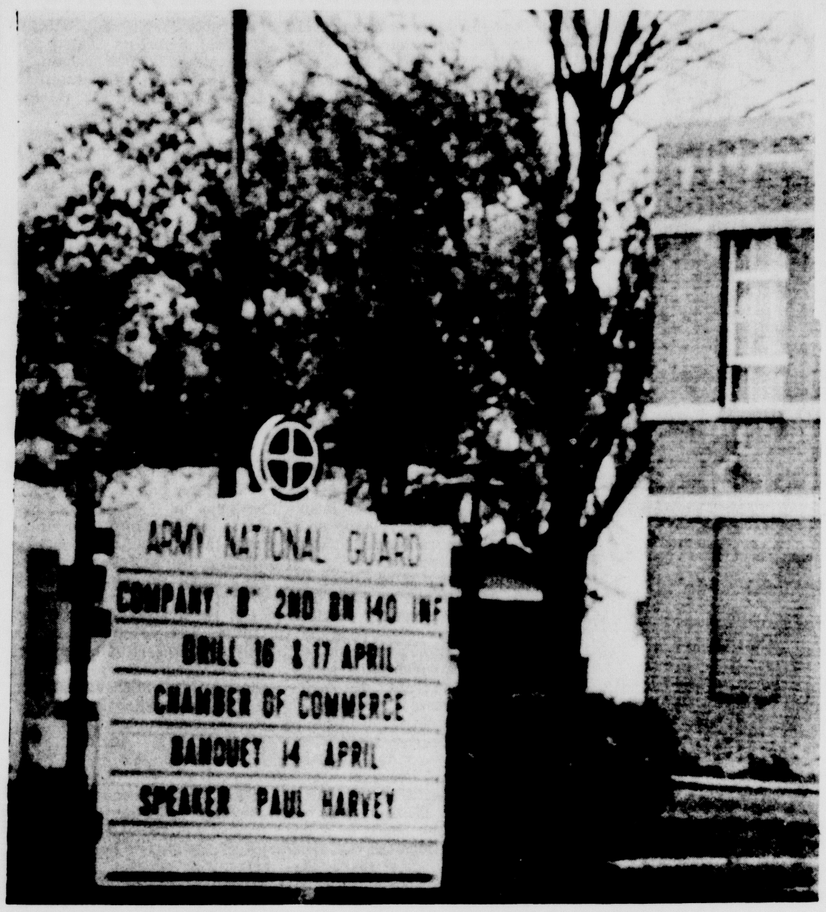

"A boarding party from the cutter Cook Inlet searched the after end of the ship and we do not believe any survivors are left aboard."

The Coast Guard, Navy, U.S. Customs and the ship's booking agency agreed the Viking Princess carried 235 passengers, but figures on the crew varied from 248 to 260.

Carey said two ships were searching for other possible survivors in a 20-mile radius and the area was being crisscrossed by rescue planes.

The three ships carrying survivors were reported steaming for the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The cruise ship was commanded by Capt. Otto Thoresen, a veteran of 30 years at sea.

A NEW SIGN has been placed on the National Guard Armory grounds by the Enlisted Men's club. The current message calls attention to the Chamber of Commerce banquet with Radio Commentator Paul Harvey as the speaker. The message can be changed.

Scott School Redistricting Election Set for May 3

Proposal Would Make No Elementary School Changes

By DAN WHITTLE

BENTON -- Voters of Scott County will go to the polls May 3 to vote on reorganizing the county's seven school districts into two large districts, R-1 and R-2.

Last night after canvassing the ballots from Tuesday's election, the county board of education set the election date.

The R-1 school district would be made up of Illmo-Scott City R-1, Chaffee R-2, Oran R-3, Benton R-4 and Kelso C-7.

The R-2 district would be made up of Sikeston R-6 and Scott Central R-5.

Board President G. K. Patterson said that no elementary schools in the county would be changed.

Before setting the date a delegation of six from the Scott Central district told directors that they hadn't been properly informed about the organization proposal.

Mrs. Odis Freeman, whose husband was elected to the Scott Central board of education Tuesday told the board that she didn't think it was fair because the Sikeston district has more voters than does Scott Central.

The reorganizational plan was drawn by a county board of education composed of two directors from each district in the county.

Harold Vogel, public school administrative assistant, said that the Sikeston schools could absorb Scott Central's enrollment with three to four staff members.

He said larger districts were more economical.

Tharon Stallings, county board member from Sikeston, told Mrs. Freeman that the reorganization proposal is one more step in seeking better schools.

The state department of education approved the reorganization plan March 6.

An election must be held within 60 days.

If approved by the voters, the R-1 district would have $17,560,925 total assessed valuation and the R-2 district would have $19,629,800.

The enrollment of the R-1 district would be 3,115.

Enrollment of the R-2 district would be 3,811.

If approved, the present school boards will be void.

Patterson said that if the redistricting is approved, a new central high school possibly will be constructed in the R-1 district.

He said Sikeston had adequate facilities for the proposed R-2 district.

Present districts R-1, R-2, R-4 and R-5 were established in 1954 and R-3 was created in 1955. The R-6 district was created in 1949.

Enumeration of the districts: R-1, 1,461; R-2, 1,084; R-3, 879, R-4, 1,149; R-5, 781; R-6, 4,893; C-7, 429. The total is 10,676.

Evaluation of each district: R-1, $3,381,035; R-2, $3,251,330; R-3, $3,500,990; R-4, $5,402,460; R-5, $3,425,140; R-6, $16,204,660; and C-7, $2,025,120.

Average daily attendence: R-1, high school, 258.90, elementary, 507.01; R-2, 272.816, elementary, 447.469; R-3, high school, 187.86, elementary, 284.99; R-4, high school, 215.84, elementary, 433.90; C-7, elementary, 27.

From these figures the proposed R-1 district would have an average daily attendance of high school, 935.416, elementary, 167.362.

The number of teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are: R-1 high school, 18, elementary, 24; R-2, high school, 16, elementary, 22; R-3 high school, 16, elementary, 12; R-4, high school, 22, elementary, 10, C-7 elementary, 2.

Total high school teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are 72; elementary 78.

In the proposed R-2 district, the average daily attendance would be 1,190.31 in high school and 2,902.31 in the elementary schools.

Sikeston has an average high school attendance of 1,030.35 and an average daily elemtary attendance of 2,902.31.

Scott Central is averaging 159.67 students in the high school and 221.48 in the grade schools.

Sikeston employs 95 high school teachers and 79 elementary teachers.

Scott Central has 16 high school teachers and 17 elementary teachers.

The present tax levies in the proposed R-1 district: R-1, $3.85; R-2, $3.55; R-3, $3.75; R-4, $2.70; C-7, $1.10.

The average tax levy is $2.99.

Tax levies in the proposed R-2 district: R-5, $2.75; R-6, $4; for a $3.10 average.

In the official canvass of the ballots in court districts, Boyd Duff got 708 votes, C. B. Taylor 645.

In court district two, Kenneth Raney got 833 official votes and Clyde Stubbs 872.

Raney was elected for an unexpired one-year term and Stubbs and Duff were elected to three-year terms.

The board unanimously reappointed Patterson as board president, Charles Michael, vice president, and Nada Anderson, secretary.

Billy C. Hanna

Hanna and Inman Managers

Billy C. Hanna, 103 Powers, is the new manager of Public Housing Authority in Sikeston. His appointment became effective Tuesday.

Hanna, 38, replaces E. R. Inman, 618 Dempster, who will become manager of the Board of Public Works April 18.

Inman is replacing Herbert Phelps, who is moving to Kansas City and joining William Riddle and Associates, a consulting engineering firm. Phelps has been with the board of public works since 1961.

Hanna was the manager of the Delta Loan Company, where he worked for 16 years.

He and his wife, Elma, have three sons.

He attends the First Methodist Church, where he is a member of the official board and a Sunday School teacher.

He is president of the Travelers Protective Association in Sikeston, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Masonic lodge, and a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Inman, 37, has been manager of the housing authority for eight years. He and his wife, Jo Ann, have three daughters.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, a past vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the First Methodist Church.

Congress Sowing Politics Instead of Easter Eggs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was scattered across the country today, taking home November election ammunition instead of Easter eggs.

The first long recess of the year — 10 days for the House, almost a week for the Senate — began with sendoffs notably political in tone from spokesmen for both parties.

"I can't see an issue the Republicans have raised that I consider a good political issue," remarked House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

But Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, Chairman of the House Republican Conference, said the issue is "cost of living increases and inflation."

"Our problem is there are so many issues," Laird said in an interview.

The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, accused the Democratic-dominated Congress of "a wild spending spree" that has brought on "the strong possibility of an income tax increase.

"It's claimed this is one of the hardest working of all Congresses," Ford said. "I say the hardest work is being done in certain major committees by those Democrats intent on inflating already bloated administration spending requests."

Albert called a news conference Thursday to say that members can go home "with great pride" in the accomplishments of the session — and that these accomplishments, including the passage of important administration bills, are the Democrats' best political assets.

Democratic incumbents include 71 first-termers who have had less than two years to dig in with the electorate.

"Anybody who is running against someone who contributed to that record is running against success," Albert said.

He shrugged off any idea that the congressional campaign, in which all 435 House seats and 34 of the Senate posts are at stake, will be dominated by the issue of cuts in federal spending versus a possible tax increase.

The Republican conference met a day earlier to brief members on the minority leadership's view of the Johnson administration. They were given background material on what Republicans consider especially vulnerable examples of government spending in such fields as public buildings and the poverty program.

Summing up the discussions, Laird said, "the issue will be inflation — by November the American people will be referring to it as a tragedy."

Republicans, he said, will be presenting a 5 per cent increase in cost of living during the past two years as "the Johnson-Humphrey 5 per cent sales tax -the cruelest, most regressive tax of all" and picturing Social Security checks slashed by rising prices.

Polls indicate, Laird, said, that the Viet Nam fighting is equally a cause of concern to Americans. But he added, "We don't have to emphasize that — prominent Democrats are doing too good a job themselves, with their criticism of the administration, to keep the issue alive."

In his summary of legislative accomplishments, Albert emphasized the moderate tax raise already enacted, the bill granting GI rights to veterans of the cold war and Viet Nam, and conservation measures. He said legislation on minimum wages, discrimination in employment and international health services are among bills scheduled for consideration soon after the House reconvenes.

Johnson to Ask for Increase In Social Security Benefits

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. AP -- President Johnson said today he will ask Congress next year to increase all Social Security benefits and to consider extending some medicare-type benefits to the very young.

Johnson, who flew here from his ranch home to sign a bill extending the signup period for the voluntary part of medicare for the elderly, made his announcement in a speech at the outdoor ceremony.

Besides pledging to seek across-the-board boosts in Social Security payments to 21 million Americans, Johnson disclosed that Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner has been ordered "to create plans for a new program to assist in financing dental service for young children."

Asserting that "medicare need not be just be for people over 65," the President said the dental aid would be for children under the age of 6.

White House sources said no decision had been made on whether the dental program would benefit all children or just those from low-income families.

Johnson, home in Texas for Easter and bustling with energy, flew the 60 miles from his ranch to San Antonio to sign the medicare bill and attend Good Friday services at an 18th century cathedral.

Red Dead Rise to 438

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP -- The U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division raised its toll of Communist dead to 438 today in Operation Lincoln on the Cambodian frontier after virtually wiping out a reinforced Viet Cong platoon.

The cavalrymen, sweeping around the Chu Phong Mountains 220 miles north of Saigon for two weeks, caught 30 to 40 Reds by surprise Thursday and killed 29 in a brisk figt.

Other American troops accounted for at least 15 Viet Cong killed near Tuy Hoa as the war continued on the ground and in the air despite continued street demonstrations in Saigon and antigovernment unrest in the northern provinces.

Magistrate Binds over Three to Circuit Court

NEW MADRID -- The docket of the New Madrid county magistrate court was filled this week as 36 were hailed before Magistrate Erie Wright of Portageville.

Herbert Jines, Jr., charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, waived his preliminary hearing, and was transferred to circuit court for trial with his bond set at $1,000.

Two others, Soloman Hill and Leon Crawley, also waived preliminary hearings on felony charges.

Hill was charged with selling mortgaged property; Crawley faced grand larceny charges. Both were held for the higher court with bonds set at $500 each.

J. D. Harris, charged with taking and receiving stolen property, was fined $25, sentenced to serve 30 days in jail, then placed on probation for six months.

Bill Franks was ordered to pay $15 support each week beginning April 18 after facing the judge on a non-support charge. He was also sentenced to serve six months in jail with sentence to be suspended as long as payments are made.

A two-count traffic violation brought a fine of $16, to James A. Vires. Vires was charged with having no operator's license and no brakes on a vehicle.

David Kennedy was released from jail after serving 90 days of a six months' sentence for supplying intoxicating beer to minors.

Eighteen speeders were fined: Ewing C. Chenault, $25, Adrian Earl Young, $15, Thomas Shipley, $20, William H. Cattron, $15, Ray Wilks Clark, $15, Joseph Robert Farris, $11, Pat-

Long and Jones Relax on Beach

HONOLULU AP -- Six U.S. senators and seven representatives en route to Canberra, Australia, for a 50-nation parliamentary Union Conference relaxed at Waikiki Thursday.

The conference, held in a different nation each year, is designed to give legislators of the world a chance to exchange ideas on world problems.

Among those in the party are Sen. Edward V. Long and Rep. Paul C. Jones of Missouri.

Sikeston to Send Sixteen

JEFFERSON CITY --J. Lewis Powell, nationally known management consultant, professional writer and maker of management motion pictures, will address the eighth annual Missouri Industrial Development conference April 20.

Henry Maddox, director of the commerce division, announced that the Industrial Conference this year shows indications of being one of the most successful to date. "To show the keen interest Missouri cities have in learning how to attract industry and how to assist present industry to expand, Sikeston, a city of about 15,000 population, has sent advance registrations for 16 persons to attend the conference," he said.

Christians Observe Saddest Day on Church Calendar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians observed the most sorrowful day in the church calendar today with Good Friday services around the world. The beginning of the Easter weekend also brought the annual exodus of holidayers.

Thousands of pilgrims streamed into Rome and the Holy Land for observances commemorating Christ's death on the cross. The mournful rites, in the closing days of Holy Week and the long austerity of Lent, were a prelude to the joyous celebrations of the resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Pope Paul VI was to lead thousands of Roman Catholics in a Good Friday Mass at the Basilica of St. Mary Major. During the service the pontiff, his shoes removed, lies prostrate before a slowly unveiled crucifix.

In the ancient Roman Colosseum, where once martyrs were thrown to the lions, the Pope will lead a torchlit procession tonight tracing Christ's journey to the cross. The ceremony traditionally includes 14 brief pauses in the procession for prayer and meditation.

Worshipers in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem thronged to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, traditionally held as the site of the Savior's crucifixion, burial and resurrection.

Pilgrims re-enacted the Way of the Cross procession, walking in the footsteps of Christ from the site of Pontius Pilate's fortress to Calvary. Calvary is now a balcony inside the church doors, its bare rock shielded by rich mosaics, candles and clusters of glowing lanterns.

Hotels, convents, hostels and private homes were packed to overflowing with about 25,000 Christians from places as far away as San Francisco and Tokyo, Sweden and South Africa.

In Jerusalem, for the first time since the Communist revolution nearly 50 years ago, a delegation of eight Soviet priests came from the Soviet Union to walk in the steps of Christ, mourn His crucifixion and rejoice at His resurrection.

Eastern and Western Christian communities are celebrating Easter at the same time this year for the first time in three years.

President Johnson flew from Washington to his ranch at Johnson City, Tex., to spend Easter weekend with Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters. He planned to attend Good Friday services at the historic San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio.

Vacationing college students flocked to Florida beaches for a week of revelry. An estimated 40,000 packed the 23-mile-long shore at Daytona Beach.

Street Violence In Saigon Rises

SAIGON (AP) — Buddhist monks led 2,000 demonstrators into the heart of Saigon tonight in the worst day of anti-American violence in seven days of rioting.

A dozen Americans were beaten, manhandled or chased by the mob.

Five U. S. servicemen and two Vietnamese women were injured slightly by a grenade lobbed into a soft drink stand at Starcom, a U. S. communications center in west Saigon.

As the column of jeering, banner-waving youths surged downtown from the Buddhist Institute in the southwestern part of the capital, fully armed government paratroopers backed away. But riot police eventually waded into the mob, lobbing tear gas grenades and scattering the demonstrators in side streets.

There, the angry youths formed knots again, and there was every indication of another night-long rampage to force the overthrow of military government.

The demonstrators looted a home occupied by several American servicemen opposite the Buddhist Institute. They tore up furniture and drove six U.S. servicemen into the streets where they were manhandled. Vietnamese paratroopers who arrived at the scene laughed and joked with the demonstrators as the U.S. soldiers made their way through the crowd carrying a few personal belongings.

U.S. military police jeeps stationed nearby drove them to safety.

A short time before, a mob of 500 youths assaulted two Americans, one of them a serviceman, and chased a U.S. sailor into a house near the Buddhist Institute. There was no word of any injuries to the Americans.

The mob also overturned and set fire to a police jeep and tossed two dud grenades.

Some club-wielding youths pulled an unidentified American civilian from a taxi in front of the institute earlier in the day, and beat him. He fled with unknown injuries.

It was the second day of personal violence against Americans.

The demonstrators hurled insults at foreign newsmen. Monks restrained them from kicking and hitting newsmen with sticks.

Reporters also were confronted by American military police who said they were under orders from the U.S. Embassy to move all American newsmen from the streets. In one case, MPs drew pistols on newsmen to keep them from the scenes of violence.

Space Failure Reason Sought

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Space agency officials combed through bundles of data today in search of why a Centaur rocket failed to properly ignite a second time Thursday night, causing a possible setback in the U.S. man-in-space program.

The failure showed that U.S. scientists have not yet proved they can tame liquid hydrogen fuel in space — a concept which this nation must realize before it can commit astronauts to go to the moon, send heavy payloads to the planets or soft-land instruments on the moon the year around.

As engineers wrestled with the problem, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration went ahead with plans today to launch an Orbiting Astronomical Observatory at 1:36 p.m. The shot has been postponed five times.

After a flawless countdown the problem-plagued Centaur — already more than three years behind schedule — thundered aloft from Cape Kennedy Thursday night.

An Atlas booster successfully propelled the hydrogen-fueled Centaur upper stage 88 miles above the earth, where the Centaur's two engines burned for 325 seconds and placed it and a dummy surveyor soft-lander moonship into a planned 100-mile-high parking orbit around the earth.

After a 25-minute coasting period in this orbit, Centaur was to have ignited a second time, burn 107 seconds and hurl the dummy spacecraft to a make-believe moon 236,000 miles from earth.

Instead, NASA said, apparently only one of Centaur's two 15,000-pound-thrust engines ignited. It only burned 17 seconds and kicked both the surveyor model and the Centaur into an oval-shaped orbit of 101 to 186 miles.

WHICH ONE IS RIGHT?

It should not be too long until arguments advanced by our own Congressman, U.S. Representative Paul C. Jones, have a prophetic ring about them.

The prophecy could well be confirmed this week in a major study conducted by Fortune magazine.

Rep. Jones, in advocating a closer rein on domestic spending as the war in Viet Nam is escalated, has generally been hooted down by his more liberal colleagues in Congress.

At the start of the year, the President confounded the nation in his fiscal message that called for both "guns and butter."

Throughout it all, Rep. Jones has maintained that early estimates on the cost of the war in Viet Nam were too low.

This week, there will be figures published to show that the war is already running at an annual rate of $13 billion. If, as General Westmoreland has asked, troop build-up in Viet Nam rises to 400,000 before the year is out, the cost will run to $21 billion a year.

These estimates will be published in Fortune Tuesday. They contrast sharply with official expenditure forecasts. The President's budget for the fiscal year July 1, 1966, through June 30, 1967, allows only $10 billion for the war.

Fortune has developed its figures in a major research project, the most extensive ever undertaken by the magazine for a single article. The magazine's economics department and two outside economic consultants worked to produce independent cost estimates, assembling bits and pieces of basic data imbedded in the records of congressional hearings and government contract announcements.

A part of the astonishingly high cost of the war comes from increased prices. For instance, servicemen's pay is up more than 40 per cent since Korea, fighter jets cost six times as much as then. But the kind of war it is and the rate at which it chews up material also are responsible.

The magazine is certain that its careful analysis is correct, that costs already are and will continue far above those yet officially indicated.

What it all means, in a word, is a new strain on the economy, a strain that was not forecast in the Johnson fiscal message of less than three months ago.

But it was forecast by our Southeast Missouri Congressman.

We'll see which one is correct.

For our money, the Congressman is.

The Easter Show of the Radio City Music Hall was a gem this year--beautiful sets, the magical precision of the dancing Rockettes, and the talented, ageless Mary Martin cavorting, singing and dancing.

It was delightful to watch this television special, which helped compensate for some of the network failures of the winter and the mediocre weekly fare that grows increasingly more boring and monotonous.

The only thing wrong with Miss Martin's tidy spectacular was that it didn't compare with the glories outside.

Spring is Sikeston's best season and April is its best month.

There is a tang in the air and the promise of another growing season.

Dogwood soon will flower.

There is the splash of yellow forsythia. The delicate pink of the flowing quince. The beautiful red hues of the crape myrtle.

Skies are blue at least part of the time and there are buttermilk skies with those fluffy, white clouds--at least when there is no overcast or no showers for which the month is noted.

A thousand shades of green are seen in the budding trees and there is the dark, deep greens of grass and shrubbery.

Neat and delicate are the little white blossoms of spirea.

Tulips in many brilliant and deep colors delight the eye.

It's all right to enjoy color television.

But remember the best color is outside--even without Miss Martin, music by a famous orchestra and the dancing by the Rockettes.

The sounds of spring are equal to the visual beauty. Who or what can compete with the cheery song of the Cardinal?

CONTROLLING CORONARY RISK

Until science fiction comes true, there's nothing you can do to change two elements in your coronary risk picture; a third you probably wouldn't change, even if you could.

* You can't choose your ancestors retroactively; if yours were victims of premature coronary heart disease, you're still a twig on the family tree.

* You can't do anything to keep from growing older; time marches on, like it or not.

* And as for your sex, you'd probably rather fight than switch.

If, at this point, you figure that with three strikes against you, you might as well live dangerously, you couldn't be more wrong, the Missouri Heart Association advises.

True, each of these built-in factors can contribute to coronary-proneness, but the factors affecting an individual's liability are of varying weights, ranging from slight to great. A combination of two, three or more multiplies the risk effect.

A family history of premature cardiovascular disease does appear to raise an individual's risk to some extent. But other risk factors, such as high blood cholesterol, hypertension, obesity and cigarette smoking -- separately and in combination--outweigh heredity threefold and more.

As a single risk factor, any hereditary predisposition toward atherosclerosis can be quite insignificant provided you keep blood pressure, weight and blood cholesterol under control--with your doctor's help -- and don't smoke cigarettes. An unfavorable family history should serve as an alert, the Missouri Heart Association says, spurring you to take greater care about the risk factors that are under your control.

The highest number of deaths from heart attacks undoubtedly occurs in the older age groups. The Framingham (Mass.) men in their 50's had a four times greater risk of developing coronary disease than did men in their 30's.

Lest you younger men be lulled into a false sense of security, the Missouri Heart Association reminds you that the disease process culminating in a middle-aged heart attack starts silently, early in life. This, then, is the time to take counter-measures--diet, weight control, exercise -- to help head off a heart attack in middle age.

According to the Framingham data, American men are five to twenty times more vulnerable to "coronaries" during middle age than are women. In the Framingham population (over 5,000), no woman under age 40 has had a heart attack. The protective effect favoring women is generally attributed to the female sex hormone, estrogen. (After the menopause, as estrogen production declines, women become more vulnerable to heart attacks. After age 65, heart attacks strike women almost as frequently as men.)

But female sex hormones are not the whole story. American women did not always have this edge over men with respect to heart attacks in the middle years. Nor do women in less affluent societies than ours.

In 1920, there was very little difference between the sexes in the middle-aged death rate from cardiovascular diseases in the United States. And in less developed countries today, there is much less difference in male vs. female rates of coronary disease, as compared with current rates in economically well-developed countries.

The common denominator in both these situations seems to be diet. In underdeveloped economies, where diets are not rich in saturated (animal) fats, the heart attack rates of men are level with those of women. And if we cast a backward look at American men circa 1920, we find that they weighed less, for their heights, than American men since about 1940. Women, on the other hand, are actually slimmer today than they were 40 or 50 years ago. The fact that modern American women are more figure-and-weight-conscious than men, and also more active physically (as housewives and mothers), adds to the advantage they enjoy during the years when the opposite sex is most vulnerable to heart attacks.

So even if men eschew estrogens, they can take a few other valuable tips from their wives: eat less, exercise more, and live longer.

NEW YORK AP -- What is the best vehicle man has ever known?

Why, memory, of course.

It is better than Cinderella's golden coach, because it doesn't turn into a pumpkin at midnight or any other hour.

It is better than a railroad car, because it doesn't have to stick to a schedule. It is free to travel to any place or time in the past it chooses to.

Memory is faster than a space missile, more comfortable than a limousine -- and usually brings you back from a journey refreshed in body and heart. What else can you ask of a vehicle?

And you've put a lot of mileage on your own memory if you can look back and remember when --

You proved you were up on your slang by saying things like, "Oh, for crying out loud!"

Mother did so much sewing that half the time she kept a thimble on while doing her other household chores. Sometimes, when her eyes were tired, the youngest children would fight for the honor of threading her needle.

The only thing most people knew for sure about Czechoslovakia is that's where the prettiest glass eyes came from.

In summer it didn't pay to lean out the window of a street car if you were seated behind a fellow who chewed tobacco.

Most old farmers refused to wear their store teeth except when they went into town.

In a vaudeville, one funny routine would last a performer a lifetime. He didn't have to think up a new act every week.

Only schoolgirls wore long white stockings. Now you can see 'em even on grandmothers.

It was fondly believed that a girl who packed a good picnic lunch would never have any trouble landing a good husband.

It was harder to get a tire repaired than to have a horse reshoed.

Every working man dreamed of owning at least one striped silk shirt.

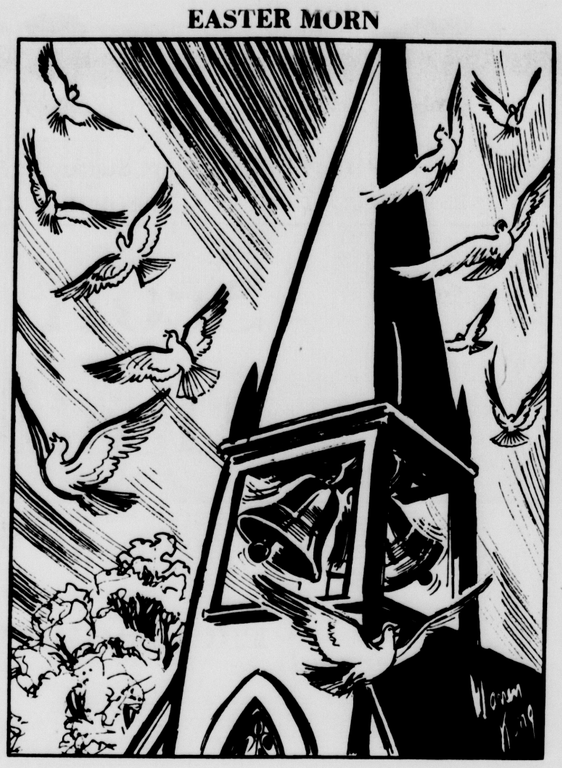

The telephone was used so seldom that everybody in the house jumped when it rang -- and assumed there was an emergency.

If you didn't like either of the major party presidential candidates, you could always express your discontent by voting for Norman Thomas.

The height of juvenile sophistication was to wear a lapel button that said, "Oh, you kid!"

Most businessmen thought golf was a game for idlers.

EASTER MORN

EASTER

Like many holidays, Easter comes once again with emphasis in many quarters on material rather than spiritual values.

The donning of new attire for the Easter Parade actually may date back to the days of Emperor Constantine, but regardless of the origin of this custom, it seems that today there is much commercialism in what should be a purely religious day.

While the traditional custom of rolling Easter eggs does not have any particular religious significance, in itself, it does carry out a symbolism and tradition that reminds the entire family of the joyous celebration—that is Easter.

When we don our finery, this Easter Sunday, and attend the services of our choice, let us not forget the true significance of the day. And let's reflect and be thankful that the American tradition of freedom of worship remains inviolate.

KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT -- READ. . .

"The Polite Americans" by Gerald Carson. The author is an excellent raconteur of American social folly and provides a synoptical view of national snobberies since the Pilgrims squabbled over the assignment of their pews. It all goes to prove that we've always fallen for the idea that "Some men are more equal than others. . ." We have our Kentucky Colonels, our Nebraska Admirals and our doctorate Doctors. Further, Mr. Carson follows the lurching course of the social status of women, changing restaurant manners and the Washington, D.C. pecking order at play. He makes it an easy going, even a gently polite, overview of pomposities and politesse from the era of chawin' tobacco right up to chewin' gum.

Opposition among independent business proprietors to permitting big business and unions to continue controlling the economy is apparently growing.

In a nationwide ballot conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business on H. R. 333, 88 per cent are in favor. This bill introduced by Rep. David Martin of Nebraska, would prohibit industry-wide labor bargaining such as is done in the automotive, steel, transportation and other industries. Only 10 per cent voted in opposition, with 2 per cent undecided.

Businessmen in Missouri support the measure by 84 per cent with 12 per cent opposed and 4 undecided.

When a poll was made on this bill last October, 84 per cent favored, with 13 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided. In January of 1965 when the issue was submitted the favorable vote was only 78 per cent, with 19 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided.

The growing support for the bill is believed to have been partly engendered by publicity given the recent New York transit strike. However, the biggest factor in hardening the sentiment was probably due to the publicity created by the recent abortive administration attempt to repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act, the so-called "right to work" clause.

As the situation now stands, a few national labor leaders can agree with the heads of a few big corporations in any given industry to decide what hours, wages and conditions will prevail in the entire industry, nationwide. Local unions and local management have no voice in determining what type of contract is best for their own local conditions.

Commenting on this increased sentiment in favor of clipping the powers of the big labor-big business coalition, Federation president C. Wilson Harder says "The drive to abolish "right to work" laws focused attention on the present labor practices. In addition, published threats by the unions to exert political repraisals seemed to have irked the majority of the American people who traditionally resent anything that smacks of blackmail."

ADVICE TO VACATIONISTS

People planning on a winter vacation should take the time and effort to learn about local dress customs of places they will visit. For example, there are Caribbean resorts where the barest bikinis for gals and G-string-type trunks for men are quite okay. But there are other places, mostly British, where women in slacks and men in walk shorts are stared at by the natives! You can spoil a vacation by taking the wrong duds, and a phone call to your travel agent will get the proper sartorial facts.

NEW WAY TO HEAL ULCERS

A variation of an old treatment used in grandmother's day, involving ordinary table sugar, has been successfully used to cure ulcers, according to Dr. James W. Barnes, Jr., of Glenn Dale Hospital, near Washington, D.C.

Dr. Barnes reports sugar is mixed with lard or butter, a method used in olden days to draw infection from boils. The newer method, Dr. Barnes reports, consists of pouring ordinary table sugar into the ulcer cavity. Then a thick and virtually airtight dressing is placed on top.

Dr. Barnes reported that the method had healed ulcers that had been present up to 12 years in long bedridden patients. In these cases bad sores or other ulcers had failed to respond to any other treatment, including skin grafting, Dr. Barnes said.

H. L. Hunt Says

CONSTRUCTIVE, 1966, 3RD INSTALLMENT

Conservative has been a losing title in the national elections in Canada April 8, 1963; in Britain October 16, 1964, and in the U.S. with Goldwater, having won the nomination with his book "Conscience of a Conservative," November 3, 1964. Conservatives, including brilliant Sir Winston Churchill, have presided over the liquidation of the world's largest empires.

As a way of permitting the title finally adopted to win wide approval, a start could be made at once by using several catchy names, all having to do with the same freedom philosophy. Some think one name would soon work itself to the top, but it is not likely that any coined name could equal the fine three-syllable title, now being carefully applied, "Constructive."

The title, "Conservative," is highly inadvisable in the United States as it foments and even promotes splinter or third party movements nearly always to the detriment of the most constructive of the two major party candidates. Constructive philosophies are helpful to the better of the two major party candidates even though the constructiveness of both leaves much to be desired. The philosophy will tend to tame radicals, bringing them back into the fold.

"Constructive" is a fool-proof word. In fact, it is so good that those who preach and practice destruction often seize it as an adjective to describe the evils they advocate, in order to deceive the people about their intentions, but they cannot make their use of the word stick.

"Constructive" as a title for a philosophy means all that is good and implies none that is bad in the name, Conservative. Any person or principle is subject to attack as being too conservative, but they can never be defamed as being too constructive. HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Sherman Adams, ex-governor of New Hampshire and the real power of the White House during the Eisenhower administration, has been living the life of a hermit since he was forced to resign over the Vicuna Coat-Goldfine conflict-of-interest scandal.

Today he's staging a comeback.

Adams had intervened at the Federal Trade Commission on behalf of Bernard Goldfine, the new England textile manufacturer who had problems with the FTC and who gave Adams a coat, free hotel expenses, a rug and other favors. The public reaction was so sour that Adams had to leave the White House.

Since then he has lived a quiet life in his native village, Lincoln, has scarcely seen old friends. A plan to have him lecture on government at the University of Massachusetts fell through because of trustees' objections. However, Mrs. Adams has sold some of her watercolors of New Hampshire scenery for as much as $500 each, and the family has lived on this, plus the $100,000 which Life Magazine paid for the Adams memoirs.

Now, however, Sherm has started a sky club on the mountain behind his home. Sinclair Weeks of Boston, former Secretary of Commerce in the Eisenhower cabinet; Robert Hill, former Ambassador to Mexico; and other Ike backers have invested in the club. It promises to be a thriving success, and has also brought Adams out of his shell. He's now his old energetic self.

Note: Some Republicans, recalling the vigorous steps taken regarding Adams's conflict of interest, are getting ready to jump on the Democrats regarding the conflict of Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut, a Democrat.

SAVING THE REDWOODS

Members of the fourth grade class at St. Anne's school in Bristol, Va., have written letters to Gov. Pat Brown of California thanking him for his efforts to save the California redwood trees, and to Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., asking him to speed up hearings on the establishment of a redwoods national park to preserve them.

Their letters result from Gov. Brown's recent trip to Washington where he urged early congressional action on the establishment of a redwoods national park before lumber companies cut down the stately trees which are found only along the Pacific coast.

Gov. Brown found President Johnson most sympathetic. In fact, the president had already allocated money in the budget for the purchase of park land, even in advance of congressional action.

However, Rep. Aspinall said he could not hold House Interior committee hearings until July.

The Rellim Redwood Company, which operates in Del Norte county where the park would be located, claims that it is pursuing a careful reforestation program, replanting the trees it has cut.

However, early hearings on the park program would give both sides a chance to be heard, and the school children of Bristol, Va., are writing Rep. Aspinal asking him to speed things up.

ROMNEY AND SCRANTON

Republican leaders at the recent GOP conference in Washington came away impressed with Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He had grown in stature, was taking an intelligent interest in national and international affairs.

One straw in the wind was his interest in the GOP policy statement on Latin America submitted by former Ambassador Robert Hill of New Hampshire. Gov. Romney was the only Republican who discussed the statement intelligently. It was obvious that he had taken pains to study it in advance.

He objected that the policy statement gave too much support for military governments in Latin America; also felt that the Republicans should put less emphasis on business and the protection of business investments in Latin America.

Republican leaders were a bit disappointed that Gov. Bill Scranton of Pennsylvania did not assume more leadership. He seemed subdued. Scranton has done an excellent job as governor of Pennsylvania, has strengthened the schools and helped create new colleges.

But at the recent Washington meeting Republicans privately speculated that Scranton's political bubble had permanently burst when Eisenhower let him down in his famous drive to block the nomination of Barry Goldwater. Scranton had received a commitment from Ike that he would help oppose Goldwater. But at the last minute George Humphrey, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, now head of National Steel and the most influential member of the Eisenhower cabinet, telephoned Ike in Gettysburg. Eisenhower then phoned Scranton just before he was going on the air, reversed himself regarding his opposition to Goldwater.

John Howe, Encyclopedia Britannica, New York City -- thanks for reminding me that Sen. Joe McCarthy was censured by the U. S. Senate for his "contumacious" treatment of the Gillette committee which investigated the charges of Sen. William Benton, D-Conn., against McCarthy, and for his contemptuous treatment of the Watkins select committee which studied the resolution of censure by Sen. Ralph Flanders, R.-Vt. I note also your contention that Sen. Benton was not defeated because McCarthy invaded Connecticut in 1952 against him, but rather because of the Eisenhower landslide. It remains a fact, of course, that McCarthy did raise money and did make speeches in Connecticut, all aimed at defeating the man who had dared criticize him in the state.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Dramatics of Anti-Viet Nam Dissenters Overshadow U. S.-Labor's Anti-Viet Cong Activity in Jungle Cities.

Washington, D. C.:--Outcries of those who exercise their inherent right to high decibel dissent over Viet Nam have in recent days drowned out the voices of those who believe they at least have the same right to assent.

The voices of the former, loud and harsh, are heard on the streets of our land. The voices of the latter, softer, more charitable, now are heard easing the pains and anguish of women and children in Vietnamese villages and little-known delta cities.

Among the assenters, ignored amid the shrillness of the streets, are leaders of millions of unionists who are helping to neutralize Viet Cong terror, rebuild villages, feed hungry children, build orphanages, put floors into clinics and roofs on welfare centers and provide teachers for youngsters in far-off South Viet Nam.

A can of chocolate milk dispatched by a steelworker may not fill out a headline, but it does wonders for the stomachs of disease-seared kids, desperately needing safe foods in the Asiatic heat.

To some there may be the touch of jingoism in the title of the Committee to Support American Servicemen in Viet Nam. But its leaders care little about brickbats hurled at them by the dissenters.

These leaders, officials of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), District 3, are devoting themselves to rebuilding villages which have been bombed out. This is being done by collecting funds from IUE members for the IUE Resettlement Village and for the aid of the U. S. Marine corps' Civic Action Program.

Under the guidance of Committee Chairman Jerry Leopaldi, the union members help the Marines work out a series of specific projects aimed at winning the peace piecemeal after each battle has been won.

Where, for instance, the Marines go in and win a fight but a village has been knocked out in the struggle, the commanding officer surveys the damage. Was a church or temple destroyed? Was a school demolished? Was the water supply wiped out?

When the answers are learned, the C. O. assigns a sufficient number of men, medical corpsmen and other specialists as a "peace team." They locate a village interpreter. They tend to the wounded. They begin rebuilding the hamlet.

Clinics, schools, social centers and public kitchens go up. It isn't easy for the husky Marines to make friends after flushing Viet Cong out of the thatched huts the enemy used as camouflage.

But the Marines try. The more schools, the more clinics, the more food, the greater the understanding that they do not come as conquerers.

To make possible more schools and food and tiny hospitals, the IUE has set up its committee and is successfully urging its members to donate a dollar a month to help support the Marines' reconstruction program.

Nor is IUE alone in Viet Nam. An official of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) was over in the delta city of My Tho recently.

He was a guest of a meeting of the provincial labor council. They gathered in an uncompleted social-welfare center. Their money had run out. The building needed a roof.

The IAM sent them the funds. But now they need a floor and doors and windows. The Machinists are raising those funds, too, from the rank and file here in the States. Soon the social center, which houses a clinic and school, will be complete.

And it is the million-member steelworkers, headquartered in Pittsburgh, which is sending the safe and caloric chocolate milk.

It is the Screen Actors Guild which is encouraging its people to make certain that Bob Hope is not the only entertainer who has been on the road to Saigon. Eddie Fisher, Charlton Heston, Martha Ray, Edgar Bergen and his dummy, and lots more have defied the plastic bombs of the terrorists.

It's all part of a union-to-union program launched by AFL-CIO President George Meany, spokesman for some 14 million laborites. It's all coordinated with the Confederation of Vietnamese Labor, whose leader is Tran Quoc Buu.

Once he fought alongside of Hanoi's Ho Chi Minh against the French. But soon Buu, whose life George Meany saved, saw for himself that the first to suffer torturous deaths at the skilled Communist hands were the labor leaders and the intellectuals. Of him it can truly be said, he'd rather be dead that red. He made the choice freely.

Small wonder that early in March the North Vietnamese propaganda publication warned its followers not to trust Vietnamese labor leaders.

And so, this report is written in the hope that the world, which has heard the outcries of the dissenters, will learn of the quiet accomplishments of the assenters.

The Modern Christian

The drama of human death was changed by Jesus Christ.

Modern man seems to assume an attitude either of indifference or of challenge towards death. Very many people pass over death in silence and refuse to think seriously. Absorbed in the playthings provided by technology, we can hardly reflect on ourselves and the meaning of life and the why of death.

Death has become the supreme test of human destiny. But in Jesus Christ this test can change its meaning; defeat becomes a means of salvation.

Death is at once a harsh ending and a completion. It can be either sign of sin or a sign of encounter with God, the event of salvation or the event of damnation.

Every action of life commits us, and death will finally show us what we really are and what is our real attitude towards God and other men and ourselves.

By dying, Christ has conquered death. He has known the drama of human death, and in him, death has taken on a new meaning.

Death for one who submits to the will of the Father becomes a sharing in the death of his only Son and therefore a sharing in the Resurrection. "If we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live together with Christ."

Clarissa Start, Columnist, Speaks at Tea Thursday

"The Many Lives of Most Women" was the topic of Miss Clarissa Start's talk Thursday when she spoke to over 200 women from Mississippi, New Madrid, Scott and Stoddard counties. The tea was from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the community room of the Security National Bank.

The tea was sponsored by the Home Economics Extension Councils of the four counties.

Miss Start, St. Louis Post-Dispatch columnist, said "I just plain like women." She commented that most women lead many lives and are busy and happy. She said, "Most women are satisfied with their role in life and happiness doesn't depend on staying at home or working." Factors which contribute to a woman's happiness are her sense of worth, her contribution to the world, her philosophy and religion.

Miss Start, in private life Mrs. E. Gary Davidson, told the women at the tea, "Being a housewife is not easy and as a profession is noble."

She said that most people think that women today have it easier that did their grandmothers. Miss Start disagrees. She said that women now work harder because many of them work away from home and at home as well.

Herself a member of the Governor's Commission on the States of Women, Miss Start reported that the National commission in 1963, found that 27 million women worked and three out of five of them were married.

She said that women are expected to have a white wash, polish floors and be a gourmet cook as well as many other things. She added that they are taking their duties seriously. "Women can do things with their hands and seem to enjoy it," Miss Start added.

She continued, "Woman's place is where she's needed. Today she is needed everywhere." Miss Start commented that American women try to do too many things and don't have time to put first things first.

Miss Start advised "Take time to do things that are important to us. A woman must know in herself who she is. She must have courage to be herself and the consideration to be what her husband wants her to be."

Bulldogs Finish Fifth in Track Meet At Kennett

KENNETT -- Sikeston placed fifth in the Kennett high school Invitational track meet coming in behind Cape Central who won the meet over Kennett 82-62.

Bulldog cindermen could only manage 15 points as they tied in almost each event with this limiting their point figures.

In the broad jump Black of Sikeston could only go 5'6" which tied fourth place. In the Broad jump Jackson tied for third place with a jump of 19' 8 3/4" finishing behind first place winner Hubbard of Cape with a jump of 20' 5 1/2".

Smith pole vaulted 10'6" which was good for fourth place with Goodrick of Kennett taking the event with a vault of 11' 4 1/2". In the High Hurdles Boardman came in third close behind the first and second place winners who turned in a 15.3 time for the event. In the 100 yard dash Lott came in fifth, and in the 880 yard relay Sikeston came in fifth with Kennett taking first place honors.

In the low hurdles, mile, and the freshman mile the Bulldogs could only manage fourth place finishes with Charleston taking all the freshman events.

In the 220 Blackman finished fifth with Gerecke of Cape Central taking first.

Cape Central took home the first place trophy and Hubbard of Cape took home high point honors with 20 points.

The Bulldogs will travel to Poplar Bluff next Tuesday for a meet with P. B. and Dexter.

Globetrotters At Bloomfield Tonight

BLOOMFIELD -- The Harlem Globetrotters will play here tonight to help the Bloomfield Lions Club raise funds for their sight conservation program. Game time will be 8:30 p.m. at the Bloomfield Gymnasium.

Kernek Encouraged

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst may be thinking that all a rookie needs is a little encouragement.

Schoendienst took a stand Wednesday in favor of his slump ridden rookie first baseman, George Kernek. Wednesday night, Kernek came through with two singles and a double and drove in three runs to boost the Cardinals to a 5-1 grapefruit League victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Schoendienst had told newsmen that the lanky 26-year-old from Holdenville, Okla., would start at first base next Tuesday night in the National League opener despite his slump.

Kernek, who led the International League in RBI last year, has hit only .222 in spring training games.

General Manager Bob Howsam backed up Schoendienst and added, "if we give up now, there's no point in undertaking a youth program. Kernek just has to get squared away."

The Cardinals traded veteran first baseman Bill White to the Phillies last winter with the idea that Kernek could make the grade as a replacement. Kernek looked good in seven starts for the Cardinals last fall, but his spring work has left a lot to be desired. Schoendienst said he would place him seventh in the batting order.

Robinson Continues His Lusty Spring Hitting Tactics

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Frank Robinson is an old 30, Milt Pappas must be an ancient 26.

Pappas was pummeled in his latest mound performance Thursday, just one day after Robinson continued his display of lusty spring hitting.

In whipping Cincinnati 10-4, the Chicago White Sox battered Pappas for nine runs and seven hits in five innings. The right-hander also walked six and threw two wild pitches.

Pappas and Robinson were the key figures in a four-player winter trade between the Reds and Baltimore. The Reds, feeling Robinson "is not a young 30," sent the slugging outfielder to the Orioles for the 26-year-old Pappas, pitcher Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Pappas called the trade "the greatest break I've ever gotten in my life" and added:

"I should win more games with a team able to get a few more runs for me. Robinson will have a harder time hitting in the big Oriole park."

Retorted Robinson:

"Wait until Pappas tries to pitch in Crosley Field. He'll find out. Bet I come out better than he does."

The season still lies ahead, but Robinson is right so far.

While he has hit eight homers, driven in 17 runs and has a .393 batting average, Pappas has been having trouble.

The veteran of eight American League seasons has pitched 34 innings this spring, given up 17 earned runs for a 4.50 earned run average, allowed 26 hits and walked 21.

That's enough to age anyone.

Leading the White Sox attack against Pappas was Tommy Agee, who singled across two runs in the five-run third inning and socked a two- run homer in the four-run fourth.

Baltimore, meanwhile, defeated Minnesota in one of three 7-3 games. The Orioles erupted for five runs in the first inning as Twins' pitcher Camilo Pascual walked four.

Willie McCovey rapped four hits and Juan Marichal scattered five hits in six innings as San Francisco defeated California 7-3, and the New York Yankees stopped Pittsburgh by the same score with Whitey Ford holding the Pirates scoreless for the first six innings.

Bob Gibson turned in six strong innings in St. Louis' 6-4 victory over the New York Mets.

A sacrifice fly by Frank Bolling in the 16th inning sent home the winning run in Atlanta's 3-2 victory over Washington, and a ninth-inning bases-loaded walk to Ozzie Chavvarria gave Kansas City a 7-6 verdict over Philadelphia.

Home runs by Jim Gentile and John Bateman carried Houston past Detroit 6-3 and Chuck Hinton hit a bases-loaded home run to power Cleveland to a 7-5 victory over Los Angeles.

Celtics Hold Edge in Playoff

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Well, we still have the edge," said Boston Celtics' Coach Red Auerbach.

"And we're still the underdog any way you look at it," said Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers.

These were almost the hottest post-mortem comments as the two coaches surveyed the results of Thursday night's 111-105 Philadelphia victory, its first National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

It cut the Celts' lead to 2-1 in the best-of-seven series that will be resumed Sunday in Boston.

That's how it stands also in the NBA's Western Division where the Los Angeles Lakers have the 2-1 edge over St. Louis with the next game Saturday night in St. Louis.

Schayes, whose 76ers beat Boston six out of 10 in regular season play, said he feels Philadelphia "finally has come out of its slump, but —" and he paused for emphasis:

"You can't take these Celtics for granted. We've got to fight every game every inch of the way."

Schayes was right about that, especially as he pointed out that his 76ers almost blew a 24-point first half lead — it melted to one point at 100-99 — before Philadelphia's - bread - and - butter guys, 7-foot-1 Wilt Chanberlain and outside shooter Hal Greer began swishing them through in the final five minutes.

Chamberlain came through superbly, collecting 31 points and grabbing 27 of Philadelphia's 69 rebounds. Greer's point total of 19 was below his average, but he got nine of them in the last seven minutes.

Thoroughbred Racing Opens at Lexington, Ky.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A $10,000 race and another worth only $7,500 head Saturday's thoroughbred racing program even though the agenda calls for a couple of $50,000-added affairs. And the reasons, are Graustark, the long-legged unbeaten colt, and Moccasin, the undefeated filly.

Moccasin, winner of eight races, makes her 1966 debut in the $10,000 Beaumont Purse. Graustark, victorious in three starts last year and two this season before being sidelined with a heel injury two months ago, returns to action in the $7,500 Whitney.

Graustark is the short priced favorite for the May 7 running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Moccasin also is eligible for the Derby but A. B. Hancock, owner of the daughter of Nantallah, said Thursday he wants no part of Graustark in the Derby if the Darby Dan ace is 100 per cent fit.

Both are such strong favorites that there probably will be no betting on their races. And the day's feature, the $20,000-added Phoenix Handicap, may also go unnoticed.

Bay Phantom, a real swifty, is the likely choice for the six furlongs of the Phoenix with chief opposition coming from Swift Ruler and Alphabet, a stablemate of Moccasin.

The two $50,000-added races will be run at Aqueduct and Bowie with older horses going 1⅛ miles in the Excelsior at the New York track and fillies and mares in the seven furlongs of the Barbara Fritchie at the Maryland course.

Not more than six are expected in the Excelsior but the sextet includes R. Thomas and Cupid, who ran one-two in last Saturday's Westchester at one mile, and First Family, surprise winner of the recent Gulfstream Park Handicap. R. Thomas has been assigned top weight of 119 pounds, two more than Cupid and four more than First Family.

Wheately Stable's Queen Empress, 2-year-old filly champion of 1964 and highly rated among the 3-year-old misses last year, figures to be the favorite in a field of 14 in the Barbara Fritchie. Under 123 pounds she'll give two the another former champion, Tosmah, Palm Court and Summer Scandal.

Gulfstream Park and Golden Gate fields each feature $15,000-added races.

Despite top weight of 127 pounds, Mrs. Charles F. Parker's Pollux likely will be the favorite in the 1 1-16 miles of the Fort Lauderdale Handicap at Gulfstream.

Golden Gate's headliner is the Gold Rush at one mile for 3-year-olds prepping for the April 23 renewal of the $75,000-added California Derby.

Indians Trade Terry To Athletics

CLEVELAND AP -- Pitcher Ralph Terry, who was the last major league holdout with the Cleveland Indians, now has to bargain with the Kansas City Athletics for a 1966 contract.

The Indians sold the 30-year-old right-hander to the Athletics Wednesday for $25,000 and southpaw John O'Donoghue. Terry had refused to sign for the $31,000 offered by Indians' President Gabe Paul and wanted $38,000.

O'Donoughue, from the A's training camp in Bradenton, Fla., said the trade came as a "big surprise."

Terry was reportedly in Minneapolis on a business trip when the trade was announced and could not be reached for comment. Terry's wife, Tanya, said from their home in Larned, Kan., that she talked to him on the phone and "he seemed happy."

The Athletics said Ed Lopat, the club's executive vice president, would start negotiations immediately.

Terry was 11-6 with the Tribe last year.

Two Time All-Stater From Kennett Signs Scholarship

KENNETT -- Don Tomlinson, 6-foot-4 Kennett high school senior, signed a letter of intent to play basketball at the University of Missouri yesterday.

Howie Crittenden, University of Missouri assistant basketball coach signed Tomlinson in Kennett. Tomlinson, a two time All-Stater, led Kennett to a 25-3 record last season. He scored 695 points.

This brings to four the number who signed basketball letters to attend the University.

Mike Wise, 6-foot-3 Bloomfield high school senior, another Southeast Missourian signed Monday at Bloomfield. Mike led his team to fourth place in the State Class M basketball tournament and averaged 21 points per game.

Welcome Home Planned For Athletics

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics returned home from Florida today, complete with new faces, a revamped stadium and new hope.

The A's will meet the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday and Sunday afternoon in single games, playing what some writers call the "Missouri World Series."

Kansas City is expected to start Rollie Sheldon against the Cards' Ray Washburn, both veterans.

But the newness of both clubs will be on the field.

The A's first string catcher, Ken Suarez, was just entering professional ball a year ago. Last year's receiver, Bill Bryan, could open at first base while first baseman Ken Harrelson starts in left field.

Also on the A's roster are Paul Linblad, a Chanute, Kan., native, and Chuck Dobson, a Kansas Citian. Both are making their first trip north with the parent club although Lindblad saw brief action at the tailend of the 1965 season.

Also making an initial appearance Saturday are manager Alvin Dark and the A's playing field.

Dark, while a newcomer to the American League, is no stranger to managerial ranks. He piloted the San Francisco Giants to a National League pennant in 1962, and played on three World Series clubs, the Boston Braves in 1948 and the New York Giants in 1951 and 1954.

Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley has scrapped his "One-half Pennant Porch" in right field, pushing the foul line back and adding a 40-foot high fence, making the Kansas City park a "pitcher's paradise."

Outfitting brood in school shoes, father to clerk: "Sure, let them wear them home--while they still fit."

Fire Razes Farm Home

BLOOMFIELD -- Ashes were the only thing remaining after a raging fire claimed the home and most of the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Griff Keochig at 4:43 p.m. Saturday. The house was located about two miles south of Bloomfield.

Although the fire was already out of control when the Dexter fire department arrived, they were able to keep the flames from spreading to surrounding buildings.

The Scott New Madrid REA line crew were on the scene, as a safety precaution, when a telephone pole caught fire and a 7,200 volt wire that was across the highway was posing a threat to passing motorists. The fire was later extinguished and no damage to the wire itself was done.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Keochig have no definite plans for the future, they are considering the purchase of a trailer to put in the original site of their home as soon as the debris is cleared away.

Aged Get Most Funds

NEW MADRID -- New Madrid County's welfare agency disbursed a total of $200,015.36 during March, according to John Underwood, Sr., director of the office.

Underwood said that the greatest part of that amount went to those on the old age assistance list. There were 1,473 persons on the Old Age Assistance rolls during the month and they received a total of $98,572, or an average check per person of $66.92.

A total of 567 families with 1,767 children received $59,-570 in the aid to dependent children category. Average family check for this group was $105.06.

From general relief funds, 197 families of 216 persons each received a total of $13,133, or an average check of $60.80.

There were 230 persons on the rolls in the permanently and totally disabled field of the welfare service who received an average check of $70.66. The total was $16,251.

The county had 82 persons on the pension for the blind list and each received $80. The total for this group was $6,-560.

There were 63 children under child welfare supervision. Service was given to 41 children and was completed to seven, leaving a caseload of 56 at the end of the month.

Of these children now being given services, 41 are in the homes of their parents or residing with relatives, eight are in foster boarding homes, and two are in adoptive homes.

Amount spent for room and board, clothing, medicine, dental care and incidentals for the children under Child Welfare Supervision from the New Madrid County Court for the month was $260.50. State Board fund expenditures totaled $260.50, and the amount expended under the drug and dental program totaled $5,408.36.

Hospital to Request Federal Funds Soon

HAYTI -- The request for federal funds to carry out the expansion program at the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital is expected to come in the near future, a reliable source said here early this week.

The Hill-Harris grant sought for the county hospital is in the neighborhood of $400,000 to match a similar amount approved last December by Pemiscot voters in a special election which carried by about a five to one margin.

The state hospital advisory council, which met Thursday, approved seven other applications for new hospital construction but did not act on the request by the local hospital.

The council can approve the construction projects only as long as the actual funds are available under the Hill-Harris Act. The work is approved as the funds are actually received from the federal government at regular intervals. A source close to the Hayti hospital indicated that officials expect approval of the local grant at the next session of the state group.

Another source, who is a member of the hospital's board of trustees, said Saturday that the delay in getting approval for the grant apparently is the result of a change in federal policy.

He stated that at the time of the bond election, the county hospital held a very high priority for Hill-Harris funds and it seemed certain that approval of the grant would not take long.

At about the time of the election or shortly after, he added, there apparently was a change in the system and the local project's priority dropped from the top five to a much lower rank.

Before the session Thursday in Jefferson City, he continued, it was his understanding that the Pemiscot hospital was tenth on the priority list. If so, with the approval of seven grants last week the priority of the local project should now be about third.

Gerald Freeman, the hospital's new administrator, has joined with other hospital officials and members of the medical staff in pointing out the urgency of the additional 25 beds for the institution. In recent months the hospital has been operating almost steadily at capacity with its present 86 beds. With the new Medicare program coming into effect soon, he has pointed out that the present facilities will be far from adequate.

Prior to the election it was noted that the new wing would not be ready for the rush created by the new Social Security program--in fact some estimated that actual construction might take as long as two years. The delay created by lack of approval of the grant has complicated the matter even more.

Taxation on the bonds approved in the special election does not commence, however, until the federal grant is approved.

Malden to Get License Office

MALDEN -- An automobile license bureau will be established in the Malden City Hall this month. It will be a branch of the Kennett license office.

Announcement of the opening of the office was made by Thomas David, state director of revenue, at a luncheon Monday.

David said that the license fee office is being established on a trial basis in Malden and if it works out satisfactorily that it will likely become permanent. He said that facts and figures presented to the department show that Malden is the trade center of a large population area.

He said that in consulting with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes that they recognize the need and desire of this service by the people in this area.

The Malden branch is expected to serve the people of Bernie, Parma, Risco, Gideon, Clarkton, Campbell and Glennoville. All of these towns are within eight to 12 miles of Malden.

At present the nearest license bureaus to Malden are Kennett, 25 miles; Bloomfield, 25 miles; Poplar Bluff, 32 miles; and Portageville, 25 miles.

David said that the Hearnes Administration will make every effort to serve the needs of the people of this state whenever those needs are justified and it is feasible to do so. He said that it is now up to the people of this area to prove that this branch office is justified.

David was accompanied by Harry Smith, head of the Motor Vehicle Registration Department and John Peyton of the Highway Reciprocity Department.

The Malden branch of the Kennett License Office will be supervised by Roy Gately, head of the Kennett office. It will be located in the Malden City Hall and Roscoe Thornton, city clerk, will be in charge.

Space in the City Hall is being provided through the cooperation of Mayor R. J. Dirks and the City Council. The Council recently voted unanimously to provide the space needed for the office and to cooperate with the establishment of it.

The luncheon was attended by about 60 businessmen and officials from Malden and Bernie. Several others were unable to attend.

Invocation was given by R. B. Woods, Jr., of Bernie and Mayor R. J. Dirks made a welcoming address.

Allen Black served as master of ceremonies and introduced David. He also introduced Roy Gately of the Kennett office.

Black said that he wanted to express his thanks to all who had helped in obtaining this office for Malden. He said that many had helped, but that Mr. David and Gov. Hearnes were primarily responsible inasmuch as they recognized the need and were willing to do something about it.

He expressed thanks to the mayor and city council for their cooperation and to Gately. Black said that among those present most helpful in securing the branch office were Prosecuting Attorney Charles H. Baker of Kennett and Rep. Roy B. King of Malden.

Fund Plans To Be Made

A hospital planning committee meeting will be held Friday night at the Missouri Delta Community hospital to arrange for a fund raising campaign to obtain funds to match a $798,880 grant from the federal Hill - Harris act.

This grant, coupled with a federal grant of $293,499.55 received a year ago makes a total of $283,499.55 available for a 55-bed addition to the hospital.

It will be announced at the meeting what funds must be raised locally.

The construction program will include a new radiological department, cobalt and superficial therapy as well as three diagnostic rooms and a special procedures room.

The clinical laboratory and surgical suite will be enlarged to accommodate increased demands. In surgery cystoscopic and fracture rooms will be added in addition to major operation rooms.

In the basement, a physiotherapy department will be maintained, in addition to a new laundry and mechanical facilities.

The first floor of the new wing will have an enlarged emergency treatment center.

B. B. CULVER, JR., St. Louis, has been appointed Missouri state chairman of the Radio Free Europe fund.

College District Approved

POPLAR BLUFF -- The Three Rivers junior college district for Butler, Wayne, Carter and Ripley Counties was approved by more than a 1,600-vote margin Tuesday in the overall unofficial vote tally in 25 school districts throughout the four counties.

Poplar Bluff R-I district and the other four reorganized districts in Butler County gave the issue a majority of more than 8 to 1, which carried the issue over heavy negative votes in the other three counties.

Wayne County voted nearly 5 to 1 against the issue and Carter and Ripley Counties each defeated the college proposal by more than 3 to 1 margins.

Total vote for the college, with two small districts unreported, was 5,448. The opposing vote was 3,800. Still not reporting were Lower Turkey Creek and Mountain View in Wayne County. Only a few votes were expected in these districts.

The total vote of the five Butler County reorganized districts was 4,599 for, and 532 against. Poplar Bluff R-1 was 3,335 for and 350 against. Brosley R-2 was 276 for and 69 against. Fisk-Rombauer R-3 was 415 for, and 62 against. Neelyville R-4 reported 321 for, and 36 against, and Qulin R-5 voted 252 for and 15 against.

IN WAYNE COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 289 for and 1,372 against. Greenville R-2 had 214 for and 429 against. Piedmont R-1 voted 75 for the issue and 943 in opposition.

IN CARTER COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 202 for the college, and 674 against the issue. Van Buren R-1 voted 46 for, and 430 against. Ellsinore R-2 polled 156 for and 244 against.

IN RIPLEY COUNTY, Doniphan and Naylor, the two major vote centers, voted a total of 282 for the issue, and 961 against. Doniphan R-1 was 203 for, and 615 against. Naylor R-2 had 79 for the college, and 346 in opposition.

Fred Davis, director of junior colleges with the State Department of Education, monitored returns from all the districts from a room at the Holiday Inn. Davis said that absentee ballots would change the results slightly, but probably could not affect the overall outcome of the election.

Davis emphasized that the vote tally so far is unofficial, pending the final approval of the State Board of Education which is expected to meet in Jefferson City later this month.

Lampley Will Supervise Patrol

POPLAR BLUFF -- Lt. Glenn W. Lampley of the State Highway Patrol, who last week was promoted to that rank from sergeant, has taken up new duties with headquarters at Poplar Bluff.

He has been assigned to Troop E administrative patrol duties with the responsibility of supervising the activities of patrolmen throughout the troop.

Trooper Charles D. Whitehead of Perryville has been appointed acting zone commander in the Cape Girardeau area to replace Lieutenant Lampley.

While assigned to Poplar Bluff, where he has taken a room, Lieutenant Lampley said he will continue to maintain his residence in Cape Girardeau.

FBI Arrests Editor at Jackson

JACKSON, Mo. AP -- Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested the editor of the weekly Jackson Post-Cashbook Tuesday on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid persecution for forgery.

FBI spokesmen at St. Louis said today that Richard Canaday, 44, was taken before U. S. Commissioner Paul Mueller Jr. at Jackson and released on $2,500 bond. Canaday asked for a preliminary hearing but a hearing date was not scheduled.

A warrant for interstate flight was issued against Canaday Jan. 3 on a forgery warrant from the El Cerrito, Calif., Police Department, the FBI reported.

"We do not know how and when this forgery charge originated," said Al Spradling of Cape Girardeau, Canaday's attorney.

Spradling said he was attempting to find out who filed the complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. Felker will be ready to wait on people all day starting at 7:30 a.m.

Jones Attacks Rent Subsidies as Socialistic

Special to Daily Standard

WASHINGTON -- The $12 million rent subsidy bill, which has been passed by Congress, can mushroom into a $6 billion program, Rep. Paul Jones, Kennett, Mo., Democrat, said today.

He called the plan "socialistic", and said that he voted against it for this reason.

He noted that the bill to have the federal government pay a portion of the rental for certain citizens, one of them being persons who live in dilapidated homes, passed the Congress at the last session.

It provided for $30 million for the first year, which could skyrocket to much higher rates in the future. He said it provided that persons earning $10 thousand a year could get the subsidy to help pay their rent in some cases.

The federal government would pay 75 per cent of the rental of the family in some cases. The citizen would not have to pay more than 25 percent of his income for rent--and the government would pay the rest.

The bill has been tightened up since then Representative Jones said, but still is socialistic, and can grow into a tremendous sum over the term of the bill which is 40 years. The bill provided for $30 million last year, but this has been whittled down to $12 million this year. But it would be a "starter" for a 40 year program.

Some advocates of the bill claim its passage would lead to the construction of many inexpensive homes, for rental purposes. Rep. Jones noted that 62 Democrats voted against the Administration's recommendation, but he was the only person to both argue against it on the floor of the House, and also vote against it.

Five Elected to Diehlstadt Board

Ever heard that before? The rest of it usually goes like this: "Sure I have a faith—but I can pray just as well at home."
Private worship is, of course, a precious and valuable and necessary thing. But if you neglect your place of worship, you neglect the place where the very substance of your faith is kept alive and nurtured. Consider this: if there were no "other fellow" to preserve, protect and practice the faith you believe in "at home"—how long would that faith endure?
Next time you're tempted to roll over in bed, and say, "Well, maybe I'll go next week"—remember your faith needs you to keep it strong . . . so it can strengthen you. Worship with your family at your church or synagogue this week. And don't disappoint yourself again.

MINER BAPTIST CHURCH

CLINTON E. ROBERSON
Pastor

Miner Baptist Church is located about one-half mile east of Sikeston, Mo., just off highway #62 north of the Blodgett road.

In 1926 a small group of Missionary Baptist under the leadership of Bro. H. Patterson, Missionary of the Charleston Association, met at the Bement school and voted to move their place of worship to the Bright Prospect Church building (present location of the Miner Cemetery) After two years this building was purchased for the sum of $75.00 and thus a permanent Miner Baptist Church was begun.

Miner was a sparcely populated rural community at that time, with few land owners and a shifting tenant population, therefore membership and income of the church was very uncertain. Old records lists payments of $3.00 for lamps and coal oil, Pot-bellied Stove $10.00, second hand organ $20.00, etc. by the Ladies Aid from such projects as "Egg Day" Farm Sale Lunches," "Hickory Nut sales," and "bake sales." Being a deacon meant that your family took their turn making fires, sweeping out sand, rain or snow that might have sifted thru the cracks. You also brought enough coal for that service.

The Lord blessed us by sending ministers dedicated to preaching the gospel on Sunday afternoons or Saturday night when they could spare time from their own churches, until we were able to have a pastor. The congregation increased and accepted God's plan for the support of the church--the Tithe. We are especially grateful to Bro. A. E. Ply, 422 E. Gladys for his leadership and spiritual guidance over many years.

"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad"--The present church is built on property the Ladies Aid bought for $40.00 in 1930 and donated to the church. The church has an auditorium with seating capacity of over two hundred, heating and air conditioning, baptistry, educational building, two nurseries, kitchen and dining area. In 1963 a modern brick three bedroom parsonage was completed, making our total property value $66,500.00. Resident membership is about 257, and of the $15,837 budget, 14% is allotted to the Cooperative Program of the Southern Baptist Convention; and 4% to local Associational Missions. A well staffed departmental Sunday School, Training Union, WMU and Auxiliaries, Brotherhood, Board of Deacons and an Adult and Junior Choir, gives opportunity for service and growth for all ages.

The first Vacation Bible School was held in 1935, and has been instrumental in reaching our youth for Christ. The Temple Baptist Church was sponsored as a mission before it became a church in 1957.

Our membership roll bears witness to the far reaching Christian influence of the Miner Church. Many men, women and youth today, who are giving their Christian witness thru work in various churches and community organizations, were converted at Miner and baptised in the open water near the Malcolm bridge, some as junior boys and girls at the time.

It is the desire of the Miner Baptist Church to be a strong Christian witness in our community. Brother Clinton E. Roberson, who has been pastor for eight years, joins with Bro. Guy Lawyer, Springfield, Mo. in inviting you to the evangelistic services March 30th thru April 10th at 7:30 P.M.

"He is not here...the tomb is empty... He is risen."
Excitement was appalling that early morning at Mount Calvary when the first to arrive at the tomb found the stone rolled away and only the grave-clothes remained in the sepulcher.
Easter reminds us...if a reminder were needed...that religion is founded on the life and crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth.
We know not the time it will come, but we do know that death must come to all... and that an appropriate marker should designate the person for the benefit of posterity.
May we be of help to you in the choosing of a suitable monument?

BULLDOG BARKER

SIKESTON HIGH SCHOOL, SIKESTON, MISSOURI

Barker Gains First Class Honor Rating From NSPA

Bulldog Barker recently received notice that it gained a first class honor rating in the 73rd All- American Newspaper Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Association.

This rating means that the newspaper is excellent and a score of 3,200 must be attained. Barker for the first semester, gained 3,330 points.

Association sent a guidebook to enable the staff to study its weak points and to learn of its good qualities.

NSPA judges commented about the Barker "What a good variety of editorial subjects! They do inform and interpret."

Criticism about coverage, photography, news, headlines, captions, and other items may be found in the margins of the guidebook.

Each edition of the Bulldog Barker published the first semester was mailed to NSPA and judged in competition with other high schools with an enrollment of 701-1,000. Both weekly and bi-weekly papers were included in this category.

Barkers for the last semester will be sent to the NSPA in May, and the Missouri Scholastic Press Association will also judge the Barker this spring.

12 Students Give Program About Spring

Twelve Sikeston high school girls will be the featured speakers for the Easter assembly this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Spring program entitled "Our Father's Garden" will be presented in accordance with the vernal season.

Seniors will attend the assembly in the cafeteria if the weather is not suitable for a program on the out-door stage.

Girls participating in the assembly and their designated "flower subjects" will be Kay Walton, rose ; Mary Leible, lilies; Carol Werneck, daffodil; Judy Matthews, [illegible]; Elizabeth Martin, lilac; Paula Waldman, tulip.

Melinda Morrison, daisy; Vicki Schindler, pansy, Diane Taylor, zinnia; Susan Jobe, for-get-me-nots; and Kathy Matthews, snapdragon.

Senior Deidre Harber, assembly committee chairman, will serve as leader of the program.

Sikeston high school concert choir, directed by Gordon Beaver, will render three selections. Judy Matthews is the accompanist for the choir.

Printed programs for the assembly will be distributed to the students.

Following the assembly, school will be dismissed for the Easter vacation, and classes will resume in the Sikeston public schools Wednesday, April 13.

The assembly program is a service of the student council.

Polly Newman Is Sew-With-Cotton Annual Winner

Sophomore Polly Newman won the annual Sew-With- Cotton Contest. Her winning entry was a dress and coat ensemble of green and white cotton. The dress was of green and white stripe fashioned in the princess style and the coat was green.

Rules for the contest included the necessity of the material being 100 per cent cotton, entrants being between 16 and 19 years of age, and that the entrant either be enrolled in a home economics course or a member of 4-H Club.

Total cost of the winning entry was $12, and Polly received a $3 gift certificate at Penney's department store.

Polly is enrolled in Mrs. Wilma April's advanced sewing class.

Concert Choir To Make Album

Sikeston high school concert choir will record its seventh album for the '65-'66 season later this month.

Music included in the record will be secular, sacred, popular and other arrangements.

Large group picture of the singers will be displayed on the front of the cover.

Sam Harbin Presents Final PTA Program

Sam Harbin, Bank of Sikeston official, presented the final Parent-Teacher program of the year Tuesday evening. Mr. Harbin gave a brief outline of the cultural societies in the city of Sikeston.

Included in the organizations were the Delta Community Concert Association, the Sikeston Little Theatre, the Sikeston Council of Arts, the Sikeston Art League, and the Annual Festival of the Arts.

Mr. Harbin is past president of the Community Concert Association, the Little Theatre, and the Sikeston Council of Arts.

In his talk, he covered the history of the clubs, when and why they were founded, and what their specific function is.

Following his speech, the floor was left open for a question and answer period from the audience.

DALE MORRIS smiles happily for the camera when notified that he won a first place in the district science fair.

Sikeston High School Students Are Participants In District Speech Meet

Eight Sikeston high school National Forensic League members will represent Sikeston in the Southeast Missouri District Speech Meet in Cape Girardeau, Friday and Saturday, April 15-16.

This event is sponsored by the Missouri State High School Activities Association, and Sikeston will have one entry in each event.

Ratings of inferior, average, superior, and excellent will be given with the excellent recipients eligible for state competition.

Brian Underwood and Tom Phillips will debate the affirmative side on the issue of compulsory arbitration. Seniors Dale Morris and Fred Lumsden will argue the negative.

Seniors Deidre Harber and Martha Bess will perform in the verse reading and public speaking divisions respectively. Martha will recite Shakespeare's sonnets, songs, and poems.

Brian will compete in the extemporaneous speaking division, and Fred will perform in the radio broadcasting division.

Junior Bill Welker will read prose from Churchill's "A History of the English Speaking People."

For the past several days these students have been gathering information, practicing, and preparing for the speech contest in cooperation with Robert Walker, speech instructor and sponsor of the National Forensic League.

Seniors Conclude Red Pepper Role

PEP ORGANIZATION! In most schools this term only refers to approximately 40 girls who attend the football and basketball home games, but in Sikeston high school this term applies to 271 peppy, enthusiastic, and great girls -- Red Peppers.

With the election of new officers and cheerleaders, the '66 Red Peppers pass the "spirit" to a new group.

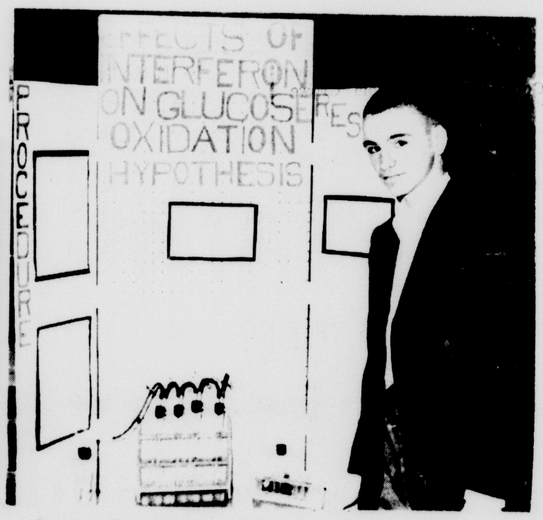

These officers elect are passed the responsibilities of a tradition -- a tradition of spirit, good sportsmanship, and high quality ratings.

As seniors, we will conclude our duties to our school as Red Peppers with the banquet and dance on Saturday, April 16.

We seniors reflect the happy, enthusiastic times, the fabulous memories of the past year. We remember the first rainy game, pep parades, bonfires, hymie, Blytheville game, Richland basketball game, and numerous other heart-warming experiences.

As tears of joy mingle with those of sadness, the Red Peppers of '66 finish with a victorious record -- good luck '67 Red Peppers.

----------Deidre Harber

Junior SAMMY HOPPER stands beside his entry at the annual science fair. Sammy won a third place for his display.

DE-COE Plan Joint Banquet

A combined COE-DE banquet is anticipated by the two instructors. At this banquet, the students enrolled in these courses will treat their employers to a dinner at the Holiday Inn.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Lester B. Kesterson, Director of Cooperative Industrial and Distributive Education.

In regard to the DE and COE programs for the coming school year, Mr. Woods and Mr. Henderson stated that thus far they have received applications from 50 students for the programs.

Plans are being made at the present for procuring employment for those interested students or other individuals who have either expressed an interest in the programs or those who might be interested.

Banquet, Dance Set; Officers Forfeit Titles

Annual Red Pepper banquet and dance of Sikeston high school are scheduled for Saturday, April 16, at the high school cafeteria and middle school auditorium respectively.

Banquet will begin in the afternoon at 5:30.

Charles Matthews IV, secretary of the board of education, will be the after-dinner speaker.

Highlight of the banquet will be the announcement of the officers and cheerleaders for 1966-67. Elections were held last Thursday, and the votes will be counted by the '66 officers next Friday.

Various other school officials will be guests of the Red Peppers for this social event.

Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence, director of food service in the Sikeston public schools, planned the menu, and it will be served by 31 freshmen girls.

Menu will consist of fried chicken, green beans, mashed potatoes, apple pie, and iced tea.

Spring Red Pepper dance will begin in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. Music will be provided by the Paducah Dukes of Murray State College.

Traditional Grand March is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

New officers and cheerleaders, along with senior Red Peppers, will be escorted to the front and presented to the audience at this time.

Themes for both the banquet and dance will be kept secret until Saturday, April 16.

Officers are decorating for the banquet, and senior peppers are planning the dance. Kay Walton and Phyllis Newman are chairmen for the dance decorations.

Banquet and dance are the final social events for the Red Peppers this year.

Ten Prepare For Girls State

Junior Girls Will Practice Government

Ten junior girls have been selected to represent Sikeston high school in the 25th annual Missouri Girls State program at Stephens College in Columbia the latter part of June.

Girls chosen were Camille Bowman, Connie Nowell, Deidre Yancy, Mary Anne Bruce, Sandra Nickell, Sally Faulkner, Melinda Morrison, Vicki Schindler, Jane Miederhoff, and Linda Chaney.

Girls State is a study in governmental procedure. Girls from the state of Missouri will participate in the program.

Girls will attend classes, assemblies, and briefings concerning city, state and county government.

Highlights of the week will be the divisional elections with the inauguration of the state officials on Thursday evening and the talent show presented by the girls the following evening.

Girls State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and various civic groups in town. Mrs. Carl Elam is the local director for Girls State.

Girls will go to Columbia by bus from Cape Girardeau.

DeLaney Chosen Board President

CHARLESTON--Bob DeLaney was elected president and James Moreton vice president of the R-1 board of education at its reorganization meeting. DeLaney replaces H. H. Sutherland.

Moreton was sworn in as a member of the board. The other member elected Tuesday, Dennis Quertermous, is out of town on National Guard business and will be sworn in upon his return.

Mrs. H. R. Hequembourg was re-elected secretary.

Most of Wednesday's meeting was spent in a discussion of salaries for administrative personnel and on a schedule of pay for extra duties performed by teachers. The latter schedule was approved as recommended by the administration. Recommended administrative salaries were reduced by the board in all cases except one.

In other action Wednesday, the board:

Approved the purchase of a Farmall tractor and mower for school property use.

Voted to accept an alternate bid on glazed tile for some portions of the new high school, to accept the alternate bid on a build-up white marble roof for the new school, and to reject an alternate bid on gravelled driveway and parking areas at the school.

Accepted the resignation of Dr. Tom Shotwell as vocational agriculture teacher, and of Miss Nancy Merrick as French and Spanish teacher, effective the end of the school year. Dr. Shotwell said he would probably move to a university teaching position, and Miss Merrick said she planned to be married in July.

Discussed off the record the administration's recommendation for the release of five teachers from the system, effective at the end of the school. The board will hold its regular April meeting Wednesday night.

Maher Will Talk to C.C.

CHARLESTON -- Philip V. Maher, head of the state office of urban affairs and the coordinator for economic opportunity programs in Missouri, will speak Wednesday night at the monthly dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for Maher's appearance was announced by P. J. Ponder, chairman of the Community Improvement Association.

Maher intends to speak to the Chamber of Commerce on community betterment through the use of a new service for industrial development. This program is scheduled for development in the Bootheel.

State Representative David Rolwing assisted Ponder in making the arrangements for Maher's visit.

Council Talks Plans to Buy Residence

NEW MADRID -- Several matters other than routine business were discussed at the April meeting Monday night of the board of aldermen, according to Mrs. Pauline K. Allen, city clerk.

The board discussed a proposal for the purchase of a home at the outskirts of the north side of the city and make plans for its use as a historical site.

An initial application for a federal grant for the proposed sewage treatment system was approved.

Buddy Waters of Sikeston, discussed with the board a proposal for a topographical survey of the city of New Madrid for future planning of drainage.

Representatives of Luce, Thompson and Crowell of Kansas City, talked with the board on methods and manners in connection with the city's proposal to purchase Associated Natural Gas Company's facilities here and to make a study of the economic feasibility of the purchase.

With the cities of Gideon and Matthews, the board decided to purchase a fogging machine for use in elimination of mosquitoes and other insects.

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
(Matthew 27:46)

PRAYER: I am grateful, though ashamed, that Thou didst bear the pain for me, O Christ, when I bear so little pain for Thee. Help me to follow the example of Thy sacrificial love in my relationships with my fellowmen. In all humility, I beseech Thee, in Thy name. Amen.

Looking Back Over the Years

50 years ago
April 8, 1916

Fire which started Wednesday morning destroyed a block and a half of the largest buildings in the downtown section of Cape Girardeau, including the Riverview and Terminal Hotels and the Buckner-Ragsdale department store. Two saloons owned by Claude Speak and a millinery store owned by Miss Florence Boone also were destroyed.

Mrs. W. S. Smith had a few of the little folks at her home Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the birthday of her little daughter, Mary Williams. The hunt for the animal crackers ended with Miss Catherine Blanton winner. She was given a bunch of violets as reward. Miss Catherine also won the prize in the chewing gum animal contest. This prize was a fancy candle. The corn eating number was very much enjoyed by all the little Misses who were: Annette Smith, Cinderella Hires, Elizabeth Stallcup, Catherine Blanton, Hilma Black, Ella Helen Smith, and Lottie Dover.

ANN LANDERS
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old girl with a father problem. I've always been overweight. The school nurse says I should lose 20 pounds. I've tried, but I can't do it. My father has nagged me and made my life miserable over the subject for as long as I can remember.

Last night my uncle and aunt were here. I was drying dishes when my dad called me into the living room. He had the bathroom scale in the middle of the floor. He said to my uncle, "Guess how much she weighs." My uncle wouldn't guess so my dad said. "She weighs 128 pounds." Then he told me to step on the scale and prove it.

My mother came in just then and told me to go back to the kitchen. I heard her tell my father he should not embarrass me like that. He has done this before and he knows it hurts my feelings but he won't stop. I need your help. -- ASHAMED

Dear Ashamed: It's too bad your dad doesn't realize that his nagging will not persuade you to lose an ounce. It will only make you eat more.

Ask your mother to take you to a doctor. He will prescribe a sensible diet. You CAN knock off those extra pounds and I hope you will. Your teen years will be a whole lot happier and healthier.

Dear Ann Landers: You can't believe how much trouble a monthly check for $58 can cause in a family. This is what my husband gets every month from the government for a war injury. He says the check belongs to him "to operate on" and that I can't have a dime of it.

We have never been clear of debt from the day we married. My husband gives me his whole paycheck every week so I can't fault with him there. But with four little kids to feed and clothe, and dentist bills and doctor bills and car payments, we have never been able to get even, much less ahead.

The thing that bugs me is I can't figure out what he does with the $58. He charged my Mother's Day gift last May and I ended up paying for it after the store called me about the bill.

If he would give me that $58 I would get us out of debt in three months. Help please.-- THE GOOSE

Dear Goose: Help you do what? Get the $58 away from the poor stiff so he can walk around penniless? You said he hands over his entire paycheck. Now really, Lady -- be reasonable.

Forget about the $58. Pretend he doesn't get it. This means, of course, you'll have to find something else to gripe about. From the sound of your letter, you'll think of something, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother wants me to go steady and I am against it. I know of three girls who went the limit with steady boy friends because they were together so much one thing led to another and they couldn't help it.

My mother says the reason the divorce rate is so high is because a girl can't settle down with one man after she runs around with every Tom, Dick and Harry. Mom wants me to pick out the fellow I like best and go steady with him. Help!!! -- BUGGED

Bear Bugged: Your mother is right about the divorce rate, but one of the reasons there is so much divorce is because of the teen-agers who start to go steady at 14, get engaged at 16 and get married at 17. By the time they are 19 they are fed up with marriage and are eager to tell it to the judge.

Are you at war with your parents? Do they have too much to say in your life? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Concrete Street in Collins North Acres

The First Mark of a Quality Home Is a Concrete Street in Front

If you are one of the many now in the home-buying mood, may we give you a word of friendly advice . . .

When you are looking around, look first for the concrete street. . .the street that is durable to withstand severe winters, light-reflectant for your safety, and free of grime and dirt that might mar your new home.

You can rest assured that the builder or developer who has shown the wise judgment to choose long-lasting, low-maintenance concrete for his streets will also have chosen quality materials and provided quality workmanship for the homes he offers.

ALL COLLINS SUBDIVISION STREETS ARE CONCRETE

Collins Const. Co. is opening 100 acres of new area in Collins North Acres this year. All the streets and drives are to be of concrete. All the houses will reflect quality throughout. Just east of No. 61 north, near Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Today In U. S. History

Today is Friday, April 8, the 98th day of 1966. There are 267 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1513, Ponce de Leon took possession of Florida in the name of the king of Spain.

On this date

In 1663, the Drury Lane Theater opened in London. The present building dates from 1812.

In 1895, the U.S. Supreme Court declared the income tax law of 1894 unconstitutional. The $71,000 which had been collected was returned.

In 1913, President Wilson revived the custom of delivering the State of the Union message in person to the Congress.

In 1917, Austria-Hungary severed diplomatic relations with the United States.

In 1918, the first air squadron of the United States in World War I was assigned to the front in Europe for observation duty.

Ten years ago — Habib Bourguiba, veteran champion of Tunisian independence, was elected by acclamation as president of Tunisia's first constituent Assembly.

Five years ago — British liner "Dara" caught fire in Persian Gulf off Manama, Bahrein, and sank while being towed to shore: 212 persons presumed dead.

One year ago — The Russians resumed their off-and-on blockade of allied troop movements on the 110-mile autobahn linking Berlin with West Germany.

Delmo Course Needs More Facilities

KENNETT -- Enrollment in the adult high school education course sponsored by the Delmo Housing Corp. has outgrown its present facilities, the Rev. William Chapman, training director, said this week.

Three classes have been held at the First Methodist Church Education building, the Rev. Mr. Chapman said, but unless additional room can be found, additional enrollees cannot be accepted.

Enrollment in the 15-week high school equivalency course has jumped from 40 to 60 to 80, all of whom have now been pretested. Initial classes got under way last Thursday night, under the direction of three teachers. A fourth instructor has been secured since then.

After the initial classes were started, the Rev. Mr. Chapman said 18 other applicants for the high school course have been received.

He said even with the present 80 enrollees, facilities at the church education building are overtaxed.

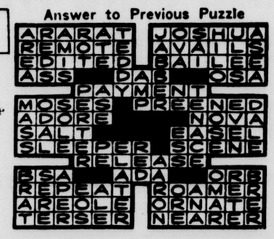

Until additional facilities are available, the applications of the additional adults cannot be considered, the training director said.

The program is being financed by Delmo Housing Corp. under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The Rev. Mr. Chapman said he has submitted a request to the Kennett Public Schools for the needed classroom space.

Cold Facts on Symphony Tour: Stage Stoves, Dressing in Open

Members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, who returned this week from a month-long series of one-night stands in the West and Northwest, are glad to be home. But most of them say they would not trade their tour experiences for anything.

"We played in all kinds of places and on all kinds of stages," Eleazar de Carvalho, conductor, told the Post-Dispatch. "We had audiences of 700 to 7000. We brought a cultural message from St. Louis to the West. We exported culture just like McDonnell (Aircraft Corp.) exports planes."

One of the first stops on the 7700-mile tour was at Graham, Tex., which De Carvalho said "I'll never forget".

It was a cold night, there was no heat in the auditorium and none in his dressing room. "So I wandered around bundled up in my overcoat," he related.

STOVES ON STAGE

"That was an experience," said Carmine Fiococelli, violinist and assistant music director. "Our trunks were lined up on the stage for a backdrop and stagehands placed some portable gas stoves on the stage to try to keep us warm."

In Roswell, N.M., the orchestra stayed in a "very nice motel" but the concert was in an auditorium with no dressing rooms.

"I walked over to the auditorium," De Carvalho related, "and there everyone was standing beside his trunk getting dressed in the open for the concert. It's a good thing it didn't rain."

Members of the orchestra traveled in three buses. A large moving van carried the heavier instruments.

August Keller, a Brazilian who plays an English horn said, "We got to know the other members of the orchestra pretty well on that trip."

There was an incident in Los Angeles, Keller said, that brought praise and congratulations to Tamas Vasary, Hungarian-born piano soloist, who accompanied the orchestra on the tour, longest in its 40 years of touring.

TEAMSTER STRIKE

"It seems our van with all the heavy instruments in it ran into a Teamsters strike there and we were prevented from unloading," Keller said. "We had a concert at 8 o'clock but those Teamsters were tough to deal with."

"We had to cancel the orchestra's program, but Vasary substituted for us and played a full-length piano concert, very successfully, too."

George Berry, bassoon player, said that San Francisco was the most enjoyable city on the trip. In Los Angeles he did not see the sun for five days, he insisted.

Some citizens of Fort Smith, Ark., last stop on the tour, want the orchestra to come back to help dedicate a new performing arts center, Fiocelli said, "One man offered to fly us there on a jet plane," he said.

To show his appreciation for the "endurance and devotion" of members of the orchestra on the tour, De Carvalho gave a party for them in Fort Smith the night before they started home.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be at the Sikestpm Armory, 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 19th. Tickets are available at the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank, The Daily Standard and any member of the Sikeston Council of the Arts for $1.00 each, or you may mail your order with a returned addressed stamped envelope to Box 447 Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.

The expense of bringing this orchestra to Sikeston was underwritten by the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank and the Daily Standard.

Brezhnev to Continue as Red Leader

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev was re-elected unanimously today to head the Soviet Communist party as the party ended an 11-day congress which brought little change in policies or leadership.

Brezhnev announced to the closing Kremlin session of the party's 23rd congress that he had been chosen party general secretary, the most important job in the Soviet Union.

The congress changed the title from the first secretary, which Brezhnev had been since the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev in October 1964. General secretary was Stalin's title.

The party's two key groups, the Politburo that sets policy for the party and the Secretariat that carries it out, retained practically the same members as before the election earlier today by the Central Committee.

The politburo, the former Presidium which the congress reverted to its Stalin-era name, was reduced from 12 to 11 members by the retirement of former Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan and Nikolai M. Shvernik, and the addition of Arvid J. Pelshe, a leader of the Communist party in Latvia.

Mrs. Grace Hamby Wall announces the sale of Hamby Pest Control to Bruce-Terminix world's best-known termite and pest control firm

Dear Friends:
For 18 years, the Hamby Pest Control Company has been a part of the Sikeston community. Much time and effort has been put into making it the well-respected firm it is today. But now it is no longer practical for me to operate the business on my own.

I have looked around to find the most dependable and reliable pest and termite control organization in the country to assure our good customers continued fine service. With the purchase of Hamby Pest Control by Bruce-Terminix, you can be certain of the same skilled protection for your homes and businesses that our company has always provided. Bruce-Terminix is owned by E. L. Bruce Co., world's largest producer of hardwood flooring. All work is bonded and insured.

When you deal with Bruce-Terminix it will be the same as doing business with Hamby's. A resident manager, Mr. Earl Hart, is to be located right here in Sikeston, and he is ready to serve your needs immediately during this present termite swarming season. Be sure to call him.

Thank you for your loyal patronage through the years. We leave you in good hands.

Sincerely,
Grace Hamby Wall

470 Are Rescued At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A vicious fire raged uncontrolled through the cruise ship Viking Princess today driving the reported 471 passengers and crew members from the Miami-based vessel.

The Coast Guard reported 470 were rescued, 1 dead and 10 missing.

The survivors —including the ship's veteran Norwegian captain, chief officer and navigator —were plucked from the gently rolling Atlantic Ocean by three merchant vessels.

The $16-million Viking Princess was reported blazing fiercely, a towering column of smoke marking its death throes in the Windward Passage between Cuba and Haiti.

"All (survivors) are in good shape," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The German freighter Cap Nort picked up 376 survivors and one body, the Liberian freighter Navigator rescued 81 and the Chunking Victory, a Nationalist Chinese merchant ship, saved 13 more.

Lt. David Carey, a Coast Guard public information officer, said:

"A boarding party from the cutter Cook Inlet searched the after end of the ship and we do not believe any survivors are left aboard."

The Coast Guard, Navy, U.S. Customs and the ship's booking agency agreed the Viking Princess carried 235 passengers, but figures on the crew varied from 248 to 260.

Carey said two ships were searching for other possible survivors in a 20-mile radius and the area was being crisscrossed by rescue planes.

The three ships carrying survivors were reported steaming for the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Red Dead Rise to 438

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- The U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division raised its toll of Communist dead to 438 today in Operation Lincoln on the Cambodian frontier after virtually wiping out a reinforced Viet Cong platoon.

The cavalrymen, sweeping around the Chu Phong Mountains 220 miles north of Saigon for two weeks, caught 30 to 40 Reds by surprise Thursday and killed 29 in a brisk figt.

Other American troops accounted for at least 15 Viet Cong killed near Tuy Hoa as the war continued on the ground and in the air despite continued street demonstrations in Saigon and antigovernment unrest in the northern provinces.

Scott School Redistricting Election Set for May 3

Proposal Would Make No Elementary School Changes

By DAN WHITTLE

BENTON -- Voters of Scott County will go to the polls May 3 to vote on reorganizing the county's seven school districts into two large districts, R-1 and R-2.

Last night after canvassing the ballots from Tuesday's election, the county board of education set the election date.

The R-1 school district would be made up of Illmo-Scott City R-1, Chaffee R-2, Oran R-3, Benton R-4 and Kelso C-7.

The R-2 district would be made up of Sikeston R-6 and Scott Central R-5.

Board President G. K. Patterson said that no elementary schools in the county would be changed.

Before setting the date a delegation of six from the Scott Central district told directors that they hadn't been properly informed about the organization proposal.

Mrs. Odis Freeman, whose husband was elected to the Scott Central board of education Tuesday told the board that she didn't think it was fair because the Sikeston district has more voters than does Scott Central.

The reorganizational plan was drawn by a county board of education composed of two directors from each district in the county.

Harold Vogel, public school administrative assistant, said that the Sikeston schools could absorb Scott Central's enrollment with three to four staff members.

He said larger districts were more economical.

Tharon Stallings, county board member from Sikeston, told Mrs. Freeman that the reorganization proposal is one more step in seeking better schools.

The state department of education approved the reorganization plan March 6.

An election must be held within 60 days.

If approved by the voters, the R-1 district would have $17,560,925 total assessed valuation and the R-2 district would have $19,629.800.

The enrollment of the R-1 district would be 3,115.

Enrollment of the R-2 district would be 3,811.

If approved, the present school boards will be void.

Patterson said that if the redistricting is approved, a new central high school possibly will be constructed in the R-1 district.

He said Sikeston had adequate facilities for the proposed R-2 district.

Present districts R-1, R-2, R-4 and R-5 were established in 1954 and R-3 was created in 1955. The R-6 district was created in 1949.

Enumeration of the districts: R-1, 1,461; R-2, 1,084; R-3, 879, R-4, 1,149; R-5, 781; R-6, 4,893; C-7, 429. The total is 10,676.

Evaluation of each district: R-1, $3,381,035; R-2, $3,251,330; R-3, $3,500,990; R-4, $5,402,460; R-5, $3,425,140; R-6, $16,204,660; and C-7, $2,025,120.

Average daily attendence: R-1, high school, 258.90, elementary, 507.01; R-2, 272.816, elementary, 447.469; R-3, high school, 187.86, elementary, 284.99; R-4, high school, 215.84, elementary, 433.90; C-7, elementary, 27.

From these figures the proposed R-1 district would have an average daily attendance of high school, 935.416, elementary, 167.362.

The number of teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are: R-1 high school, 18, elementary, 24; R-2, high school, 16, elementary, 22; R-3 high school, 16, elementary, 12; R-4, high school, 22, elementary, 10, C-7 elementary, 2.

Total high school teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are 72; elementary 78.

In the proposed R-2 district, the average daily attendance would be 1,190.31 in high school and 2,902.31 in the elementary schools.

Sikeston has an average high school attendance of 1,030.35 and an average daily elemtary attendance of 2,902.31.

Scott Central is averaging 159.67 students in the high school and 221.48 in the grade schools.

Sikeston employs 95 high school teachers and 79 elementary teachers.

Scott Central has 16 high school teachers and 17 elementary teachers.

The present tax levies in the proposed R-1 district: R-1, $3.85; R-2, $3.55; R-3, $3.75; R-4, $2.70; C-7, $1.10.

The average tax levy is $2.99.

Tax levies in the proposed R-2 district: R-5, $2.75; R-6, $4; for a $3.10 average.

In the official canvass of the ballots in court districts, Boyd Duff got 708 votes, C. B. Taylor 645.

In court district two, Kenneth Raney got 833 official votes and Clyde Stubbs 872.

Raney was elected for an unexpired one-year term and Stubbs and Duff were elected to three-year terms.

The board unanimously reappointed Patterson as board president, Charles Michael, vice president, and Nada Anderson, secretary.

E. R. Inman

Billy C. Hanna

Hanna and Inman Managers

Billy C. Hanna, 103 Powers, is the new manager of Public Housing Authority in Sikeston. His appointment became effective Tuesday.

Hanna, 38, replaces E. R. Inman, 618 Dempster, who will become manager of the Board of Public Works April 18.

Inman is replacing Herbert Phelps, who is moving to Kansas City and joining William Riddle and Associates, a consulting engineering firm. Phelps has been with the board of public works since 1961.

Hanna was the manager of the Delta Loan Company, where he worked for 16 years.

He and his wife, Elma, have three sons.

He attends the First Methodist Church, where he is a member of the official board and a Sunday School teacher.

He is president of the Travelers Protective Association in Sikeston, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Masonic lodge, and a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Inman, 37, has been manager of the housing authority for eight years. He and his wife, Jo Ann, have three daughters.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, a past vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the First Methodist Church.

Congress Sowing Politics Instead of Easter Eggs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was scattered across the country today, taking home November election ammunition instead of Easter eggs.

The first long recess of the year — 10 days for the House, almost a week for the Senate — began with sendoffs notably political in tone from spokesmen for both parties.

"I can't see an issue the Republicans have raised that I consider a good political issue," remarked House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

But Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, Chairman of the House Republican Conference, said the issue is "cost of living increases and inflation."

"Our problem is there are so many issues," Laird said in an interview.

The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, accused the Democratic-dominated Congress of "a wild spending spree" that has brought on "the strong possibility of an income tax increase.

"It's claimed this is one of the hardest working of all Congresses," Ford said. "I say the hardest work is being done in certain major committees by those Democrats intent on inflating already bloated administration spending requests."

Albert called a news conference Thursday to say that members can go home "with great pride" in the accomplishments of the session — and that these accomplishments, including the passage of important administration bills, are the Democrats' best political assets.

Democratic incumbents include 71 first-termers who have had less than two years to dig in with the electorate.

"Anybody who is running against someone who contributed to that record is running against success," Albert said.

He shrugged off any idea that the congressional campaign, in which all 435 House seats and 34 of the Senate posts are at stake, will be dominated by the issue of cuts in federal spending versus a possible tax increase.

The Republican conference met a day earlier to brief members on the minority leadership's view of the Johnson administration. They were given background material on what Republicans consider especially vulnerable examples of government spending in such fields as public buildings and the poverty program.

Summing up the discussions, Laird said, "the issue will be inflation — by November the American people will be referring to it as a tragedy."

Republicans, he said, will be presenting a 5 per cent increase in cost of living during the past two years as "the Johnson-Humphrey 5 per cent sales tax —the cruelest, most regressive tax of all" and picturing Social Security checks slashed by rising prices.

Polls indicate, Laird, said, that the Viet Nam fighting is equally a cause of concern to Americans. But he added, "We don't have to emphasize that — prominent Democrats are doing too good a job themselves, with their criticism of the administration, to keep the issue alive."

In his summary of legislative accomplishments, Albert emphasized the moderate tax raise already enacted, the bill granting GI rights to veterans of the cold war and Viet Nam, and conservation measures. He said legislation on minimum wages, discrimination in employment and international health services are among bills scheduled for consideration soon after the House reconvenes.

Johnson to Ask for Increase In Social Security Benefits

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. AP -- President Johnson said today he will ask Congress next year to increase all Social Security benefits and to consider extending some medicare-type benefits to the very young.

Johnson, who flew here from his ranch home to sign a bill extending the signup period for the voluntary part of medicare for the elderly, made his announcement in a speech at the outdoor ceremony.

Besides pledging to seek across-the-board boosts in Social Security payments to 21 million Americans, Johnson disclosed that Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner has been ordered "to create plans for a new program to assist in financing dental service for young children."

Asserting that "medicare need not be just be for people over 65," the President said the dental aid would be for children under the age of 6.

White House sources said no decision had been made on whether the dental program would benefit all children or just those from low-income families.

Johnson, home in Texas for Easter and bustling with energy, flew the 60 miles from his ranch to San Antonio to sign the medicare bill and attend Good Friday services at an 18th century cathedral.

Christians Observe Saddest Day on Church Calendar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians observed the most sorrowful day in the church calendar today with Good Friday services around the world. The beginning of the Easter weekend also brought the annual exodus of holidayers.

Thousands of pilgrims streamed into Rome and the Holy Land for observances commemorating Christ's death on the cross. The mournful rites, in the closing days of Holy Week and the long austerity of Lent, were a prelude to the joyous celebrations of the resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Pope Paul VI was to lead thousands of Roman Catholics in a Good Friday Mass at the Basilica of St. Mary Major. During the service the pontiff, his shoes removed, lies prostrate before a slowly unveiled crucifix.

In the ancient Roman Colosseum, where once martyrs were thrown to the lions, the Pope will lead a torchlit procession tonight tracing Christ's journey to the cross. The ceremony traditionally includes 14 brief pauses in the procession for prayer and meditation.

Worshipers in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem thronged to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, traditionally held as the site of the Savior's crucifixion, burial and resurrection.

Pilgrims re-enacted the Way of the Cross procession, walking in the footsteps of Christ from the site of Pontius Pilate's fortress to Calvary. Calvary is now a balcony inside the church doors, its bare rock shielded by rich mosaics, candles and clusters of glowing lanterns.

Hotels, convents, hostels and private homes were packed to overflowing with about 25,000 Christians from places as far away as San Francisco and Tokyo, Sweden and South Africa.

In Jerusalem, for the first time since the Communist revolution nearly 50 years ago, a delegation of eight Soviet priests came from the Soviet Union to walk in the steps of Christ, mourn His crucifixion and rejoice at His resurrection.

Eastern and Western Christian communities are celebrating Easter at the same time this year for the first time in three years.

President Johnson flew from Washington to his ranch at Johnson City, Tex., to spend Easter weekend with Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters. He planned to attend Good Friday services at the historic San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio.

Vacationing college students flocked to Florida beaches for a week of revelry. An estimated 40,000 packed the 23-mile-long shore at Daytona Beach.

Street Violence In Saigon Rises

SAIGON (AP) — Buddhist monks led 2,000 demonstrators into the heart of Saigon tonight in the worst day of anti-American violence in seven days of rioting.

A dozen Americans were beaten, manhandled or chased by the mob.

Five U. S. servicemen and two Vietnamese women were injured slightly by a grenade lobbed into a soft drink stand at Starcom, a U.S. communications center in west Saigon.

As the column of jeering, banner-waving youths surged downtown from the Buddhist Institute in the southwestern part of the capital, fully armed government paratroopers backed away. But riot police eventually waded into the mob, lobbing tear gas grenades and scattering the demonstrators in side streets.

There, the angry youths formed knots again, and there was every indication of another night-long rampage to force the overthrow of military government.

The demonstrators looted a home occupied by several American servicemen opposite the Buddhist Institute. They tore up furniture and drove six U.S. servicemen into the streets where they were manhandled. Vietnamese paratroopers who arrived at the scene laughed and joked with the demonstrators as the U.S. soldiers made their way through the crowd carrying a few personal belongings.

U.S. military police jeeps stationed nearby drove them to safety.

A short time before, a mob of 500 youths assaulted two Americans, one of them a serviceman, and chased a U.S. sailor into a house near the Buddhist Institute. There was no word of any injuries to the Americans.

The mob also overturned and set fire to a police jeep and tossed two dud grenades.

Some club-wielding youths pulled an unidentified American civilian from a taxi in front of the institute earlier in the day, and beat him. He fled with unknown injuries.

It was the second day of personal violence against Americans.

The demonstrators hurled insults at foreign newsmen. Monks restrained them from kicking and hitting newsmen with sticks.

Reporters also were confronted by American military police who said they were under orders from the U.S. Embassy to move all American newsmen from the streets. In one case, MPs drew pistols on newsmen to keep them from the scenes of violence.

Magistrate Binds over Three to Circuit Court

NEW MADRID -- The docket of the New Madrid county magistrate court was filled this week as 36 were hailed before Magistrate Erie Wright of Portageville.

Herbert Jines, Jr., charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, waived his preliminary hearing, and was transferred to circuit court for trial with his bond set at $1,000.

Two others, Soloman Hill and Leon Crawley, also waived preliminary hearings on felony charges.

Hill was charged with selling mortgaged property; Crawley faced grand larceny charges. Both were held for the higher court with bonds set at $500 each.

J. D. Harris, charged with taking and receiving stolen property, was fined $25, sentenced to serve 30 days in jail, then placed on probation for six months.

Bill Franks was ordered to pay $15 support each week beginning April 18 after facing the judge on a non-support charge. He was also sentenced to serve six months in jail with sentence to be suspended as long as payments are made.

A two-count traffic violation brought a fine of $16, to James A. Vires. Vires was charged with having no operator's license and no brakes on a vehicle.

David Kennedy was released from jail after serving 90 days of a six months' sentence for supplying intoxicating beer to minors.

Eighteen speeders were fined: Ewing C. Chenault, $25, Adrian Earl Young, $15, Thomas Shipley, $20, William H. Cattron, $15, Ray Wilks Clark, $15, Joseph Robert Farris, $11, Pat-

Space Failure Reason Sought

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Space agency officials combed through bundles of data today in search of why a Centaur rocket failed to properly ignite a second time Thursday night, causing a possible setback in the U.S. man-in-space program.

The failure showed that U.S. scientists have not yet proved they can tame liquid hydrogen fuel in space — a concept which this nation must realize before it can commit astronauts to go to the moon, send heavy payloads to the planets or soft-land instruments on the moon the year around.

As engineers wrestled with the problem, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration went ahead with plans today to launch an Orbiting Astronomical Observatory at 1:36 p.m. The shot has been postponed five times.

After a flawless countdown the problem-plagued Centaur — already more than three years behind schedule — thundered aloft from Cape Kennedy Thursday night.

An Atlas booster successfully propelled the hydrogen-fueled Centaur upper stage 88 miles above the earth, where the Centaur's two engines burned for 325 seconds and placed it and a dummy surveyor soft-lander moonship into a planned 100-mile-high parking orbit around the earth.

After a 25-minute coasting period in this orbit, Centaur was to have ignited a second time, burn 107 seconds and hurl the dummy spacecraft to a make-believe moon 236,000 miles from earth.

Instead, NASA said, apparently only one of Centaur's two 15,000-pound-thrust engines ignited. It only burned 17 seconds and kicked both the surveyor model and the Centaur into an oval-shaped orbit of 101 to 186 miles.

470 Are Rescued At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A vicious fire raged uncontrolled through the cruise ship Viking Princess today driving the reported 471 passengers and crew members from the Miami-based vessel.

The Coast Guard reported 470 were rescued, 1 dead and 10 missing.

The survivors—including the ship's veteran Norwegian captain, chief officer and navigator—were plucked from the gently rolling Atlantic Ocean by three merchant vessels.

The $16-million Viking Princess was reported blazing fiercely, a towering column of smoke marking its death throes in the Windward Passage between Cuba and Haiti.

"All (survivors) are in good shape," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The German freighter Cap Nort picked up 376 survivors and one body, the Liberian freighter Navigator rescued 81 and the Chunking Victory, a Nationalist Chinese merchant ship, saved 13 more.

Lt. David Carey, a Coast Guard public information officer, said:

"A boarding party from the cutter Cook Inlet searched the after end of the ship and we do not believe any survivors are left aboard."

The Coast Guard, Navy, U.S. Customs and the ship's booking agency agreed the Viking Princess carried 235 passengers, but figures on the crew varied from 248 to 260.

Carey said two ships were searching for other possible survivors in a 20-mile radius and the area was being crisscrossed by rescue planes.

The three ships carrying survivors were reported steaming for the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Red Dead Rise to 438

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP--The U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division raised its toll of Communist dead to 438 today in Operation Lincoln on the Cambodian frontier after virtually wiping out a reinforced Viet Cong platoon.

The cavalrymen, sweeping around the Chu Phong Mountains 220 miles north of Saigon for two weeks, caught 30 to 40 Reds by surprise Thursday and killed 29 in a brisk figt.

Other American troops accounted for at least 15 Viet Cong killed near Tuy Hoa as the war continued on the ground and in the air despite continued street demonstrations in Saigon and antigovernment unrest in the northern provinces.

Scott School Redistricting Election Set for May 3

Proposal Would Make No Elementary School Changes

By DAN WHITTLE

BENTON -- Voters of Scott County will go to the polls May 3 to vote on reorganizing the county's seven school districts into two large districts, R-1 and R-2.

Last night after canvassing the ballots from Tuesday's election, the county board of education set the election date.

The R-1 school district would be made up of Illmo-Scott City R-1, Chaffee R-2, Oran R-3, Benton R-4 and Kelso C-7.

The R-2 district would be made up of Sikeston R-6 and Scott Central R-5.

Board President G. K. Patterson said that no elementary schools in the county would be changed.

Before setting the date a delegation of six from the Scott Central district told directors that they hadn't been properly informed about the organization proposal.

Mrs. Odis Freeman, whose husband was elected to the Scott Central board of education Tuesday told the board that she didn't think it was fair because the Sikeston district has more voters than does Scott Central.

The reorganizational plan was drawn by a county board of education composed of two directors from each district in the county.

Harold Vogel, public school administrative assistant, said that the Sikeston schools could absorb Scott Central's enrollment with three to four staff members.

He said larger districts were more economical.

Tharon Stallings, county board member from Sikeston, told Mrs. Freeman that the reorganization proposal is one more step in seeking better schools.

The state department of education approved the reorganization plan March 6.

An election must be held within 60 days.

If approved by the voters, the R-1 district would have $17,560,925 total assessed valuation and the R-2 district would have $19,629,800.

The enrollment of the R-1 district would be 3,115.

Enrollment of the R-2 district would be 3,811.

If approved, the present school boards will be void.

Patterson said that if the redistricting is approved, a new central high school possibly will be constructed in the R-1 district.

He said Sikeston had adequate facilities for the proposed R-2 district.

Present districts R-1, R-2, R-4 and R-5 were established in 1954 and R-3 was created in 1955. The R-6 district was created in 1949.

Enumeration of the districts: R-1, 1,461; R-2, 1,084; R-3, 879, R-4, 1,149; R-5, 781; R-6, 4,893; C-7, 429. The total is 10,676.

Evaluation of each district: R-1, $3,381,035; R-2, $3,251,330; R-3, $3,500,990; R-4, $5,402,460; R-5, $3,425,140; R-6, $16,204,660; and C-7, $2,025,120.

Average daily attendence; R-1, high school, 258.90, elementary, 507.01; R-2, 272.816, elementary, 447.469; R-3, high school, 187.86, elementary, 284.99; R-4, high school, 215.84, elementary, 433.90; C-7, elementary, 27.

From these figures the proposed R-1 district would have an average daily attendance of high school, 935.416, elementary, 167.362.

The number of teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are; R-1 high school, 18, elementary, 24; R-2, high school, 16, elementary, 22; R-3 high school, 16, elementary, 12; R-4, high school, 22, elementary, 10, C-7 elementary, 2.

Total high school teachers employed in the proposed R-1 district are 72; elementary 78.

In the proposed R-2 district, the average daily attendance would be 1,190.31 in high school and 2,902.31 in the elementary schools.

Sikeston has an average high school attendance of 1,030.35 and an average daily elemtary attendance of 2,902.31.

Scott Central is averaging 159.67 students in the high school and 221.48 in the grade schools.

Sikeston employs 95 high school teachers and 79 elementary teachers.

Scott Central has 16 high school teachers and 17 elementary teachers.

The present tax levies in the proposed R-1 district; R-1, $3.85; R-2, $3.55; R-3, $3.75; R-4, $2.70; C-7, $1.10.

The average tax levy is $2.99.

Tax levies in the proposed R-2 district; R-5, $2.75; R-6, $4; for a $3.10 average.

In the official canvass of the ballots in court districts, Boyd Duff got 708 votes, C. B. Taylor 645.

In court district two, Kenneth Raney got 833 official votes and Clyde Stubbs 872.

Raney was elected for an unexpired one-year term and Stubbs and Duff were elected to three-year terms.

The board unanimously reappointed Patterson as board president, Charles Michael, vice president, and Nada Anderson, secretary.

Billy C. Hanna

Hanna and Inman Managers

Billy C. Hanna, 103 Powers, is the new manager of Public Housing Authority in Sikeston. His appointment became effective Tuesday.

Hanna, 38, replaces E. R. Inman, 618 Dempster, who will become manager of the Board of Public Works April 18.

Inman is replacing Herbert Phelps, who is moving to Kansas City and joining William Riddle and Associates, a consulting engineering firm. Phelps has been with the board of public works since 1961.

Hanna was the manager of the Delta Loan Company, where he worked for 16 years.

He and his wife, Elma, have three sons.

He attends the First Methodist Church, where he is a member of the official board and a Sunday School teacher.

He is president of the Travelers Protective Association in Sikeston, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Masonic lodge, and a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Inman, 37, has been manager of the housing authority for eight years. He and his wife, Jo Ann, have three daughters.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, a past vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the First Methodist Church.

Congress Sowing Politics Instead of Easter Eggs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was scattered across the country today, taking home November election ammunition instead of Easter eggs.

The first long recess of the year — 10 days for the House, almost a week for the Senate — began with sendoffs notably political in tone from spokesmen for both parties.

"I can't see an issue the Republicans have raised that I consider a good political issue," remarked House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

But Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, Chairman of the House Republican Conference, said the issue is "cost of living increases and inflation."

"Our problem is there are so many issues," Laird said in an interview.

The House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, accused the Democratic-dominated Congress of "a wild spending spree" that has brought on "the strong possibility of an income tax increase.

"It's claimed this is one of the hardest working of all Congresses," Ford said. "I say the hardest work is being done in certain major committees by those Democrats intent on inflating already bloated administration spending requests."

Albert called a news conference Thursday to say that members can go home "with great pride" in the accomplishments of the session — and that these accomplishments, including the passage of important administration bills, are the Democrats' best political assets.

Democratic incumbents include 71 first-termers who have had less than two years to dig in with the electorate.

"Anybody who is running against someone who contributed to that record is running against success," Albert said.

He shrugged off any idea that the congressional campaign, in which all 435 House seats and 34 of the Senate posts are at stake, will be dominated by the issue of cuts in federal spending versus a possible tax increase.

The Republican conference met a day earlier to brief members on the minority leadership's view of the Johnson administration. They were given background material on what Republicans consider especially vulnerable examples of government spending in such fields as public buildings and the poverty program.

Summing up the discussions, Laird said, "the issue will be inflation — by November the American people will be referring to it as a tragedy."

Republicans, he said, will be presenting a 5 per cent increase in cost of living during the past two years as "the Johnson-Humphrey 5 per cent sales tax -the cruelest, most regressive tax of all" and picturing Social Security checks slashed by rising prices.

Polls indicate, Laird, said, that the Viet Nam fighting is equally a cause of concern to Americans. But he added, "We don't have to emphasize that — prominent Democrats are doing too good a job themselves, with their criticism of the administration, to keep the issue alive."

In his summary of legislative accomplishments, Albert emphasized the moderate tax raise already enacted, the bill granting GI rights to veterans of the cold war and Viet Nam, and conservation measures. He said legislation on minimum wages, discrimination in employment and international health services are among bills scheduled for consideration soon after the House reconvenes.

Two others, Soloman Hill and Leon Crawley, also waived preliminary hearings on felony charges.

Hill was charged with selling mortgaged property; Crawley faced grand larceny charges. Both were held for the higher court with bonds set at $500 each.

J. D. Harris, charged with taking and receiving stolen property, was fined $25, sentenced to serve 30 days in jail, then placed on probation for six months.

A two-count traffic violation brought a fine of $16, to James A. Vires. Vires was charged with having no operator's license and no brakes on a vehicle.

David Kennedy was released from jail after serving 90 days of a six months' sentence for supplying intoxicating beer to minors.

Space Failure Reason Sought

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Space agency officials combed through bundles of data today in search of why a Centaur rocket failed to properly ignite a second time Thursday night, causing a possible setback in the U.S. man-in-space program.

The failure showed that U.S. scientists have not yet proved they can tame liquid hydrogen fuel in space — a concept which this nation must realize before it can commit astronauts to go to the moon, send heavy payloads to the planets or soft-land instruments on the moon the year around.

As engineers wrestled with the problem, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration went ahead with plans today to launch an Orbiting Astronomical Observatory at 1:36 p.m. The shot has been postponed five times.

After a flawless countdown the problem-plagued Centaur — already more than three years behind schedule — thundered aloft from Cape Kennedy Thursday night.

An Atlas booster successfully propelled the hydrogen-fueled Centaur upper stage 88 miles above the earth, where the Centaur's two engines burned for 325 seconds and placed it and a dummy surveyor soft-lander moonship into a planned 100-mile-high parking orbit around the earth.

After a 25-minute coasting period in this orbit, Centaur was to have ignited a second time, burn 107 seconds and hurl the dummy spacecraft to a make-believe moon 236,000 miles from earth.

Instead, NASA said, apparently only one of Centaur's two 15,000-pound-thrust engines ignited. It only burned 17 seconds and kicked both the surveyor model and the Centaur into an oval-shaped orbit of 101 to 186 miles.

WHICH ONE IS RIGHT?

It should not be too long until arguments advanced by our own Congressman, U.S. Representative Paul C. Jones, have a prophetic ring about them.

The prophecy could well be confirmed this week in a major study conducted by Fortune magazine.

Rep. Jones, in advocating a closer rein on domestic spending as the war in Viet Nam is escalated, has generally been hooted down by his more liberal colleagues in Congress.

At the start of the year, the President confounded the nation in his fiscal message that called for both "guns and butter."

Throughout it all, Rep. Jones has maintained that early estimates on the cost of the war in Viet Nam were too low.

This week, there will be figures published to show that the war is already running at an annual rate of $13 billion. If, as General Westmoreland has asked, troop build-up in Viet Nam rises to 400,000 before the year is out, the cost will run to $21 billion a year.

These estimates will be published in Fortune Tuesday. They contrast sharply with official expenditure forecasts. The President's budget for the fiscal year July 1, 1966, through June 30, 1967, allows only $10 billion for the war.

Fortune has developed its figures in a major research project, the most extensive ever undertaken by the magazine for a single article. The magazine's economics department and two outside economic consultants worked to produce independent cost estimates, assembling bits and pieces of basic data imbedded in the records of congressional hearings and government contract announcements.

A part of the astonishingly high cost of the war comes from increased prices. For instance, servicemen's pay is up more than 40 per cent since Korea, fighter jets cost six times as much as then. But the kind of war it is and the rate at which it chews up material also are responsible.

The magazine is certain that its careful analysis is correct, that costs already are and will continue far above those yet officially indicated.

What it all means, in a word, is a new strain on the economy, a strain that was not forecast in the Johnson fiscal message of less than three months ago.

But it was forecast by our Southeast Missouri Congressman.

We'll see which one is correct.

For our money, the Congressman is.

The Easter Show of the Radio City Music Hall was a gem this year--beautiful sets, the magical precision of the dancing Rockettes, and the talented, ageless Mary Martin cavorting, singing and dancing.

It was delightful to watch this television special, which helped compensate for some of the network failures of the winter and the mediocre weekly fare that grows increasingly more boring and monotonous.

The only thing wrong with Miss Martin's tidy spectacular was that it didn't compare with the glories outside.

Spring is Sikeston's best season and April is its best month.

There is a tang in the air and the promise of another growing season.

Dogwood soon will flower.

There is the splash of yellow forsythia. The delicate pink of the flowing quince. The beautiful red hues of the crape myrtle.

Skies are blue at least part of the time and there are buttermilk skies with those fluffy, white clouds--at least when there is no overcast or no showers for which the month is noted.

A thousand shades of green are seen in the budding trees and there is the dark, deep greens of grass and shrubbery.

Neat and delicate are the little white blossoms of spirea.

Tulips in many brilliant and deep colors delight the eye.

It's all right to enjoy color television.

But remember the best color is outside--even without Miss Martin, music by a famous orchestra and the dancing by the Rockettes.

The sounds of spring are equal to the visual beauty. Who or what can compete with the cheery song of the Cardinal?

CONTROLLING CORONARY RISK

Until science fiction comes true, there's nothing you can do to change two elements in your coronary risk picture; a third you probably wouldn't change, even if you could.

* You can't choose your ancestors retroactively; if yours were victims of premature coronary heart disease, you're still a twig on the family tree.

* You can't do anything to keep from growing older; time marches on, like it or not.

* And as for your sex, you'd probably rather fight than switch.

If, at this point, you figure that with three strikes against you, you might as well live dangerously, you couldn't be more wrong, the Missouri Heart Association advises.

True, each of these built-in factors can contribute to coronary-proneness, but the factors affecting an individual's liability are of varying weights, ranging from slight to great. A combination of two, three or more multiplies the risk effect.

A family history of premature cardiovascular disease does appear to raise an individual's risk to some extent. But other risk factors, such as high blood cholesterol, hypertension, obesity and cigarette smoking -- separately and in combination--outweigh heredity threefold and more.

As a single risk factor, any hereditary predisposition toward atherosclerosis can be quite insignificant provided you keep blood pressure, weight and blood cholesterol under control--with your doctor's help -- and don't smoke cigarettes. An unfavorable family history should serve as an alert, the Missouri Heart Association says, spurring you to take greater care about the risk factors that are under your control.

The highest number of deaths from heart attacks undoubtedly occurs in the older age groups. The Framingham (Mass.) men in their 50's had a four times greater risk of developing coronary disease than did men in their 30's.

Lest you younger men be lulled into a false sense of security, the Missouri Heart Association reminds you that the disease process culminating in a middle-aged heart attack starts silently, early in life. This, then, is the time to take counter-measures--diet, weight control, exercise -- to help head off a heart attack in middle age.

According to the Framingham data, American men are five to twenty times more vulnerable to "coronaries" during middle age than are women. In the Framingham population (over 5,000), no woman under age 40 has had a heart attack. The protective effect favoring women is generally attributed to the female sex hormone, estrogen. (After the menopause, as estrogen production declines, women become more vulnerable to heart attacks. After age 65, heart attacks strike women almost as frequently as men.)

But female sex hormones are not the whole story. American women did not always have this edge over men with respect to heart attacks in the middle years. Nor do women in less affluent societies than ours.

In 1920, there was very little difference between the sexes in the middle-aged death rate from cardiovascular diseases in the United States. And in less developed countries today, there is much less difference in male vs. female rates of coronary disease, as compared with current rates in economically well-developed countries.

The common denominator in both these situations seems to be diet. In underdeveloped economies, where diets are not rich in saturated (animal) fats, the heart attack rates of men are level with those of women. And if we cast a backward look at American men circa 1920, we find that they weighed less, for their heights, than American men since about 1940. Women, on the other hand, are actually slimmer today than they were 40 or 50 years ago. The fact that modern American women are more figure-and-weight-conscious than men, and also more active physically (as housewives and mothers), adds to the advantage they enjoy during the years when the opposite sex is most vulnerable to heart attacks.

So even if men eschew estrogens, they can take a few other valuable tips from their wives: eat less, exercise more, and live longer.

NEW YORK AP -- What is the best vehicle man has ever known?

Why, memory, of course.

It is better than Cinderella's golden coach, because it doesn't turn into a pumpkin at midnight or any other hour.

It is better than a railroad car, because it doesn't have to stick to a schedule. It is free to travel to any place or time in the past it chooses to.

Memory is faster than a space missile, more comfortable than a limousine -- and usually brings you back from a journey refreshed in body and heart. What else can you ask of a vehicle?

And you've put a lot of mileage on your own memory if you can look back and remember when --

You proved you were up on your slang by saying things like, "Oh, for crying out loud!"

Mother did so much sewing that half the time she kept a thimble on while doing her other household chores. Sometimes, when her eyes were tired, the youngest children would fight for the honor of threading her needle.

The only thing most people knew for sure about Czechoslovakia is that's where the prettiest glass eyes came from.

In summer it didn't pay to lean out the window of a street car if you were seated behind a fellow who chewed tobacco.

EASTER MORN

EASTER

Like many holidays, Easter comes once again with emphasis in many quarters on material rather than spiritual values.

The donning of new attire for the Easter Parade actually may date back to the days of Emperor Constantine, but regardless of the origin of this custom, it seems that today there is much commercialism in what should be a purely religious day.

While the traditional custom of rolling Easter eggs does not have any particular religious significance, in itself, it does carry out a symbolism and tradition that reminds the entire family of the joyous celebration—that is Easter.

When we don our finery, this Easter Sunday, and attend the services of our choice, let us not forget the true significance of the day. And let's reflect and be thankful that the American tradition of freedom of worship remains inviolate.

Opposition among independent business proprietors to permitting big business and unions to continue controlling the economy is apparently growing.

In a nationwide ballot conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business on H. R. 333, 88 per cent are in favor. This bill introduced by Rep. David Martin of Nebraska, would prohibit industry-wide labor bargaining such as is done in the automotive, steel, transportation and other industries. Only 10 per cent voted in opposition, with 2 per cent undecided.

Businessmen in Missouri support the measure by 84 per cent with 12 per cent opposed and 4 undecided.

When a poll was made on this bill last October, 84 per cent favored, with 13 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided. In January of 1965 when the issue was submitted the favorable vote was only 78 per cent, with 19 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided.

The growing support for the bill is believed to have been partly engendered by publicity given the recent New York transit strike. However, the biggest factor in hardening the sentiment was probably due to the publicity created by the recent abortive administration attempt to repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act, the so-called "right to work" clause.

As the situation now stands, a few national labor leaders can agree with the heads of a few big corporations in any given industry to decide what hours, wages and conditions will prevail in the entire industry, nationwide. Local unions and local management have no voice in determining what type of contract is best for their own local conditions.

Commenting on this increased sentiment in favor of clipping the powers of the big labor-big business coalition, Federation president C. Wilson Harder says "The drive to abolish "right to work" laws focused attention on the present labor practices. In addition, published threats by the unions to exert political repraisals seemed to have irked the majority of the American people who traditionally resent anything that smacks of blackmail."

ADVICE TO VACATIONISTS

People planning on a winter vacation should take the time and effort to learn about local dress customs of places they will visit. For example, there are Caribbean resorts where the barest bikinis for gals and G-string-type trunks for men are quite okay. You can spoil a vacation by taking the wrong duds, and a phone call to your travel agent will get the proper sartorial facts.

NEW WAY TO HEAL ULCERS

A variation of an old treatment used in grandmother's day, involving ordinary table sugar, has been successfully used to cure ulcers, according to Dr. James W. Barnes, Jr., of Glenn Dale Hospital, near Washington, D.C.

Dr. Barnes reports sugar is mixed with lard or butter, a method used in olden days to draw infection from boils. The newer method, Dr. Barnes reports, consists of pouring ordinary table sugar into the ulcer cavity. Then a thick and virtually airtight dressing is placed on top.

Dr. Barnes reported that the method had healed ulcers that had been present up to 12 years in long bedridden patients. In these cases bad sores or other ulcers had failed to respond to any other treatment, including skin grafting, Dr. Barnes said.

H. L. Hunt Says

CONSTRUCTIVE, 1966, 3RD INSTALLMENT

Conservative has been a losing title in the national elections in Canada April 8, 1963; in Britain October 16, 1964, and in the U.S. with Goldwater, having won the nomination with his book "Conscience of a Conservative," November 3, 1964. Conservatives, including brilliant Sir Winston Churchill, have presided over the liquidation of the world's largest empires.

As a way of permitting the title finally adopted to win wide approval, a start could be made at once by using several catchy names, all having to do with the same freedom philosophy. Some think one name would soon work itself to the top, but it is not likely that any coined name could equal the fine three-syllable title, now being carefully applied, "Constructive."

The title, "Conservative," is highly inadvisable in the United States as it foments and even promotes splinter or third party movements nearly always to the detriment of the most constructive of the two major party candidates. Constructive philosophies are helpful to the better of the two major party candidates even though the constructiveness of both leaves much to be desired. The philosophy will tend to tame radicals, bringing them back into the fold.

"Constructive" is a fool-proof word. In fact, it is so good that those who preach and practice destruction often seize it as an adjective to describe the evils they advocate, in order to deceive the people about their intentions, but they cannot make their use of the word stick.

"Constructive" as a title for a philosophy means all that is good and implies none that is bad in the name, Conservative. Any person or principle is subject to attack as being too conservative, but they can never be defamed as being too constructive. HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Sherman Adams, ex-governor of New Hampshire and the real power of the White House during the Eisenhower administration, has been living the life of a hermit since he was forced to resign over the Vicuna Coat-Goldfine conflict-of-interest scandal.

Today he's staging a comeback.

Adams had intervened at the Federal Trade Commission on behalf of Bernard Goldfine, the new England textile manufacturer who had problems with the FTC and who gave Adams a coat, free hotel expenses, a rug and other favors. The public reaction was so sour that Adams had to leave the White House.

Since then he has lived a quiet life in his native village, Lincoln, has scarcely seen old friends. A plan to have him lecture on government at the University of Massachusetts fell through because of trustees' objections. However, Mrs. Adams has sold some of her watercolors of New Hampshire scenery for as much as $500 each, and the family has lived on this, plus the $100,000 which Life Magazine paid for the Adams memoirs.

Now, however, Sherm has started a sky club on the mountain behind his home. Sinclair Weeks of Boston, former Secretary of Commerce in the Eisenhower cabinet; Robert Hill, former Ambassador to Mexico; and other Ike backers have invested in the club. It promises to be a thriving success, and has also brought Adams out of his shell. He's now his old energetic self.

Note: Some Republicans, recalling the vigorous steps taken regarding Adams's conflict of interest, are getting ready to jump on the Democrats regarding the conflict of Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut, a Democrat.

SAVING THE REDWOODS

Members of the fourth grade class at St. Anne's school in Bristol, Va., have written letters to Gov. Pat Brown of California thanking him for his efforts to save the California redwood trees, and to Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., asking him to speed up hearings on the establishment of a redwoods national park to preserve them.

Their letters result from Gov. Brown's recent trip to Washington where he urged early congressional action on the establishment of a redwoods national park before lumber companies cut down the stately trees which are found only along the Pacific coast.

Gov. Brown found President Johnson most sympathetic. In fact, the president had already allocated money in the budget for the purchase of park land, even in advance of congressional action.

However, Rep. Aspinall said he could not hold House Interior committee hearings until July.

The Rellim Redwood Company, which operates in Del Norte county where the park would be located, claims that it is pursuing a careful reforestation program, replanting the trees it has cut.

However, early hearings on the park program would give both sides a chance to be heard, and the school children of Bristol, Va., are writing Rep. Aspinal asking him to speed things up.

ROMNEY AND SCRANTON

Republican leaders at the recent GOP conference in Washington came away impressed with Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He had grown in stature, was taking an intelligent interest in national and international affairs.

One straw in the wind was his interest in the GOP policy statement on Latin America submitted by former Ambassador Robert Hill of New Hampshire. Gov. Romney was the only Republican who discussed the statement intelligently. It was obvious that he had taken pains to study it in advance.

He objected that the policy statement gave too much support for military governments in Latin America; also felt that the Republicans should put less emphasis on business and the protection of business investments in Latin America.

Republican leaders were a bit disappointed that Gov. Bill Scranton of Pennsylvania did not assume more leadership. He seemed subdued. Scranton has done an excellent job as governor of Pennsylvania, has strengthened the schools and helped create new colleges.

But at the recent Washington meeting Republicans privately speculated that Scranton's political bubble had permanently burst when Eisenhower let him down in his famous drive to block the nomination of Barry Goldwater. Scranton had received a commitment from Ike that he would help oppose Goldwater. But at the last minute George Humphrey, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, now head of National Steel and the most influential member of the Eisenhower cabinet, telephoned Ike in Gettysburg. Eisenhower then phoned Scranton just before he was going on the air, reversed himself regarding his opposition to Goldwater.

I note also your contention that Sen. Benton was not defeated because McCarthy invaded Connecticut in 1952 against him, but rather because of the Eisenhower landslide. It remains a fact, of course, that McCarthy did raise money and did make speeches in Connecticut, all aimed at defeating the man who had dared criticize him in the state.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Dramatics of Anti-Viet Nam Dissenters Overshadow U. S.-Labor's Anti-Viet Cong Activity in Jungle Cities.

Washington, D. C. -- Outcries of those who exercise their inherent right to high decibel dissent over Viet Nam have in recent days drowned out the voices of those who believe they at least have the same right to assent.

The voices of the former, loud and harsh, are heard on the streets of our land. The voices of the latter, softer, more charitable, now are heard easing the pains and anguish of women and children in Vietnamese villages and little-known delta cities.

Among the assenters, ignored amid the shrillness of the streets, are leaders of millions of unionists who are helping to neutralize Viet Cong terror, rebuild villages, feed hungry children, build orphanages, put floors into clinics and roofs on welfare centers and provide teachers for youngsters in far-off South Viet Nam.

A can of chocolate milk dispatched by a steelworker may not fill out a headline, but it does wonders for the stomachs of disease-seared kids, desperately needing safe foods in the Asiatic heat.

To some there may be the touch of jingoism in the title of the Committee to Support American Servicemen in Viet Nam. But its leaders care little about brickbats hurled at them by the dissenters.

These leaders, officials of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), District 3, are devoting themselves to rebuilding villages which have been bombed out. This is being done by collecting funds from IUE members for the IUE Resettlement Village and for the aid of the U. S. Marine corps' Civic Action Program.

Under the guidance of Committee Chairman Jerry Leopaldi, the union members help the Marines work out a series of specific projects aimed at winning the peace piecemeal after each battle has been won.

Where, for instance, the Marines go in and win a fight but a village has been knocked out in the struggle, the commanding officer surveys the damage. Was a church or temple destroyed? Was a school demolished? Was the water supply wiped out?

When the answers are learned, the C. O. assigns a sufficient number of men, medical corpsmen and other specialists as a "peace team." They locate a village interpreter. They tend to the wounded. They begin rebuilding the hamlet.

Clinics, schools, social centers and public kitchens go up. It isn't easy for the husky Marines to make friends after flushing Viet Cong out of the thatched huts the enemy used as camouflage.

But the Marines try. The more schools, the more clinics, the more food, the greater the understanding that they do not come as conquerers.

To make possible more schools and food and tiny hospitals, the IUE has set up its committee and is successfully urging its members to donate a dollar a month to help support the Marines' reconstruction program.

Nor is IUE alone in Viet Nam. An official of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) was over in the delta city of My Tho recently.

He was a guest of a meeting of the provincial labor council. They gathered in an uncompleted social-welfare center. Their money had run out. The building needed a roof.

The IAM sent them the funds. But now they need a floor and doors and windows. The Machinists are raising those funds, too, from the rank and file here in the States. Soon the social center, which houses a clinic and school, will be complete.

And it is the million-member steelworkers, headquartered in Pittsburgh, which is sending the safe and caloric chocolate milk.

It is the Screen Actors Guild which is encouraging its people to make certain that Bob Hope is not the only entertainer who has been on the road to Saigon. Eddie Fisher, Charlton Heston, Martha Ray, Edgar Bergen and his dummy, and lots more have defied the plastic bombs of the terrorists.

It's all part of a union-to-union program launched by AFL-CIO President George Meany, spokesman for some 14 million laborites. It's all coordinated with the Confederation of Vietnamese Labor, whose leader is Tran Quoc Buu.

Once he fought alongside of Hanoi's Ho Chi Minh against the French. But soon Buu, whose life George Meany saved, saw for himself that the first to suffer torturous deaths at the skilled Communist hands were the labor leaders and the intellectuals. Of him it can truly be said, he'd rather be dead that red. He made the choice freely.

Small wonder that early in March the North Vietnamese propaganda publication warned its followers not to trust Vietnamese labor leaders.

And so, this report is written in the hope that the world, which has heard the outcries of the dissenters, will learn of the quiet accomplishments of the assenters.

The Easter Show of the Radio City Music Hall was a gem this year--beautiful sets, the magical precision of the dancing Rockettes, and the talented, ageless Mary Martin cavorting, singing and dancing.

It was delightful to watch this television special, which helped compensate for some of the network failures of the winter and the mediocre weekly fare that grows increasingly more boring and monotonous.

The only thing wrong with Miss Martin's tidy spectacular was that it didn't compare with the glories outside.

Spring is Sikeston's best season and April is its best month.

There is a tang in the air and the promise of another growing season.

Dogwood soon will flower.

There is the splash of yellow forsythia. The delicate pink of the flowing quince. The beautiful red hues of the crape myrtle.

Skies are blue at least part of the time and there are buttermilk skies with those fluffy, white clouds--at least when there is no overcast or no showers for which the month is noted.

A thousand shades of green are seen in the budding trees and there is the dark, deep greens of grass and shrubbery.

Neat and delicate are the little white blossoms of spirea.

Tulips in many brilliant and deep colors delight the eye.

It's all right to enjoy color television.

But remember the best color is outside--even without Miss Martin, music by a famous orchestra and the dancing by the Rockettes.

The sounds of spring are equal to the visual beauty. Who or what can compete with the cheery song of the Cardinal?

CONTROLLING CORONARY RISK

Until science fiction comes true, there's nothing you can do to change two elements in your coronary risk picture; a third you probably wouldn't change, even if you could.

* You can't choose your ancestors retroactively; if yours were victims of premature coronary heart disease, you're still a twig on the family tree.

* You can't do anything to keep from growing older; time marches on, like it or not.

* And as for your sex, you'd probably rather fight than switch.

If, at this point, you figure that with three strikes against you, you might as well live dangerously, you couldn't be more wrong, the Missouri Heart Association advises.

True, each of these built-in factors can contribute to coronary-proneness, but the factors affecting an individual's liability are of varying weights, ranging from slight to great. A combination of two, three or more multiplies the risk effect.

A family history of premature cardiovascular disease does appear to raise an individual's risk to some extent. But other risk factors, such as high blood cholesterol, hypertension, obesity and cigarette smoking -- separately and in combination--outweigh heredity threefold and more.

As a single risk factor, any hereditary predisposition toward atherosclerosis can be quite insignificant provided you keep blood pressure, weight and blood cholesterol under control--with your doctor's help -- and don't smoke cigarettes. An unfavorable family history should serve as an alert, the Missouri Heart Association says, spurring you to take greater care about the risk factors that are under your control.

The highest number of deaths from heart attacks undoubtedly occurs in the older age groups. The Framingham (Mass.) men in their 50's had a four times greater risk of developing coronary disease than did men in their 30's.

Lest you younger men be lulled into a false sense of security, the Missouri Heart Association reminds you that the disease process culminating in a middle-aged heart attack starts silently, early in life. This, then, is the time to take counter-measures--diet, weight control, exercise -- to help head off a heart attack in middle age.

According to the Framingham data, American men are five to twenty times more vulnerable to "coronaries" during middle age than are women. In the Framingham population (over 5,000), no woman under age 40 has had a heart attack. The protective effect favoring women is generally attributed to the female sex hormone, estrogen. (After the menopause, as estrogen production declines, women become more vulnerable to heart attacks. After age 65, heart attacks strike women almost as frequently as men.)

But female sex hormones are not the whole story. American women did not always have this edge over men with respect to heart attacks in the middle years. Nor do women in less affluent societies than ours.

In 1920, there was very little difference between the sexes in the middle-aged death rate from cardiovascular diseases in the United States. And in less developed countries today, there is much less difference in male vs. female rates of coronary disease, as compared with current rates in economically well-developed countries.

The common denominator in both these situations seems to be diet. In underdeveloped economies, where diets are not rich in saturated (animal) fats, the heart attack rates of men are level with those of women. And if we cast a backward look at American men circa 1920, we find that they weighed less, for their heights, than American men since about 1940. Women, on the other hand, are actually slimmer today than they were 40 or 50 years ago. The fact that modern American women are more figure-and-weight-conscious than men, and also more active physically (as housewives and mothers), adds to the advantage they enjoy during the years when the opposite sex is most vulnerable to heart attacks.

So even if men eschew estrogens, they can take a few other valuable tips from their wives: eat less, exercise more, and live longer.

NEW YORK AP -- What is the best vehicle man has ever known?

Why, memory, of course.

It is better than Cinderella's golden coach, because it doesn't turn into a pumpkin at midnight or any other hour.

It is better than a railroad car, because it doesn't have to stick to a schedule. It is free to travel to any place or time in the past it chooses to.

Memory is faster than a space missile, more comfortable than a limousine -- and usually brings you back from a journey refreshed in body and heart. What else can you ask of a vehicle?

And you've put a lot of mileage on your own memory if you can look back and remember when --

You proved you were up on your slang by saying things like, "Oh, for crying out loud!"

Mother did so much sewing that half the time she kept a thimble on while doing her other household chores. Sometimes, when her eyes were tired, the youngest children would fight for the honor of threading her needle.

The only thing most people knew for sure about Czechoslovakia is that's where the prettiest glass eyes came from.

In summer it didn't pay to lean out the window of a street car if you were seated behind a fellow who chewed tobacco.

Most old farmers refused to wear their store teeth except when they went into town.

In a vaudeville, one funny routine would last a performer a lifetime. He didn't have to think up a new act every week.

Only schoolgirls wore long white stockings. Now you can see 'em even on grandmothers.

It was fondly believed that a girl who packed a good picnic lunch would never have any trouble landing a good husband.

It was harder to get a tire repaired than to have a horse reshoed.

Every working man dreamed of owning at least one striped silk shirt.

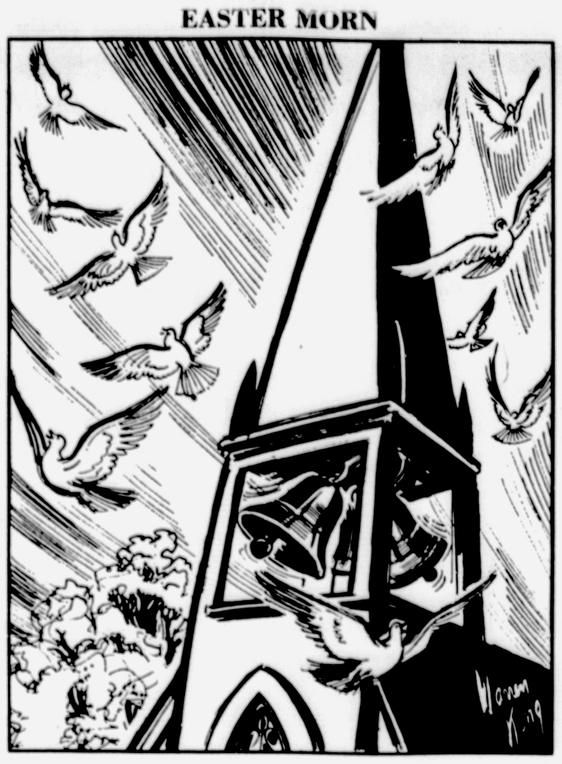

The telephone was used so seldom that everybody in the house jumped when it rang -- and assumed there was an emergency.

If you didn't like either of the major party presidential candidates, you could always express your discontent by voting for Norman Thomas.

The height of juvenile sophistication was to wear a lapel button that said, "Oh, you kid!"

Most businessmen thought golf was a game for idlers.

EASTER

Like many holidays, Easter comes once again with emphasis in many quarters on material rather than spiritual values.

The donning of new attire for the Easter Parade actually may date back to the days of Emperor Constantine, but regardless of the origin of this custom, it seems that today there is much commercialism in what should be a purely religious day.

While the traditional custom of rolling Easter eggs does not have any particular religious significance, in itself, it does carry out a symbolism and tradition that reminds the entire family of the joyous celebration—that is Easter.

When we don our finery, this Easter Sunday, and attend the services of our choice, let us not forget the true significance of the day. And let's reflect and be thankful that the American tradition of freedom of worship remains inviolate.

KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT -- READ. . .

"The Polite Americans" by Gerald Carson. The author is an excellent raconteur of American social folly and provides a synoptical view of national snobberies since the Pilgrims squabbled over the assignment of their pews. It all goes to prove that we've always fallen for the idea that "Some men are more equal than others. . ." We have our Kentucky Colonels, our Nebraska Admirals and our doctorate Doctors. Further, Mr. Carson follows the lurching course of the social status of women, changing restaurant manners and the Washington, D.C. pecking order at play. He makes it an easy going, even a gently polite, overview of pomposities and politesse from the era of chawin' tobacco right up to chewin' gum.

Opposition among independent business proprietors to permitting big business and unions to continue controlling the economy is apparently growing.

In a nationwide ballot conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business on H. R. 333, 88 per cent are in favor. This bill introduced by Rep. David Martin of Nebraska, would prohibit industry-wide labor bargaining such as is done in the automotive, steel, transportation and other industries. Only 10 per cent voted in opposition, with 2 per cent undecided.

Businessmen in Missouri support the measure by 84 per cent with 12 per cent opposed and 4 undecided.

When a poll was made on this bill last October, 84 per cent favored, with 13 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided. In January of 1965 when the issue was submitted the favorable vote was only 78 per cent, with 19 per cent opposed and 3 per cent undecided.

The growing support for the bill is believed to have been partly engendered by publicity given the recent New York transit strike. However, the biggest factor in hardening the sentiment was probably due to the publicity created by the recent abortive administration attempt to repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act, the so-called "right to work" clause.

As the situation now stands, a few national labor leaders can agree with the heads of a few big corporations in any given industry to decide what hours, wages and conditions will prevail in the entire industry, nationwide. Local unions and local management have no voice in determining what type of contract is best for their own local conditions.

Commenting on this increased sentiment in favor of clipping the powers of the big labor-big business coalition, Federation president C. Wilson Harder says "The drive to abolish "right to work" laws focused attention on the present labor practices. In addition, published threats by the unions to exert political repraisals seemed to have irked the majority of the American people who traditionally resent anything that smacks of blackmail."

ADVICE TO VACATIONISTS

People planning on a winter vacation should take the time and effort to learn about local dress customs of places they will visit. For example, there are Caribbean resorts where the barest bikinis for gals and G-string-type trunks for men are quite okay. But there are other places, mostly British, where women in slacks and men in walk shorts are stared at by the natives! You can spoil a vacation by taking the wrong duds, and a phone call to your travel agent will get the proper sartorial facts.

NEW WAY TO HEAL ULCERS

A variation of an old treatment used in grandmother's day, involving ordinary table sugar, has been successfully used to cure ulcers, according to Dr. James W. Barnes, Jr., of Glenn Dale Hospital, near Washington, D.C.

Dr. Barnes reports sugar is mixed with lard or butter, a method used in olden days to draw infection from boils. The newer method, Dr. Barnes reports, consists of pouring ordinary table sugar into the ulcer cavity. Then a thick and virtually airtight dressing is placed on top.

Dr. Barnes reported that the method had healed ulcers that had been present up to 12 years in long bedridden patients. In these cases bad sores or other ulcers had failed to respond to any other treatment, including skin grafting, Dr. Barnes said.

H. L. Hunt Says

CONSTRUCTIVE, 1966, 3RD INSTALLMENT

Conservative has been a losing title in the national elections in Canada April 8, 1963; in Britain October 16, 1964, and in the U.S. with Goldwater, having won the nomination with his book "Conscience of a Conservative," November 3, 1964. Conservatives, including brilliant Sir Winston Churchill, have presided over the liquidation of the world's largest empires.

As a way of permitting the title finally adopted to win wide approval, a start could be made at once by using several catchy names, all having to do with the same freedom philosophy. Some think one name would soon work itself to the top, but it is not likely that any coined name could equal the fine three-syllable title, now being carefully applied, "Constructive."

The title, "Conservative," is highly inadvisable in the United States as it foments and even promotes splinter or third party movements nearly always to the detriment of the most constructive of the two major party candidates. Constructive philosophies are helpful to the better of the two major party candidates even though the constructiveness of both leaves much to be desired. The philosophy will tend to tame radicals, bringing them back into the fold.

"Constructive" is a fool-proof word. In fact, it is so good that those who preach and practice destruction often seize it as an adjective to describe the evils they advocate, in order to deceive the people about their intentions, but they cannot make their use of the word stick.

"Constructive" as a title for a philosophy means all that is good and implies none that is bad in the name, Conservative. Any person or principle is subject to attack as being too conservative, but they can never be defamed as being too constructive. HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Sherman Adams, ex-governor of New Hampshire and the real power of the White House during the Eisenhower administration, has been living the life of a hermit since he was forced to resign over the Vicuna Coat-Goldfine conflict-of-interest scandal.

Today he's staging a comeback.

Adams had intervened at the Federal Trade Commission on behalf of Bernard Goldfine, the new England textile manufacturer who had problems with the FTC and who gave Adams a coat, free hotel expenses, a rug and other favors. The public reaction was so sour that Adams had to leave the White House.

Since then he has lived a quiet life in his native village, Lincoln, has scarcely seen old friends. A plan to have him lecture on government at the University of Massachusetts fell through because of trustees' objections. However, Mrs. Adams has sold some of her watercolors of New Hampshire scenery for as much as $500 each, and the family has lived on this, plus the $100,000 which Life Magazine paid for the Adams memoirs.

Now, however, Sherm has started a sky club on the mountain behind his home. Sinclair Weeks of Boston, former Secretary of Commerce in the Eisenhower cabinet; Robert Hill, former Ambassador to Mexico; and other Ike backers have invested in the club. It promises to be a thriving success, and has also brought Adams out of his shell. He's now his old energetic self.

Note: Some Republicans, recalling the vigorous steps taken regarding Adams's conflict of interest, are getting ready to jump on the Democrats regarding the conflict of Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut, a Democrat.

SAVING THE REDWOODS

Members of the fourth grade class at St. Anne's school in Bristol, Va., have written letters to Gov. Pat Brown of California thanking him for his efforts to save the California redwood trees, and to Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., asking him to speed up hearings on the establishment of a redwoods national park to preserve them.

Their letters result from Gov. Brown's recent trip to Washington where he urged early congressional action on the establishment of a redwoods national park before lumber companies cut down the stately trees which are found only along the Pacific coast.

Gov. Brown found President Johnson most sympathetic. In fact, the president had already allocated money in the budget for the purchase of park land, even in advance of congressional action.

However, Rep. Aspinall said he could not hold House Interior committee hearings until July.

The Rellim Redwood Company, which operates in Del Norte county where the park would be located, claims that it is pursuing a careful reforestation program, replanting the trees it has cut.

However, early hearings on the park program would give both sides a chance to be heard, and the school children of Bristol, Va., are writing Rep. Aspinal asking him to speed things up.

ROMNEY AND SCRANTON

Republican leaders at the recent GOP conference in Washington came away impressed with Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He had grown in stature, was taking an intelligent interest in national and international affairs.

One straw in the wind was his interest in the GOP policy statement on Latin America submitted by former Ambassador Robert Hill of New Hampshire. Gov. Romney was the only Republican who discussed the statement intelligently. It was obvious that he had taken pains to study it in advance.

He objected that the policy statement gave too much support for military governments in Latin America; also felt that the Republicans should put less emphasis on business and the protection of business investments in Latin America.

Republican leaders were a bit disappointed that Gov. Bill Scranton of Pennsylvania did not assume more leadership. He seemed subdued. Scranton has done an excellent job as governor of Pennsylvania, has strengthened the schools and helped create new colleges.

But at the recent Washington meeting Republicans privately speculated that Scranton's political bubble had permanently burst when Eisenhower let him down in his famous drive to block the nomination of Barry Goldwater. Scranton had received a commitment from Ike that he would help oppose Goldwater. But at the last minute George Humphrey, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, now head of National Steel and the most influential member of the Eisenhower cabinet, telephoned Ike in Gettysburg. Eisenhower then phoned Scranton just before he was going on the air, reversed himself regarding his opposition to Goldwater.

John Howe, Encyclopedia Britannica, New York City -- thanks for reminding me that Sen. Joe McCarthy was censured by the U. S. Senate for his "contumacious" treatment of the Gillette committee which investigated the charges of Sen. William Benton, D-Conn., against McCarthy, and for his contemptuous treatment of the Watkins select committee which studied the resolution of censure by Sen. Ralph Flanders, R.-Vt. I note also your contention that Sen. Benton was not defeated because McCarthy invaded Connecticut in 1952 against him, but rather because of the Eisenhower landslide. It remains a fact, of course, that McCarthy did raise money and did make speeches in Connecticut, all aimed at defeating the man who had dared criticize him in the state.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Dramatics of Anti-Viet Nam Dissenters Overshadow U. S.-Labor's Anti-Viet Cong Activity in Jungle Cities.

Washington, D. C.:--Outcries of those who exercise their inherent right to high decibel dissent over Viet Nam have in recent days drowned out the voices of those who believe they at least have the same right to assent.

The voices of the former, loud and harsh, are heard on the streets of our land. The voices of the latter, softer, more charitable, now are heard easing the pains and anguish of women and children in Vietnamese villages and little-known delta cities.

Among the assenters, ignored amid the shrillness of the streets, are leaders of millions of unionists who are helping to neutralize Viet Cong terror, rebuild villages, feed hungry children, build orphanages, put floors into clinics and roofs on welfare centers and provide teachers for youngsters in far-off South Viet Nam.

A can of chocolate milk dispatched by a steelworker may not fill out a headline, but it does wonders for the stomachs of disease-seared kids, desperately needing safe foods in the Asiatic heat.

To some there may be the touch of jingoism in the title of the Committee to Support American Servicemen in Viet Nam. But its leaders care little about brickbats hurled at them by the dissenters.

These leaders, officials of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), District 3, are devoting themselves to rebuilding villages which have been bombed out. This is being done by collecting funds from IUE members for the IUE Resettlement Village and for the aid of the U. S. Marine corps' Civic Action Program.

Under the guidance of Committee Chairman Jerry Leopaldi, the union members help the Marines work out a series of specific projects aimed at winning the peace piecemeal after each battle has been won.

Where, for instance, the Marines go in and win a fight but a village has been knocked out in the struggle, the commanding officer surveys the damage. Was a church or temple destroyed? Was a school demolished? Was the water supply wiped out?

When the answers are learned, the C. O. assigns a sufficient number of men, medical corpsmen and other specialists as a "peace team." They locate a village interpreter. They tend to the wounded. They begin rebuilding the hamlet.

Clinics, schools, social centers and public kitchens go up. It isn't easy for the husky Marines to make friends after flushing Viet Cong out of the thatched huts the enemy used as camouflage.

But the Marines try. The more schools, the more clinics, the more food, the greater the understanding that they do not come as conquerers.

To make possible more schools and food and tiny hospitals, the IUE has set up its committee and is successfully urging its members to donate a dollar a month to help support the Marines' reconstruction program.

Nor is IUE alone in Viet Nam. An official of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) was over in the delta city of My Tho recently.

He was a guest of a meeting of the provincial labor council. They gathered in an uncompleted social-welfare center. Their money had run out. The building needed a roof.

The IAM sent them the funds. But now they need a floor and doors and windows. The Machinists are raising those funds, too, from the rank and file here in the States. Soon the social center, which houses a clinic and school, will be complete.

And it is the million-member steelworkers, headquartered in Pittsburgh, which is sending the safe and caloric chocolate milk.

It is the Screen Actors Guild which is encouraging its people to make certain that Bob Hope is not the only entertainer who has been on the road to Saigon. Eddie Fisher, Charlton Heston, Martha Ray, Edgar Bergen and his dummy, and lots more have defied the plastic bombs of the terrorists.

It's all part of a union-to-union program launched by AFL-CIO President George Meany, spokesman for some 14 million laborites. It's all coordinated with the Confederation of Vietnamese Labor, whose leader is Tran Quoc Buu.

Once he fought alongside of Hanoi's Ho Chi Minh against the French. But soon Buu, whose life George Meany saved, saw for himself that the first to suffer torturous deaths at the skilled Communist hands were the labor leaders and the intellectuals. Of him it can truly be said, he'd rather be dead that red. He made the choice freely.

Small wonder that early in March the North Vietnamese propaganda publication warned its followers not to trust Vietnamese labor leaders.

And so, this report is written in the hope that the world, which has heard the outcries of the dissenters, will learn of the quiet accomplishments of the assenters.

The Modern Christian

The drama of human death was changed by Jesus Christ.

Modern man seems to assume an attitude either of indifference or of challenge towards death. Very many people pass over death in silence and refuse to think seriously. Absorbed in the playthings provided by technology, we can hardly reflect on ourselves and the meaning of life and the why of death.

Death has become the supreme test of human destiny. But in Jesus Christ this test can change its meaning; defeat becomes a means of salvation.

Death is at once a harsh ending and a completion. It can be either sign of sin or a sign of encounter with God, the event of salvation or the event of damnation.

Every action of life commits us, and death will finally show us what we really are and what is our real attitude towards God and other men and ourselves.

By dying, Christ has conquered death. He has known the drama of human death, and in him, death has taken on a new meaning.

Death for one who submits to the will of the Father becomes a sharing in the death of his only Son and therefore a sharing in the Resurrection. "If we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live together with Christ."

THE NEWS in Brief

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boardman and their two children, Barry and Becky of Louisville, Kentucky, arrive today to spend the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boardman of 714 Sikes.

The Boardman home was the scene for entertainment last night also, when Mr. and Mrs. Paul David Boardman and their infant son Davy, from Cape Girardeau, Missouri, were here to celebrate Mrs. David Boardman's birthday with their parents.

Here from Rockfort, Illinois, are Mr. and Mrs. Adams, and their two children, Terry and Cheri. They will be here over the weekend at the residence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Adams of Dexter, Missouri.

Arriving today for a two month's vacation with her son and his family, is Mrs. Iva Baugher. Mrs. Baugher is from Little Rock, California, and will be staying with Mr. Loy Baugher who resides at 907 Hawthorne.

A weekend visit for the Easter holidays to Paducah, Kentucky, and to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Jones, will be made by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barnes and daughter, Tracy of this city.

Arriving today, and staying until Monday, will be Mr. and Mrs. James Martin and sons Jimmy and Joe, from Bethalto, Illinois. They will be staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bishop of 604 Branum, who are Mrs. Martin's parents, and they will also visit with her sister, Mrs. Pat Rolwing of Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Britton of Du Quoin, Illinois, will be overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen of 516 N. Madrid, during Easter.

Leaving today to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bryant of Laport, Indiana, is Mr. Hester Bryant and his son Wendell of this city. Mr. Bryant and Wendell also plan on going to see his brother, Mr. Iretak Bryant of Michigan City, Indiana, not returning to this city until Tuesday evening.

Miss Diane Bass, who now works at the First National Bank in Memphis, Tennessee, will be here for the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Bass who reside at 312 Matthews.

Parents who will be lucky enough to have both children home this weekend, will be Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCanless of Sikeston. Their son is Sargent Elvis McCanless who is attending school at Champaign, Illinois, and their daughter, Mrs. Billie Criddle with her three children, Danny, Donna, and Karla, all of Oak Ridge, Missouri.

Here to spend the Spring Vacation with their children are Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Austin of Dyersburg, Tennessee. They will be staying with Mr. and Mrs. Gene A. Austin, 502 Carroll, and their grandsons, Rob, John and Eddie.

Sisters, Rosalie and Vivian Boyer, from Memphis, Tennessee, are here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boyer of this city, and will be returning Sunday evening.

Bringing his daughter to spend Easter with her grandparents, is Mr. Bill Acord of St. Louis, Missouri. Mr. Acord and Tina, will arrive today and be with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Acord of R.F.D.3, until Sunday evening.

Last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams and their son, Charles, Jr., from Senath, Missouri, were here to spend this time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adams of this city. Then Adams entertained them Saturday, with a visit and dinner to which the Reverend Pete Kinsolving and his wife were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daugherty of St. Louis, and their two little boys, Dan and Will, have just left after a five day vacation taken with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Aldrich, 845 Lora, of this city.

Mrs. James McDaniel and daughter, Kelley, of Granite City, Ill., arrived Wednesday night to spend a few weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dolivan Roberts and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts and family.

Ryshie Ford Is Now 81

CANALOU -- Mrs. Delpha Elderbrook and Mrs. Doll Uthoff and Mrs. Pearl Reeves helped Mrs. Ryshie Ford celebrate her 81st birthday March 31 by spending the day with her.

Mrs. Gladys Greer left Sunday for Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where she will be employed as a nurse and companion to an elderly woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bixler went to St. Louis Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Bill Purdy and family while their granddaughter is facing a tonsil operation.

Miss Patricia Willard spent the weekend with her mother and family in Arkansas.

Mrs. Areda Greenly and Peg visited their sister and aunt, Mrs. Polly Schuenburger, and children of Sikeston Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Amon Newman and Vicky of St. Louis spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Areda Greenly, and family. Newman and Vicky returned home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Newman remained for a week. TALKING WITH Clarissa Start, columnist for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, before a tea Thursday at the Security National Bank at which Miss Start spoke are, from left, Mrs. Elbert Wade of Charleston, Mrs. W. O. Burnett of Canalou, Miss Start, Mrs. Nelson Lumsden of Canalou, Mrs. Ervin LeGrand of Kelso and Mrs. Ernest Wheeler of Gray Ridge.

Clarissa Start, Columnist, Speaks at Tea Thursday

"The Many Lives of Most Women" was the topic of Miss Clarissa Start's talk Thursday when she spoke to over 200 women from Mississippi, New Madrid, Scott and Stoddard counties. The tea was from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the community room of the Security National Bank.

The tea was sponsored by the Home Economics Extension Councils of the four counties.

Miss Start, St. Louis Post-Dispatch columnist, said "I just plain like women." She commented that most women lead many lives and are busy and happy. She said, "Most women are satisfied with their role in life and happiness doesn't depend on staying at home or working." Factors which contribute to a woman's happiness are her sense of worth, her contribution to the world, her philosophy and religion.

Miss Start, in private life Mrs. E. Gary Davidson, told the women at the tea, "Being a housewife is not easy and as a profession is noble."

She said that most people think that women today have it easier that did their grandmothers. Miss Start disagrees. She said that women now work harder because many of them work away from home and at home as well.

Herself a member of the Governor's Commission on the States of Women, Miss Start reported that the National commission in 1963, found that 27 million women worked and three out of five of them were married.

She said that women are expected to have a white wash, polish floors and be a gourmet cook as well as many other things. She added that they are taking their duties seriously. "Women can do things with their hands and seem to enjoy it," Miss Start added.

She continued, "Woman's place is where she's needed. Today she is needed everywhere." Miss Start commented that American women try to do too many things and don't have time to put first things first.

Miss Start advised "Take time to do things that are important to us. A woman must know in herself who she is. She must have courage to be herself and the consideration to be what her husband wants her to be."

The columnist's husband is a lawyer and the couple has a young son. They live in a 99-year - old house in Webster Groves, where she takes an active part in such community affairs as church work, P.T.A, Garden Club and Scout activities.

She is a graduate of the Missouri University school of journalism. She takes part in affairs of a state organization of newspaper women of which she is immediate past president.

Her column, "The Little Woman", appears on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday and deals with the activities, amusements, interests and frustrations of the average woman.

The Modern Christian

The drama of human death was changed by Jesus Christ.

Modern man seems to assume an attitude either of indifference or of challenge towards death. Very many people pass over death in silence and refuse to think seriously. Absorbed in the playthings provided by technology, we can hardly reflect on ourselves and the meaning of life and the why of death.

Death has become the supreme test of human destiny. But in Jesus Christ this test can change its meaning; defeat becomes a means of salvation.

Death is at once a harsh ending and a completion. It can be either sign of sin or a sign of encounter with God, the event of salvation or the event of damnation.

Every action of life commits us, and death will finally show us what we really are and what is our real attitude towards God and other men and ourselves.

By dying, Christ has conquered death. He has known the drama of human death, and in him, death has taken on a new meaning.

Death for one who submits to the will of the Father becomes a sharing in the death of his only Son and therefore a sharing in the Resurrection. "If we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live together with Christ."

Bulldogs Finish Fifth in Track Meet At Kennett

KENNETT -- Sikeston placed fifth in the Kennett high school Invitational track meet coming in behind Cape Central who won the meet over Kennett 82-62.

Bulldog cindermen could only manage 15 points as they tied in almost each event with this limiting their point figures.

In the broad jump Black of Sikeston could only go 5'6" which tied fourth place. In the Broad jump Jackson tied for third place with a jump of 19' 8 3/4" finishing behind first place winner Hubbard of Cape with a jump of 20' 5 1/2".

Smith pole vaulted 10'6" which was good for fourth place with Goodrick of Kennett taking the event with a vault of 11' 4 1/2".

In the High Hurdles Boardman came in third close behind the first and second place winners who turned in a 15.3 time for the event. In the 100 yard dash Lott came in fifth, and in the 880 yard relay Sikeston came in fifth with Kennett taking first place honors.

In the low hurdles, mile, and the freshman mile the Bulldogs could only manage fourth place finishes with Charleston taking all the freshman events.

In the 220 Blackman finished fifth with Gerecke of Cape Central taking first.

Cape Central took home the first place trophy and Hubbard of Cape took home high point honors with 20 points.

The Bulldogs will travel to Poplar Bluff next Tuesday for a meet with P. B. and Dexter.

Kernek Encouraged

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst may be thinking that all a rookie needs is a little encouragement.

Schoendienst took a stand Wednesday in favor of his slump ridden rookie first baseman, George Kernek. Wednesday night, Kernek came through with two singles and a double and drove in three runs to boost the Cardinals to a 5-1 grapefruit League victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Schoendienst had told newsmen that the lanky 26-year-old from Holdenville, Okla., would start at first base next Tuesday night in the National League opener despite his slump.

Kernek, who led the International League in RBI last year, has hit only .222 in spring training games.

General Manager Bob Howsam backed up Schoendienst and added, "if we give up now, there's no point in undertaking a youth program. Kernek just has to get squared away."

The Cardinals traded veteran first baseman Bill White to the Phillies last winter with the idea that Kernek could make the grade as a replacement. Kernek looked good in seven starts for the Cardinals last fall, but his spring work has left a lot to be desired. Schoendienst said he would place him seventh in the batting order.

Robinson Continues His Lusty Spring Hitting Tactics

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Frank Robinson is an old 30, Milt Pappas must be an ancient 26.

Pappas was pummeled in his latest mound performance Thursday, just one day after Robinson continued his display of lusty spring hitting.

In whipping Cincinnati 10-4, the Chicago White Sox battered Pappas for nine runs and seven hits in five innings. The right-hander also walked six and threw two wild pitches.

Pappas and Robinson were the key figures in a four-player winter trade between the Reds and Baltimore. The Reds, feeling Robinson "is not a young 30," sent the slugging outfielder to the Orioles for the 26-year-old Pappas, pitcher Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Pappas called the trade "the greatest break I've ever gotten in my life" and added:

"I should win more games with a team able to get a few more runs for me. Robinson will have a harder time hitting in the big Oriole park."

Retorted Robinson:

"Wait until Pappas tries to pitch in Crosley Field. He'll find out. Bet I come out better than he does."

The season still lies ahead, but Robinson is right so far.

While he has hit eight homers, driven in 17 runs and has a .393 batting average, Pappas has been having trouble.

The veteran of eight American League seasons has pitched 34 innings this spring, given up 17 earned runs for a 4.50 earned run average, allowed 26 hits and walked 21.

That's enough to age anyone.

Leading the White Sox attack against Pappas was Tommy Agee, who singled across two runs in the five-run third inning and socked a two- run homer in the four-run fourth.

Baltimore, meanwhile, defeated Minnesota in one of three 7-3 games. The Orioles erupted for five runs in the first inning as Twins' pitcher Camilo Pascual walked four.

Willie McCovey rapped four hits and Juan Marichal scattered five hits in six innings as San Francisco defeated California 7-3, and the New York Yankees stopped Pittsburgh by the same score with Whitey Ford holding the Pirates scoreless for the first six innings.

Bob Gibson turned in six strong innings in St. Louis' 6-4 victory over the New York Mets.

A sacrifice fly by Frank Bolling in the 16th inning sent home the winning run in Atlanta's 3-2 victory over Washington, and a ninth-inning bases-loaded walk to Ozzie Chavvarria gave Kansas City a 7-6 verdict over Philadelphia.

Home runs by Jim Gentile and John Bateman carried Houston past Detroit 6-3 and Chuck Hinton hit a bases-loaded home run to power Cleveland to a 7-5 victory over Los Angeles.

Celtics Hold Edge in Playoff

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Well, we still have the edge," said Boston Celtics' Coach Red Auerbach.

"And we're still the underdog any way you look at it," said Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers.

These were almost the hottest post-mortem comments as the two coaches surveyed the results of Thursday night's 111-105 Philadelphia victory, its first National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

It cut the Celts' lead to 2-1 in the best-of--seven series that will be resumed Sunday in Boston.

That's how it stands also in the NBA's Western Division where the Los Angeles Lakers have the 2-1 edge over St. Louis with the next game Saturday night in St. Louis.

Schayes, whose 76ers beat Boston six out of 10 in regular season play, said he feels Philadelphia "finally has come out of its slump, but —" and he paused for emphasis:

"You can't take these Celtics for granted. We've got to fight every game every inch of the way."

Schayes was right about that, especially as he pointed out that his 76ers almost blew a 24-point first half lead — it melted to one point at 100-99 — before Philadelphia's - bread - and - butter guys, 7-foot-1 Wilt Chanberlain and outside shooter Hal Greer began swishing them through in the final five minutes.

Chamberlain came through superbly, collecting 31 points and grabbing 27 of Philadelphia's 69 rebounds. Greer's point total of 19 was below his average, but he got nine of them in the last seven minutes.

Thoroughbred Racing Opens at Lexington, Ky.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A $10,000 race and another worth only $7,500 head Saturday's thoroughbred racing program even though the agenda calls for a couple of $50,000-added affairs. And the reasons, are Graustark, the long-legged unbeaten colt, and Moccasin, the undefeated filly.

Moccasin, winner of eight races, makes her 1966 debut in the $10,000 Beaumont Purse. Graustark, victorious in three starts last year and two this season before being sidelined with a heel injury two months ago, returns to action in the $7,500 Whitney.

Graustark is the short priced favorite for the May 7 running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Moccasin also is eligible for the Derby but A. B. Hancock, owner of the daughter of Nantallah, said Thursday he wants no part of Graustark in the Derby if the Darby Dan ace is 100 per cent fit.

Both are such strong favorites that there probably will be no betting on their races. And the day's feature, the $20,000-added Phoenix Handicap, may also go unnoticed.

Bay Phantom, a real swifty, is the likely choice for the six furlongs of the Phoenix with chief opposition coming from Swift Ruler and Alphabet, a stablemate of Moccasin.

The two $50,000-added races will be run at Aqueduct and Bowie with older horses going 1⅛ miles in the Excelsior at the New York track and fillies and mares in the seven furlongs of the Barbara Fritchie at the Maryland course.

Not more than six are expected in the Excelsior but the sextet includes R. Thomas and Cupid, who ran one-two in last Saturday's Westchester at one mile, and First Family, surprise winner of the recent Gulfstream Park Handicap. R. Thomas has been assigned top weight of 119 pounds, two more than Cupid and four more than First Family.

Wheately Stable's Queen Empress, 2-year-old filly champion of 1964 and highly rated among the 3-year-old misses last year, figures to be the favorite in a field of 14 in the Barbara Fritchie. Under 123 pounds she'll give two the another former champion, Tosmah, Palm Court and Summer Scandal.

Gulfstream Park and Golden Gate fields each feature $15,000-added races.

Despite top weight of 127 pounds, Mrs. Charles F. Parker's Pollux likely will be the favorite in the 1 1-16 miles of the Fort Lauderdale Handicap at Gulfstream.

Golden Gate's headliner is the Gold Rush at one mile for 3-year-olds prepping for the April 23 renewal of the $75,000-added California Derby.

Indians Trade Terry To Athletics

CLEVELAND AP -- Pitcher Ralph Terry, who was the last major league holdout with the Cleveland Indians, now has to bargain with the Kansas City Athletics for a 1966 contract.

The Indians sold the 30-year-old right-hander to the Athletics Wednesday for $25,000 and southpaw John O'Donoghue. Terry had refused to sign for the $31,000 offered by Indians' President Gabe Paul and wanted $38,000.

O'Donoughue, from the A's training camp in Bradenton, Fla., said the trade came as a "big surprise."

Terry was reportedly in Minneapolis on a business trip when the trade was announced and could not be reached for comment. Terry's wife, Tanya, said from their home in Larned, Kan., that she talked to him on the phone and "he seemed happy."

The Athletics said Ed Lopat, the club's executive vice president, would start negotiations immediately.

Terry was 11-6 with the Tribe last year.

Two Time All-Stater From Kennett Signs Scholarship

KENNETT -- Don Tomlinson, 6-foot-4 Kennett high school senior, signed a letter of intent to play basketball at the University of Missouri yesterday.

Howie Crittenden, University of Missouri assistant basketball coach signed Tomlinson in Kennett. Tomlinson, a two time All-Stater, led Kennett to a 25-3 record last season. He scored 695 points.

This brings to four the number who signed basketball letters to attend the University.

Welcome Home Planned For Athletics

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics returned home from Florida today, complete with new faces, a revamped stadium and new hope.

The A's will meet the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday and Sunday afternoon in single games, playing what some writers call the "Missouri World Series."

Kansas City is expected to start Rollie Sheldon against the Cards' Ray Washburn, both veterans.

But the newness of both clubs will be on the field.

The A's first string catcher, Ken Suarez, was just entering professional ball a year ago. Last year's receiver, Bill Bryan, could open at first base while first baseman Ken Harrelson starts in left field.

Also on the A's roster are Paul Linblad, a Chanute, Kan., native, and Chuck Dobson, a Kansas Citian. Both are making their first trip north with the parent club although Lindblad saw brief action at the tailend of the 1965 season.

Also making an initial appearance Saturday are manager Alvin Dark and the A's playing field.

Dark, while a newcomer to the American League, is no stranger to managerial ranks. He piloted the San Francisco Giants to a National League pennant in 1962, and played on three World Series clubs, the Boston Braves in 1948 and the New York Giants in 1951 and 1954.

Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley has scrapped his "One-half Pennant Porch" in right field, pushing the foul line back and adding a 40-foot high fence, making the Kansas City park a "pitcher's paradise."

Outfitting brood in school shoes, father to clerk: "Sure, let them wear them home--while they still fit."

Gulfstream Park and Golden Gate fields each feature $15,000-added races.

Despite top weight of 127 pounds, Mrs. Charles F. Parker's Pollux likely will be the favorite in the 1 1-16 miles of the Fort Lauderdale Handicap at Gulfstream.

Golden Gate's headliner is the Gold Rush at one mile for 3-year-olds prepping for the April 23 renewal of the $75,000-added California Derby.

Indians Trade Terry To Athletics

CLEVELAND AP -- Pitcher Ralph Terry, who was the last major league holdout with the Cleveland Indians, now has to bargain with the Kansas City Athletics for a 1966 contract.

The Indians sold the 30-year-old right-hander to the Athletics Wednesday for $25,000 and southpaw John O'Donoghue. Terry had refused to sign for the $31,000 offered by Indians' President Gabe Paul and wanted $38,000.

O'Donoughue, from the A's training camp in Bradenton, Fla., said the trade came as a "big surprise."

Terry was reportedly in Minneapolis on a business trip when the trade was announced and could not be reached for comment. Terry's wife, Tanya, said from their home in Larned, Kan., that she talked to him on the phone and "he seemed happy."

The Athletics said Ed Lopat, the club's executive vice president, would start negotiations immediately.

Terry was 11-6 with the Tribe last year.

Two Time All-Stater From Kennett Signs Scholarship

KENNETT -- Don Tomlinson, 6-foot-4 Kennett high school senior, signed a letter of intent to play basketball at the University of Missouri yesterday.

Howie Crittenden, University of Missouri assistant basketball coach signed Tomlinson in Kennett. Tomlinson, a two time All-Stater, led Kennett to a 25-3 record last season. He scored 695 points.

This brings to four the number who signed basketball letters to attend the University.

Welcome Home Planned For Athletics

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics returned home from Florida today, complete with new faces, a revamped stadium and new hope.

The A's will meet the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday and Sunday afternoon in single games, playing what some writers call the "Missouri World Series."

Kansas City is expected to start Rollie Sheldon against the Cards' Ray Washburn, both veterans.

But the newness of both clubs will be on the field.

The A's first string catcher, Ken Suarez, was just entering professional ball a year ago. Last year's receiver, Bill Bryan, could open at first base while first baseman Ken Harrelson starts in left field.

Also on the A's roster are Paul Linblad, a Chanute, Kan., native, and Chuck Dobson, a Kansas Citian. Both are making their first trip north with the parent club although Lindblad saw brief action at the tailend of the 1965 season.

Also making an initial appearance Saturday are manager Alvin Dark and the A's playing field.

Dark, while a newcomer to the American League, is no stranger to managerial ranks. He piloted the San Francisco Giants to a National League pennant in 1962, and played on three World Series clubs, the Boston Braves in 1948 and the New York Giants in 1951 and 1954.

Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley has scrapped his "One-half Pennant Porch" in right field, pushing the foul line back and adding a 40-foot high fence, making the Kansas City park a "pitcher's paradise."

Outfitting brood in school shoes, father to clerk: "Sure, let them wear them home--while they still fit."

Fire Razes Farm Home

BLOOMFIELD -- Ashes were the only thing remaining after a raging fire claimed the home and most of the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Griff Keochig at 4:43 p.m. Saturday. The house was located about two miles south of Bloomfield.

Although the fire was already out of control when the Dexter fire department arrived, they were able to keep the flames from spreading to surrounding buildings.

The Scott New Madrid REA line crew were on the scene, as a safety precaution, when a telephone pole caught fire and a 7,200 volt wire that was across the highway was posing a threat to passing motorists. The fire was later extinguished and no damage to the wire itself was done.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Keochig have no definite plans for the future, they are considering the purchase of a trailer to put in the original site of their home as soon as the debris is cleared away.

Aged Get Most Funds

NEW MADRID -- New Madrid County's welfare agency disbursed a total of $200,015.36 during March, according to John Underwood, Sr., director of the office.

Underwood said that the greatest part of that amount went to those on the old age assistance list. There were 1,473 persons on the Old Age Assistance rolls during the month and they received a total of $98,572, or an average check per person of $66.92.

A total of 567 families with 1,767 children received $59,570 in the aid to dependent children category. Average family check for this group was $105.06.

From general relief funds, 197 families of 216 persons each received a total of $13,133, or an average check of $60.80.

There were 230 persons on the rolls in the permanently and totally disabled field of the welfare service who received an average check of $70.66. The total was $16,251.

The county had 82 persons on the pension for the blind list and each received $80. The total for this group was $6,560.

There were 63 children under child welfare supervision. Service was given to 41 children and was completed to seven, leaving a caseload of 56 at the end of the month.

Of these children now being given services, 41 are in the homes of their parents or residing with relatives, eight are in foster boarding homes, and two are in adoptive homes.

Amount spent for room and board, clothing, medicine, dental care and incidentals for the children under Child Welfare Supervision from the New Madrid County Court for the month was $260.50. State Board fund expenditures totaled $260.50, and the amount expended under the drug and dental program totaled $5,408.36.

Hospital to Request Federal Funds Soon

HAYTI -- The request for federal funds to carry out the expansion program at the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital is expected to come in the near future, a reliable source said here early this week.

The Hill-Harris grant sought for the county hospital is in the neighborhood of $400,000 to match a similar amount approved last December by Pemiscot voters in a special election which carried by about a five to one margin.

The state hospital advisory council, which met Thursday, approved seven other applications for new hospital construction but did not act on the request by the local hospital.

The council can approve the construction projects only as long as the actual funds are available under the Hill-Harris Act. The work is approved as the funds are actually received from the federal government at regular intervals. A source close to the Hayti hospital indicated that officials expect approval of the local grant at the next session of the state group.

Another source, who is a member of the hospital's board of trustees, said Saturday that the delay in getting approval for the grant apparently is the result of a change in federal policy.

He stated that at the time of the bond election, the county hospital held a very high priority for Hill-Harris funds and it seemed certain that approval of the grant would not take long.

At about the time of the election or shortly after, he added, there apparently was a change in the system and the local project's priority dropped from the top five to a much lower rank.

Before the session Thursday in Jefferson City, he continued, it was his understanding that the Pemiscot hospital was tenth on the priority list. If so, with the approval of seven grants last week the priority of the local project should now be about third.

Gerald Freeman, the hospital's new administrator, has joined with other hospital officials and members of the medical staff in pointing out the urgency of the additional 25 beds for the institution. In recent months the hospital has been operating almost steadily at capacity with its present 86 beds. With the new Medicare program coming into effect soon, he has pointed out that the present facilities will be far from adequate.

Prior to the election it was noted that the new wing would not be ready for the rush created by the new Social Security program--in fact some estimated that actual construction might take as long as two years. The delay created by lack of approval of the grant has complicated the matter even more.

Taxation on the bonds approved in the special election does not commence, however, until the federal grant is approved.

Fire Razes Farm Home

BLOOMFIELD -- Ashes were the only thing remaining after a raging fire claimed the home and most of the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Griff Keochig at 4:43 p.m. Saturday. The house was located about two miles south of Bloomfield.

Although the fire was already out of control when the Dexter fire department arrived, they were able to keep the flames from spreading to surrounding buildings.

The Scott New Madrid REA line crew were on the scene, as a safety precaution, when a telephone pole caught fire and a 7,200 volt wire that was across the highway was posing a threat to passing motorists. The fire was later extinguished and no damage to the wire itself was done.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Keochig have no definite plans for the future, they are considering the purchase of a trailer to put in the original site of their home as soon as the debris is cleared away.

Aged Get Most Funds

NEW MADRID -- New Madrid County's welfare agency disbursed a total of $200,015.36 during March, according to John Underwood, Sr., director of the office.

Underwood said that the greatest part of that amount went to those on the old age assistance list. There were 1,473 persons on the Old Age Assistance rolls during the month and they received a total of $98,572, or an average check per person of $66.92.

A total of 567 families with 1,767 children received $59,570 in the aid to dependent children category. Average family check for this group was $105.06.

From general relief funds, 197 families of 216 persons each received a total of $13,133, or an average check of $60.80.

There were 230 persons on the rolls in the permanently and totally disabled field of the welfare service who received an average check of $70.66. The total was $16,251.

The county had 82 persons on the pension for the blind list and each received $80. The total for this group was $6,560.

There were 63 children under child welfare supervision. Service was given to 41 children and was completed to seven, leaving a caseload of 56 at the end of the month.

Of these children now being given services, 41 are in the homes of their parents or residing with relatives, eight are in foster boarding homes, and two are in adoptive homes.

Amount spent for room and board, clothing, medicine, dental care and incidentals for the children under Child Welfare Supervision from the New Madrid County Court for the month was $260.50. State Board fund expenditures totaled $260.50, and the amount expended under the drug and dental program totaled $5,408.36.

Hospital to Request Federal Funds Soon

HAYTI -- The request for federal funds to carry out the expansion program at the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital is expected to come in the near future, a reliable source said here early this week.

The Hill-Harris grant sought for the county hospital is in the neighborhood of $400,000 to match a similar amount approved last December by Pemiscot voters in a special election which carried by about a five to one margin.

The state hospital advisory council, which met Thursday, approved seven other applications for new hospital construction but did not act on the request by the local hospital.

The council can approve the construction projects only as long as the actual funds are available under the Hill-Harris Act. The work is approved as the funds are actually received from the federal government at regular intervals. A source close to the Hayti hospital indicated that officials expect approval of the local grant at the next session of the state group.

Another source, who is a member of the hospital's board of trustees, said Saturday that the delay in getting approval for the grant apparently is the result of a change in federal policy.

He stated that at the time of the bond election, the county hospital held a very high priority for Hill-Harris funds and it seemed certain that approval of the grant would not take long.

At about the time of the election or shortly after, he added, there apparently was a change in the system and the local project's priority dropped from the top five to a much lower rank.

Before the session Thursday in Jefferson City, he continued, it was his understanding that the Pemiscot hospital was tenth on the priority list. If so, with the approval of seven grants last week the priority of the local project should now be about third.

Gerald Freeman, the hospital's new administrator, has joined with other hospital officials and members of the medical staff in pointing out the urgency of the additional 25 beds for the institution. In recent months the hospital has been operating almost steadily at capacity with its present 86 beds. With the new Medicare program coming into effect soon, he has pointed out that the present facilities will be far from adequate.

Prior to the election it was noted that the new wing would not be ready for the rush created by the new Social Security program--in fact some estimated that actual construction might take as long as two years. The delay created by lack of approval of the grant has complicated the matter even more.

Taxation on the bonds approved in the special election does not commence, however, until the federal grant is approved.

Malden to Get License Office

MALDEN -- An automobile license bureau will be established in the Malden City Hall this month. It will be a branch of the Kennett license office.

Announcement of the opening of the office was made by Thomas David, state director of revenue, at a luncheon Monday.

David said that the license fee office is being established on a trial basis in Malden and if it works out satisfactorily that it will likely become permanent. He said that facts and figures presented to the department show that Malden is the trade center of a large population area.

He said that in consulting with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes that they recognize the need and desire of this service by the people in this area.

The Malden branch is expected to serve the people of Bernie, Parma, Risco, Gideon, Clarkton, Campbell and Glennoville. All of these towns are within eight to 12 miles of Malden.

At present the nearest license bureaus to Malden are Kennett, 25 miles; Bloomfield, 25 miles; Poplar Bluff, 32 miles; and Portageville, 25 miles.

David said that the Hearnes Administration will make every effort to serve the needs of the people of this state whenever those needs are justified and it is feasible to do so. He said that it is now up to the people of this area to prove that this branch office is justified.

David was accompanied by Harry Smith, head of the Motor Vehicle Registration Department and John Peyton of the Highway Reciprocity Department.

The Malden branch of the Kennett License Office will be supervised by Roy Gately, head of the Kennett office. It will be located in the Malden City Hall and Roscoe Thornton, city clerk, will be in charge.

Space in the City Hall is being provided through the cooperation of Mayor R. J. Dirks and the City Council. The Council recently voted unanimously to provide the space needed for the office and to cooperate with the establishment of it.

The luncheon was attended by about 60 businessmen and officials from Malden and Bernie. Several others were unable to attend.

Invocation was given by R. B. Woods, Jr., of Bernie and Mayor R. J. Dirks made a welcoming address.

Allen Black served as master of ceremonies and introduced David. He also introduced Roy Gately of the Kennett office.

Black said that he wanted to express his thanks to all who had helped in obtaining this office for Malden. He said that many had helped, but that Mr. David and Gov. Hearnes were primarily responsible inasmuch as they recognized the need and were willing to do something about it.

He expressed thanks to the mayor and city council for their cooperation and to Gately. Black said that among those present most helpful in securing the branch office were Prosecuting Attorney Charles H. Baker of Kennett and Rep. Roy B. King of Malden.

Fund Plans To Be Made

A hospital planning committee meeting will be held Friday night at the Missouri Delta Community hospital to arrange for a fund raising campaign to obtain funds to match a $798,880 grant from the federal Hill - Harris act.

This grant, coupled with a federal grant of $293,499.55 received a year ago makes a total of $283,499.55 available for a 55-bed addition to the hospital.

It will be announced at the meeting what funds must be raised locally.

The construction program will include a new radiological department, cobalt and superficial therapy as well as three diagnostic rooms and a special procedures room.

The clinical laboratory and surgical suite will be enlarged to accommodate increased demands. In surgery cystoscopic and fracture rooms will be added in addition to major operation rooms.

In the basement, a physiotherapy department will be maintained, in addition to a new laundry and mechanical facilities.

The first floor of the new wing will have an enlarged emergency treatment center.

B. B. CULVER, JR., St. Louis, has been appointed Missouri state chairman of the Radio Free Europe fund.

Lampley Will Supervise Patrol

POPLAR BLUFF -- Lt. Glenn W. Lampley of the State Highway Patrol, who last week was promoted to that rank from sergeant, has taken up new duties with headquarters at Poplar Bluff.

He has been assigned to Troop E administrative patrol duties with the responsibility of supervising the activities of patrolmen throughout the troop.

Trooper Charles D. Whitehead of Perryville has been appointed acting zone commander in the Cape Girardeau area to replace Lieutenant Lampley.

While assigned to Poplar Bluff, where he has taken a room, Lieutenant Lampley said he will continue to maintain his residence in Cape Girardeau.

College District Approved

POPLAR BLUFF -- The Three Rivers junior college district for Butler, Wayne, Carter and Ripley Counties was approved by more than a 1,600-vote margin Tuesday in the overall unofficial vote tally in 25 school districts throughout the four counties.

Poplar Bluff R-I district and the other four reorganized districts in Butler County gave the issue a majority of more than 8 to 1, which carried the issue over heavy negative votes in the other three counties.

Wayne County voted nearly 5 to 1 against the issue and Carter and Ripley Counties each defeated the college proposal by more than 3 to 1 margins.

Total vote for the college, with two small districts unreported, was 5,448. The opposing vote was 3,800. Still not reporting were Lower Turkey Creek and Mountain View in Wayne County. Only a few votes were expected in these districts.

The total vote of the five Butler County reorganized districts was 4,599 for, and 532 against. Poplar Bluff R-1 was 3,335 for and 350 against. Brosley R-2 was 276 for and 69 against. Fisk-Rombauer R-3 was 415 for, and 62 against. Neelyville R-4 reported 321 for, and 36 against, and Qulin R-5 voted 252 for and 15 against.

IN WAYNE COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 289 for and 1,372 against. Greenville R-2 had 214 for and 429 against. Piedmont R-1 voted 75 for the issue and 943 in opposition.

IN CARTER COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 202 for the college, and 674 against the issue. Van Buren R-1 voted 46 for, and 430 against. Ellsinore R-2 polled 156 for and 244 against.

IN RIPLEY COUNTY, Doniphan and Naylor, the two major vote centers, voted a total of 282 for the issue, and 961 against. Doniphan R-1 was 203 for, and 615 against. Naylor R-2 had 79 for the college, and 346 in opposition.

Fred Davis, director of junior colleges with the State Department of Education, monitored returns from all the districts from a room at the Holiday Inn. Davis said that absentee ballots would change the results slightly, but probably could not affect the overall outcome of the election.

Davis emphasized that the vote tally so far is unofficial, pending the final approval of the State Board of Education which is expected to meet in Jefferson City later this month.

FBI Arrests Editor at Jackson

JACKSON, Mo. AP -- Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested the editor of the weekly Jackson Post-Cashbook Tuesday on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid persecution for forgery.

FBI spokesmen at St. Louis said today that Richard Canaday, 44, was taken before U. S. Commissioner Paul Mueller Jr. at Jackson and released on $2,500 bond. Canaday asked for a preliminary hearing but a hearing date was not scheduled.

A warrant for interstate flight was issued against Canaday Jan. 3 on a forgery warrant from the El Cerrito, Calif., Police Department, the FBI reported.

"We do not know how and when this forgery charge originated," said Al Spradling of Cape Girardeau, Canaday's attorney.

Spradling said he was attempting to find out who filed the complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. Felker will be ready to wait on people all day starting at 7:30 a.m.

Jones Attacks Rent Subsidies as Socialistic

Special to Daily Standard

WASHINGTON -- The $12 million rent subsidy bill, which has been passed by Congress, can mushroom into a $6 billion program, Rep. Paul Jones, Kennett, Mo., Democrat, said today.

He called the plan "socialistic", and said that he voted against it for this reason.

He noted that the bill to have the federal government pay a portion of the rental for certain citizens, one of them being persons who live in dilapidated homes, passed the Congress at the last session.

It provided for $30 million for the first year, which could skyrocket to much higher rates in the future. He said it provided that persons earning $10 thousand a year could get the subsidy to help pay their rent in some cases.

The federal government would pay 75 per cent of the rental of the family in some cases. The citizen would not have to pay more than 25 percent of his income for rent--and the government would pay the rest.

The bill has been tightened up since then Representative Jones said, but still is socialistic, and can grow into a tremendous sum over the term of the bill which is 40 years. The bill provided for $30 million last year, but this has been whittled down to $12 million this year. But it would be a "starter" for a 40 year program.

Some advocates of the bill claim its passage would lead to the construction of many inexpensive homes, for rental purposes. Rep. Jones noted that 62 Democrats voted against the Administration's recommendation, but he was the only person to both argue against it on the floor of the House, and also vote against it.

Five Elected to Diehlstadt Board

DIEHLSTADT -- Five persons were elected to the town board at the city election Tuesday and were Albert Crosno, Harvey Jones, James Howard, Paul Norman and Arthur Woods.

According to city clerk Albert Crosno, a mayor will be chosen from these five men.

Ever heard that before? The rest of it usually goes like this: "Sure I have a faith—but I can pray just as well at home."
Private worship is, of course, a precious and valuable and necessary thing. But if you neglect your place of worship, you neglect the place where the very substance of your faith is kept alive and nurtured. Consider this: if there were no "other fellow" to preserve, protect and practice the faith you believe in "at home"—how long would that faith endure?
Next time you're tempted to roll over in bed, and say, "Well, maybe I'll go next week"—remember your faith needs you to keep it strong . . . so it can strengthen you. Worship with your family at your church or synagogue this week. And don't disappoint yourself again.

It will be announced at the meeting what funds must be raised locally.

The construction program will include a new radiological department, cobalt and superficial therapy as well as three diagnostic rooms and a special procedures room.

The clinical laboratory and surgical suite will be enlarged to accommodate increased demands. In surgery cystoscopic and fracture rooms will be added in addition to major operation rooms.

In the basement, a physiotherapy department will be maintained, in addition to a new laundry and mechanical facilities.

The first floor of the new wing will have an enlarged emergency treatment center.

Lampley Will Supervise Patrol

POPLAR BLUFF -- Lt. Glenn W. Lampley of the State Highway Patrol, who last week was promoted to that rank from sergeant, has taken up new duties with headquarters at Poplar Bluff.

He has been assigned to Troop E administrative patrol duties with the responsibility of supervising the activities of patrolmen throughout the troop.

Trooper Charles D. Whitehead of Perryville has been appointed acting zone commander in the Cape Girardeau area to replace Lieutenant Lampley.

While assigned to Poplar Bluff, where he has taken a room, Lieutenant Lampley said he will continue to maintain his residence in Cape Girardeau.

B. B. CULVER, JR., St. Louis, has been appointed Missouri state chairman of the Radio Free Europe fund.

College District Approved

POPLAR BLUFF -- The Three Rivers junior college district for Butler, Wayne, Carter and Ripley Counties was approved by more than a 1,600-vote margin Tuesday in the overall unofficial vote tally in 25 school districts throughout the four counties.

Poplar Bluff R-1 district and the other four reorganized districts in Butler County gave the issue a majority of more than 8 to 1, which carried the issue over heavy negative votes in the other three counties.

Wayne County voted nearly 5 to 1 against the issue and Carter and Ripley Counties each defeated the college proposal by more than 3 to 1 margins.

Total vote for the college, with two small districts unreported, was 5,448. The opposing vote was 3,800. Still not reporting were Lower Turkey Creek and Mountain View in Wayne County. Only a few votes were expected in these districts.

The total vote of the five Butler County reorganized districts was 4,599 for, and 532 against. Poplar Bluff R-1 was 3,335 for and 350 against. Brosley R-2 was 276 for and 69 against. Fisk-Rombauer R-3 was 415 for, and 62 against. Neelyville R-4 reported 321 for, and 36 against, and Qulin R-5 voted 252 for and 15 against.

IN WAYNE COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 289 for and 1,372 against. Greenville R-2 had 214 for and 429 against. Piedmont R-1 voted 75 for the issue and 943 in opposition.

IN CARTER COUNTY, the two reorganized districts voted a total of 202 for the college, and 674 against the issue. Van Buren R-1 voted 46 for, and 430 against. Ellsinore R-2 polled 156 for and 244 against.

IN RIPLEY COUNTY, Doniphan and Naylor, the two major vote centers, voted a total of 282 for the issue, and 961 against. Doniphan R-1 was 203 for, and 615 against. Naylor R-2 had 79 for the college, and 346 in opposition.

Fred Davis, director of junior colleges with the State Department of Education, monitored returns from all the districts from a room at the Holiday Inn. Davis said that absentee ballots would change the results slightly, but probably could not affect the overall outcome of the election.

Davis emphasized that the vote tally so far is unofficial, pending the final approval of the State Board of Education which is expected to meet in Jefferson City later this month.

FBI Arrests Editor at Jackson

JACKSON, Mo. AP -- Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested the editor of the weekly Jackson Post-Cashbook Tuesday on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid persecution for forgery.

FBI spokesmen at St. Louis said today that Richard Canaday, 44, was taken before U. S. Commissioner Paul Mueller Jr. at Jackson and released on $2,500 bond. Canaday asked for a preliminary hearing but a hearing date was not scheduled.

A warrant for interstate flight was issued against Canaday Jan. 3 on a forgery warrant from the El Cerrito, Calif., Police Department, the FBI reported.

"We do not know how and when this forgery charge originated," said Al Spradling of Cape Girardeau, Canaday's attorney.

Spradling said he was attempting to find out who filed the complaint.

Saturday Last Free Tree Day

Daddy Felker says that Saturday will be the last day this Spring for people to get free trees at his home at 333 North Kingshighway St.

There will be wild white dogwood trees, hard maple, beech, a few redbud, 500 seedling white dogwood and 250 seedling pine trees available.

Mr. and Mrs. Felker will be ready to wait on people all day starting at 7:30 a.m.

Jones Attacks Rent Subsidies as Socialistic

Special to Daily Standard

WASHINGTON -- The $12 million rent subsidy bill, which has been passed by Congress, can mushroom into a $6 billion program, Rep. Paul Jones, Kennett, Mo., Democrat, said today.

He called the plan "socialistic", and said that he voted against it for this reason.

He noted that the bill to have the federal government pay a portion of the rental for certain citizens, one of them being persons who live in dilapidated homes, passed the Congress at the last session.

It provided for $30 million for the first year, which could skyrocket to much higher rates in the future. He said it provided that persons earning $10 thousand a year could get the subsidy to help pay their rent in some cases.

The federal government would pay 75 per cent of the rental of the family in some cases. The citizen would not have to pay more than 25 percent of his income for rent--and the government would pay the rest.

The bill has been tightened up since then Representative Jones said, but still is socialistic, and can grow into a tremendous sum over the term of the bill which is 40 years. The bill provided for $30 million last year, but this has been whittled down to $12 million this year. But it would be a "starter" for a 40 year program.

Some advocates of the bill claim its passage would lead to the construction of many inexpensive homes, for rental purposes. Rep. Jones noted that 62 Democrats voted against the Administration's recommendation, but he was the only person to both argue against it on the floor of the House, and also vote against it.

Five Elected to Diehlstadt Board

DIEHLSTADT -- Five persons were elected to the town board at the city election Tuesday and were Albert Crosno, Harvey Jones, James Howard, Paul Norman and Arthur Woods.

According to city clerk Albert Crosno, a mayor will be chosen from these five men.

Truck Pulls Into Road, Kills Biker

ZALMA, Mo. AP -- Jerrell Mitchel Ladd, 20, of rural Sturdivant was killed Thursday when his motorbike struck a two-ton gravel truck on M51.

Troopers said the truck, driven by Eddie Huffman, 17, of Advance, Mo., pulled onto the highway in front of Ladd.

Students in Parma Take District Awards

PARMA -- High school commercial students took honors in a district meet in Cape Girardeau. They will represent the district at the state meet in Columbia later in the month.

Highest honor was a first place award by the novice practical typing team, composed of Linda Calhoun, Sandra Atchley, Connie Lape.

I just don't go for organized religion
Ever heard that before? The rest of it usually goes like this: "Sure I have a faith—but I can pray just as well at home."
Private worship is, of course, a precious and valuable and necessary thing. But if you neglect your place of worship, you neglect the place where the very substance of your faith is kept alive and nurtured. Consider this: if there were no "other fellow" to preserve, protect and practice the faith you believe in "at home"—how long would that faith endure?
Next time you're tempted to roll over in bed, and say, "Well, maybe I'll go next week"—remember your faith needs you to keep it strong . . . so it can strengthen you. Worship with your family at your church or synagogue this week. And don't disappoint yourself again.

THIS WEEK SALUTING

MINER BAPTIST CHURCH

CLINTON E. ROBERSON
Pastor

Miner Baptist Church is located about one-half mile east of Sikeston, Mo., just off highway #62 north of the Blodgett road.

In 1926 a small group of Missionary Baptist under the leadership of Bro. H. Patterson, Missionary of the Charleston Association, met at the Bement school and voted to move their place of worship to the Bright Prospect Church building (present location of the Miner Cemetery) After two years this building was purchased for the sum of $75.00 and thus a permanent Miner Baptist Church was begun.

Miner was a sparcely populated rural community at that time, with few land owners and a shifting tenant population, therefore membership and income of the church was very uncertain. Old records lists payments of $3.00 for lamps and coal oil, Pot-bellied Stove $10.00, second hand organ $20.00, etc. by the Ladies Aid from such projects as "Egg Day" Farm Sale Lunches," "Hickory Nut sales," and "bake sales." Being a deacon meant that your family took their turn making fires, sweeping out sand, rain or snow that might have sifted thru the cracks. You also brought enough coal for that service.

The Lord blessed us by sending ministers dedicated to preaching the gospel on Sunday afternoons or Saturday night when they could spare time from their own churches, until we were able to have a pastor. The congregation increased and accepted God's plan for the support of the church--the Tithe. We are especially grateful to Bro. A. E. Fry, 422 E. Gladys for his leadership and spiritual guidance over many years.

"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad"--The present church is built on property the Ladies Aid bought for $40.00 in 1930 and donated to the church. The church has an auditorium with seating capacity of over two hundred, heating and air conditioning, baptistry, educational building, two nurseries, kitchen and dining area. In 1963 a modern brick three bedroom parsonage was completed, making our total property value $66,500.00. Resident membership is about 257, and of the $15,837 budget, 14% is allotted to the Cooperative Program of the Southern Baptist Convention; and 4% to local Associational Missions. A well staffed departmental Sunday School, Training Union, WMU and Auxiliaries, Brotherhood, Board of Deacons and an Adult and Junior Choir, gives opportunity for service and growth for all ages.

The first Vacation Bible School was held in 1935, and has been instrumental in reaching our youth for Christ. The Temple Baptist Church was sponsored as a mission before it became a church in 1957.

Our membership roll bears witness to the far reaching Christian influence of the Miner Church. Many men, women and youth today, who are giving their Christian witness thru work in various churches and community organizations, were converted at Miner and baptised in the open water near the Malcolm bridge, some as junior boys and girls at the time.

It is the desire of the Miner Baptist Church to be a strong Christian witness in our community. Brother Clinton E. Roberson, who has been pastor for eight years, joins with Bro. Guy Lawyer, Springfield, Mo. in inviting you to the evangelistic services March 30th thru April 10th at 7:30 P.M.

THIS WEEK SALUTING

MINER BAPTIST CHURCH

CLINTON E. ROBERSON
Pastor

Miner Baptist Church is located about one-half mile east of Sikeston, Mo., just off highway #62 north of the Blodgett road.

In 1926 a small group of Missionary Baptist under the leadership of Bro. H. Patterson, Missionary of the Charleston Association, met at the Bement school and voted to move their place of worship to the Bright Prospect Church building (present location of the Miner Cemetery) After two years this building was purchased for the sum of $75.00 and thus a permanent Miner Baptist Church was begun.

Miner was a sparcely populated rural community at that time, with few land owners and a shifting tenant population, therefore membership and income of the church was very uncertain. Old records lists payments of $3.00 for lamps and coal oil, Pot-bellied Stove $10.00, second hand organ $20.00, etc. by the Ladies Aid from such projects as "Egg Day" Farm Sale Lunches," "Hickory Nut sales," and "bake sales." Being a deacon meant that your family took their turn making fires, sweeping out sand, rain or snow that might have sifted thru the cracks. You also brought enough coal for that service.

The Lord blessed us by sending ministers dedicated to preaching the gospel on Sunday afternoons or Saturday night when they could spare time from their own churches, until we were able to have a pastor. The congregation increased and accepted God's plan for the support of the church--the Tithe. We are especially grateful to Bro. A. E. Ply, 422 E. Gladys for his leadership and spiritual guidance over many years.

"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad"--The present church is built on property the Ladies Aid bought for $40.00 in 1930 and donated to the church. The church has an auditorium with seating capacity of over two hundred, heating and air conditioning, baptistry, educational building, two nurseries, kitchen and dining area. In 1963 a modern brick three bedroom parsonage was completed, making our total property value $66,500.00. Resident membership is about 257, and of the $15,837 budget, 14% is allotted to the Cooperative Program of the Southern Baptist Convention; and 4% to local Associational Missions. A well staffed departmental Sunday School, Training Union, WMU and Auxiliaries, Brotherhood, Board of Deacons and an Adult and Junior Choir, gives opportunity for service and growth for all ages.

The first Vacation Bible School was held in 1935, and has been instrumental in reaching our youth for Christ. The Temple Baptist Church was sponsored as a mission before it became a church in 1957.

Our membership roll bears witness to the far reaching Christian influence of the Miner Church. Many men, women and youth today, who are giving their Christian witness thru work in various churches and community organizations, were converted at Miner and baptised in the open water near the Malcolm bridge, some as junior boys and girls at the time.

It is the desire of the Miner Baptist Church to be a strong Christian witness in our community. Brother Clinton E. Roberson, who has been pastor for eight years, joins with Bro. Guy Lawyer, Springfield, Mo. in inviting you to the evangelistic services March 30th thru April 10th at 7:30 P.M.

BULLDOG BARKER

SIKESTON HIGH SCHOOL, SIKESTON, MISSOURI

Barker Gains First Class Honor Rating From NSPA

Bulldog Barker recently received notice that it gained a first class honor rating in the 73rd All-American Newspaper Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Association.

This rating means that the newspaper is excellent and a score of 3,200 must be attained. Barker for the first semester, gained 3,330 points.

Association sent a guidebook to enable the staff to study its weak points and to learn of its good qualities.

NSPA judges commented about the Barker "What a good variety of editorial subjects! They do inform and interpret."

Criticism about coverage, photography, news, headlines, captions, and other items may be found in the margins of the guidebook.

Each edition of the Bulldog Barker published the first semester was mailed to NSPA and judged in competition with other high schools with an enrollment of 701-1,000. Both weekly and bi-weekly papers were included in this category.

Barkers for the last semester will be sent to the NSPA in May, and the Missouri Scholastic Press Association will also judge the Barker this spring.

12 Students Give Program About Spring

Twelve Sikeston high school girls will be the featured speakers for the Easter assembly this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Spring program entitled "Our Father's Garden" will be presented in accordance with the vernal season.

Seniors will attend the assembly in the cafeteria if the weather is not suitable for a program on the out-door stage.

Girls participating in the assembly and their designated "flower subjects" will be Kay Walton, rose ; Mary Leible, lilies; Carol Werneck, daffodil; Judy Matthews, v[illegible]; Elizabeth Martin, lilac; Paula Waldman, tulip.

Melinda Morrison, daisy; Vicki Schindler, pansy, Diane Taylor, zinnia; Susan Jobe, for-get-me-nots; and Kathy Matthews, snapdragon.

Senior Deidre Harber, assembly committee chairman, will serve as leader of the program.

Sikeston high school concert choir, directed by Gordon Beaver, will render three selections. Judy Matthews is the accompanist for the choir.

Printed programs for the assembly will be distributed to the students.

Following the assembly, school will be dismissed for the Easter vacation, and classes will resume in the Sikeston public schools Wednesday, April 13.

The assembly program is a service of the student council.

Polly Newman Is Sew-With-Cotton Annual Winner

Sophomore Polly Newman won the annual Sew-With-Cotton Contest. Her winning entry was a dress and coat ensemble of green and white cotton. The dress was of green and white stripe fashioned in the princess style and the coat was green.

Rules for the contest included the necessity of the material being 100 per cent cotton, entrants being between 16 and 19 years of age, and that the entrant either be enrolled in a home economics course or a member of 4-H Club.

Total cost of the winning entry was $12, and Polly received a $3 gift certificate at Penney's department store.

Polly is enrolled in Mrs. Wilma April's advanced sewing class.

Concert Choir To Make Album

Sikeston high school concert choir will record its seventh album for the '65-'66 season later this month.

Music included in the record will be secular, sacred, popular and other arrangements.

Large group picture of the singers will be displayed on the front of the cover.

DALE MORRIS smiles happily for the camera when notified that he won a first place in the district science fair.

Sam Harbin Presents Final PTA Program

Sam Harbin, Bank of Sikeston official, presented the final Parent-Teacher program of the year Tuesday evening. Mr. Harbin gave a brief outline of the cultural societies in the city of Sikeston.

Included in the organizations were the Delta Community Concert Association, the Sikeston Little Theatre, the Sikeston Council of Arts, the Sikeston Art League, and the Annual Festival of the Arts.

Mr. Harbin is past president of the Community Concert Association, the Little Theatre, and the Sikeston Council of Arts.

In his talk, he covered the history of the clubs, when and why they were founded, and what their specific function is.

Following his speech, the floor was left open for a question and answer period from the audience.

Sikeston High School Students Are Participants In District Speech Meet

Eight Sikeston high school National Forensic League members will represent Sikeston in the Southeast Missouri District Speech Meet in Cape Girardeau, Friday and Saturday, April 15-16.

This event is sponsored by the Missouri State High School Activities Association, and Sikeston will have one entry in each event.

Ratings of inferior, average, superior, and excellent will be given with the excellent recipients eligible for state competition.

Brian Underwood and Tom Phillips will debate the affirmative side on the issue of compulsory arbitration. Seniors Dale Morris and Fred Lumsden will argue the negative.

Seniors Deidre Harber and Martha Bess will perform in the verse reading and public speaking divisions respectively. Martha will recite Shakespeare's sonnets, songs, and poems.

Brian will compete in the extemporaneous speaking division, and Fred will perform in the radio broadcasting division.

Junior Bill Welker will read prose from Churchill's "A History of the English Speaking People."

For the past several days these students have been gathering information, practicing, and preparing for the speech contest in cooperation with Robert Walker, speech instructor and sponsor of the National Forensic League.

Seniors Conclude Red Pepper Role

PEP ORGANIZATION! In most schools this term only refers to approximately 40 girls who attend the football and basketball home games, but in Sikeston high school this term applies to 271 peppy, enthusiastic, and great girls -- Red Peppers.

With the election of new officers and cheerleaders, the '66 Red Peppers pass the "spirit" to a new group.

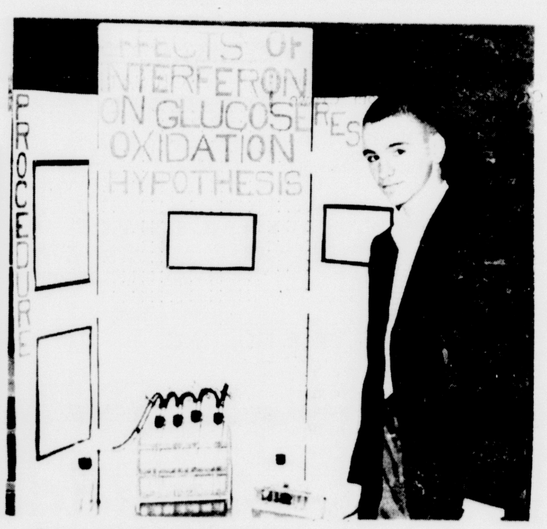

These officers elect are passed the responsibilities of a tradition -- a tradition of spirit, good sportsmanship, and high quality ratings.

As seniors, we will conclude our duties to our school as Red Peppers with the banquet and dance on Saturday, April 16.

We seniors reflect the happy, enthusiastic times, the fabulous memories of the past year. We remember the first rainy game, pep parades, bonfires, hymie, Blytheville game, Richland basketball game, and numerous other heart-warming experiences.

As tears of joy mingle with those of sadness, the Red Peppers of '66 finish with a victorious record -- good luck '67 Red Peppers.

----------Deidre Harber

Junior SAMMY HOPPER stands beside his entry at the annual science fair. Sammy won a third place for his display.

DE-COE Plan Joint Banquet

A combined COE-DE banquet is anticipated by the two instructors. At this banquet, the students enrolled in these courses will treat their employers to a dinner at the Holiday Inn.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Lester B. Kesterson, Director of Cooperative Industrial and Distributive Education.

In regard to the DE and COE programs for the coming school year, Mr. Woods and Mr. Henderson stated that thus far they have received applications from 50 students for the programs.

Plans are being made at the present for procuring employment for those interested students or other individuals who have either expressed an interest in the programs or those who might be interested.

Banquet, Dance Set; Officers Forfeit Titles

Annual Red Pepper banquet and dance of Sikeston high school are scheduled for Saturday, April 16, at the high school cafeteria and middle school auditorium respectively.

Banquet will begin in the afternoon at 5:30.

Charles Matthews IV, secretary of the board of education, will be the after-dinner speaker.

Highlight of the banquet will be the announcement of the officers and cheerleaders for 1966-67. Elections were held last Thursday, and the votes will be counted by the '66 officers next Friday.

Various other school officials will be guests of the Red Peppers for this social event.

Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence, director of food service in the Sikeston public schools, planned the menu, and it will be served by 31 freshmen girls.

Menu will consist of fried chicken, green beans, mashed potatoes, apple pie, and iced tea.

Spring Red Pepper dance will begin in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. Music will be provided by the Paducah Dukes of Murray State College.

Traditional Grand March is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

New officers and cheerleaders, along with senior Red Peppers, will be escorted to the front and presented to the audience at this time.

Themes for both the banquet and dance will be kept secret until Saturday, April 16.

Officers are decorating for the banquet, and senior peppers are planning the dance. Kay Walton and Phyllis Newman are chairmen for the dance decorations.

Banquet and dance are the final social events for the Red Peppers this year.

DeLaney Chosen Board President

CHARLESTON--Bob DeLaney was elected president and James Moreton vice president of the R-1 board of education at its reorganization meeting. DeLaney replaces H. H. Sutherland.

Moreton was sworn in as a member of the board. The other member elected Tuesday, Dennis Quertermous, is out of town on National Guard business and will be sworn in upon his return.

Mrs. H. R. Hequembourg was re-elected secretary.

Most of Wednesday's meeting was spent in a discussion of salaries for administrative personnel and on a schedule of pay for extra duties performed by teachers. The latter schedule was approved as recommended by the administration. Recommended administrative salaries were reduced by the board in all cases except one.

In other action Wednesday, the board:

Approved the purchase of a Farmall tractor and mower for school property use.

Voted to accept an alternate bid on glazed tile for some portions of the new high school, to accept the alternate bid on a build-up white marble roof for the new school, and to reject an alternate bid on gravelled driveway and parking areas at the school.

Accepted the resignation of Dr. Tom Shotwell as vocational agriculture teacher, and of Miss Nancy Merrick as French and Spanish teacher, effective the end of the school year. Dr. Shotwell said he would probably move to a university teaching position, and Miss Merrick said she planned to be married in July.

Discussed off the record the administration's recommendation for the release of five teachers from the system, effective at the end of the school. The board will hold its regular April meeting Wednesday night.

Maher Will Talk to C.C.

CHARLESTON -- Philip V. Maher, head of the state office of urban affairs and the coordinator for economic opportunity programs in Missouri, will speak Wednesday night at the monthly dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for Maher's appearance was announced by P. J. Ponder, chairman of the Community Improvement Association.

Maher intends to speak to the Chamber of Commerce on community betterment through the use of a new service for industrial development. This program is scheduled for development in the Bootheel.

State Representative David Rolwing assisted Ponder in making the arrangements for Maher's visit.

Council Talks Plans to Buy Residence

NEW MADRID -- Several matters other than routine business were discussed at the April meeting Monday night of the board of aldermen, according to Mrs. Pauline K. Allen, city clerk.

The board discussed a proposal for the purchase of a home at the outskirts of the north side of the city and make plans for its use as a historical site.

An initial application for a federal grant for the proposed sewage treatment system was approved.

Buddy Waters of Sikeston, discussed with the board a proposal for a topographical survey of the city of New Madrid for future planning of drainage.

Representatives of Luce, Thompson and Crowell of Kansas City, talked with the board on methods and manners in connection with the city's proposal to purchase Associated Natural Gas Company's facilities here and to make a study of the economic feasibility of the purchase.

With the cities of Gideon and Matthews, the board decided to purchase a fogging machine for use in elimination of mosquitoes and other insects.

"COME WHERE THE ACTION IS"

DeLaney Chosen Board President

CHARLESTON--Bob DeLaney was elected president and James Moreton vice president of the R-1 board of education at its reorganization meeting. DeLaney replaces H. H. Sutherland.

Moreton was sworn in as a member of the board. The other member elected Tuesday, Dennis Quertermous, is out of town on National Guard business and will be sworn in upon his return.

Mrs. H. R. Hequembourg was re-elected secretary.

Most of Wednesday's meeting was spent in a discussion of salaries for administrative personnel and on a schedule of pay for extra duties performed by teachers. The latter schedule was approved as recommended by the administration. Recommended administrative salaries were reduced by the board in all cases except one.

In other action Wednesday, the board:

Approved the purchase of a Farmall tractor and mower for school property use.

Voted to accept an alternate bid on glazed tile for some portions of the new high school, to accept the alternate bid on a build-up white marble roof for the new school, and to reject an alternate bid on gravelled driveway and parking areas at the school.

Accepted the resignation of Dr. Tom Shotwell as vocational agriculture teacher, and of Miss Nancy Merrick as French and Spanish teacher, effective the end of the school year. Dr. Shotwell said he would probably move to a university teaching position, and Miss Merrick said she planned to be married in July.

Discussed off the record the administration's recommendation for the release of five teachers from the system, effective at the end of the school. The board will hold its regular April meeting Wednesday night.

Maher Will Talk to C.C.

CHARLESTON -- Philip V. Maher, head of the state office of urban affairs and the coordinator for economic opportunity programs in Missouri, will speak Wednesday night at the monthly dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for Maher's appearance was announced by P. J. Ponder, chairman of the Community Improvement Association.

Maher intends to speak to the Chamber of Commerce on community betterment through the use of a new service for industrial development. This program is scheduled for development in the Bootheel.

State Representative David Rolwing assisted Ponder in making the arrangements for Maher's visit.

Council Talks Plans to Buy Residence

NEW MADRID -- Several matters other than routine business were discussed at the April meeting Monday night of the board of aldermen, according to Mrs. Pauline K. Allen, city clerk.

The board discussed a proposal for the purchase of a home at the outskirts of the north side of the city and make plans for its use as a historical site.

An initial application for a federal grant for the proposed sewage treatment system was approved.

Buddy Waters of Sikeston, discussed with the board a proposal for a topographical survey of the city of New Madrid for future planning of drainage.

Representatives of Luce, Thompson and Crowell of Kansas City, talked with the board on methods and manners in connection with the city's proposal to purchase Associated Natural Gas Company's facilities here and to make a study of the economic feasibility of the purchase.

With the cities of Gideon and Matthews, the board decided to purchase a fogging machine for use in elimination of mosquitoes and other insects.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Clerk, in the City Administrative Building, 316 South Kingshighway, Sikeston, Missouri, until 5:00 p.m., April 18, 1966, for the furnishing of all materials, equipment, labor, costs and construction of the following items; in accordance with plans and specifications on file in the offices of the City Administrative Building, Viz:

Item 1: One and one-half inch hotmix asphaltic pavement on six inch soil cement base with concrete curb and gutter on Comstock Place from Crowe Street to termination.

Item 2: One and one-half inch hotmix asphaltic pavement on six inch soil cement base with concrete curb and gutter on Crowe Street from Kentucky Road to Indiana Street.

Item 3: One and one-half inch hotmix asphaltic pavement on six inch soil cement base on Indiana Street from Broadway to Ralph Street.

Copies of the plans and specifications are available to bidders, and may be obtained from the City Clerk upon payment of two dollars ($2.00) for each set of plans. Successful bidders shall post a performance bond for the full amount of each contract.

All proposals must stipulate that contractors will accept in payment thereof, special tax bills issued against the property abutting the improvement. Sealed bids shall be submitted separately on each or any of the items as listed above and separate contracts shall be awarded on each item.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
(Matthew 27:46)

PRAYER: I am grateful, though ashamed, that Thou didst bear the pain for me, O Christ, when I bear so little pain for Thee. Help me to follow the example of Thy sacrificial love in my relationships with my fellowmen. In all humility, I beseech Thee, in Thy name. Amen.

Looking Back Over the Years

April 8, 1916

Fire which started Wednesday morning destroyed a block and a half of the largest buildings in the downtown section of Cape Girardeau, including the Riverview and Terminal Hotels and the Buckner-Ragsdale department store. Two saloons owned by Claude Speak and a millinery store owned by Miss Florence Boone also were destroyed.

Mrs. W. S. Smith had a few of the little folks at her home Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the birthday of her little daughter, Mary Williams. The hunt for the animal crackers ended with Miss Catherine Blanton winner. She was given a bunch of violets as reward. Miss Catherine also won the prize in the chewing gum animal contest. This prize was a fancy candle. The corn eating number was very much enjoyed by all the little Misses who were: Annette Smith, Cinderella Hires, Elizabeth Stallcup, Catherine Blanton, Hilma Black, Ella Helen Smith, and Lottie Dover.

John A. Young issued building permits last weekend to Miss Ruth McCoy and to Pleas Malcolm. Miss McCoy will have a five-room house, estimated to cost $3,000, built on a Park avenue lot. Mr. Malcolm is constructing a $2,250 five-room residence on North Ranney avenue.

J. A. Hummel died at the home of his son, F. D. Hummel in St. Louis Friday. He was 79 years old and had owned a drug store in New Madrid for 50 years.

Mrs. Theresia Larcols of Dutchtown, mother of Mrs. Herbert Goza of Sikeston, passed away Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bill Henderson at Cape Girardeau, after an extended illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mitchell received a message last Tuesday morning stating that the former's nephew, J. B. Mitchell of Los Angeles, Calif., passed away last week. He was a former resident of Sikeston and owned and operated the Sikeston Cleaning Co.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old girl with a father problem. I've always been overweight. The school nurse says I should lose 20 pounds. I've tried, but I can't do it. My father has nagged me and made my life miserable over the subject for as long as I can remember.

Last night my uncle and aunt were here. I was drying dishes when my dad called me into the living room. He had the bathroom scale in the middle of the floor. He said to my uncle, "Guess how much she weighs." My uncle wouldn't guess so my dad said. "She weighs 128 pounds." Then he told me to step on the scale and prove it.

My mother came in just then and told me to go back to the kitchen. I heard her tell my father he should not embarrass me like that. He has done this before and he knows it hurts my feelings but he won't stop. I need your help. -- ASHAMED

Dear Ashamed: It's too bad your dad doesn't realize that his nagging will not persuade you to lose an ounce. It will only make you eat more.

Ask your mother to take you to a doctor. He will prescribe a sensible diet. You CAN knock off those extra pounds and I hope you will. Your teen years will be a whole lot happier and healthier.

Dear Ann Landers: You can't believe how much trouble a monthly check for $58 can cause in a family. This is what my husband gets every month from the government for a war injury. He says the check belongs to him "to operate on" and that I can't have a dime of it.

We have never been clear of debt from the day we married. My husband gives me his whole paycheck every week so I can't fault with him there. But with four little kids to feed and clothe, and dentist bills and doctor bills and car payments, we have never been able to get even, much less ahead.

The thing that bugs me is I can't figure out what he does with the $58. He charged my Mother's Day gift last May and I ended up paying for it after the store called me about the bill.

If he would give me that $58 I would get us out of debt in three months. Help please.-- THE GOOSE

Dear Goose: Help you do what? Get the $58 away from the poor stiff so he can walk around penniless? You said he hands over his entire paycheck. Now really, Lady -- be reasonable.

Forget about the $58. Pretend he doesn't get it. This means, of course, you'll have to find something else to gripe about. From the sound of your letter, you'll think of something, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother wants me to go steady and I am against it. I know of three girls who went the limit with steady boy friends because they were together so much one thing led to another and they couldn't help it.

My mother says the reason the divorce rate is so high is because a girl can't settle down with one man after she runs around with every Tom, Dick and Harry. Mom wants me to pick out the fellow I like best and go steady with him. Help!!! -- BUGGED

Bear Bugged: Your mother is right about the divorce rate, but one of the reasons there is so much divorce is because of the teen-agers who start to go steady at 14, get engaged at 16 and get married at 17. By the time they are 19 they are fed up with marriage and are eager to tell it to the judge.

Are you at war with your parents? Do they have too much to say in your life? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Concrete Street in Collins North Acres

The First Mark of a Quality Home Is a Concrete Street in Front

If you are one of the many now in the home-buying mood, may we give you a word of friendly advice . . .

When you are looking around, look first for the concrete street. . .the street that is durable to withstand severe winters, light-reflectant for your safety, and free of grime and dirt that might mar your new home.

You can rest assured that the builder or developer who has shown the wise judgment to choose long-lasting, low-maintenance concrete for his streets will also have chosen quality materials and provided quality workmanship for the homes he offers.

ALL COLLINS SUBDIVISION STREETS ARE CONCRETE

Collins Const. Co. is opening 100 acres of new area in Collins North Acres this year. All the streets and drives are to be of concrete. All the houses will reflect quality throughout. Just east of No. 61 north, near Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Delmo Course Needs More Facilities

KENNETT -- Enrollment in the adult high school education course sponsored by the Delmo Housing Corp. has outgrown its present facilities, the Rev. William Chapman, training director, said this week.

Three classes have been held at the First Methodist Church Education building, the Rev. Mr. Chapman said, but unless additional room can be found, additional enrollees cannot be accepted.

Enrollment in the 15-week high school equivalency course has jumped from 40 to 60 to 80, all of whom have now been pretested. Initial classes got under way last Thursday night, under the direction of three teachers. A fourth instructor has been secured since then.

After the initial classes were started, the Rev. Mr. Chapman said 18 other applicants for the high school course have been received.

He said even with the present 80 enrollees, facilities at the church education building are overtaxed.

Until additional facilities are available, the applications of the additional adults cannot be considered, the training director said.

The program is being financed by Delmo Housing Corp. under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The Rev. Mr. Chapman said he has submitted a request to the Kennett Public Schools for the needed classroom space.

Cold Facts on Symphony Tour: Stage Stoves, Dressing in Open

Members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, who returned this week from a month-long series of one-night stands in the West and Northwest, are glad to be home. But most of them say they would not trade their tour experiences for anythings.

"We played in all kinds of places and on all kinds of stages," Eleazar de Carvalho, conductor, told the Post-Dispatch. "We had audiences of 700 to 7000. We brought a cultural message from St. Louis to the West. We exported culture just like McDonnell (Aircraft Corp.) exports planes."

One of the first stops on the 7700-mile tour was at Graham, Tex., which De Carvalho said "I'll never forget".

It was a cold night, there was no heat in the auditorium and none in his dressing room. "So I wandered around bundled up in my overcoat," he related.

STOVES ON STAGE

"That was an experience," said Carmine Fiococelli, violinist and assistant music director. "Our trunks were lined up on the stage for a backdrop and stagehands placed some portable gas stoves on the stage to try to keep us warm."

In Roswell, N. M., the orchestra stayed in a "very nice motel" but the concert was in an auditorium with no dressing rooms.

"I walked over to the auditorium," De Carvalho related, "and there everyone was standing beside his trunk getting dressed in the open for the concert. It's a good thing it didn't rain."

Members of the orchestra traveled in three buses. A large moving van carried the heavier instruments.

August Keller, a Brazilian who plays an English horn said, "We got to know the other members of the orchestra pretty well on that trip."

There was an incident in Los Angeles, Keller said, that brought praise and congratulations to Tamas Vasary, Hungarian-born piano soloist, who accompanied the orchestra on the tour, longest in its 40 years of touring.

TEAMSTER STRIKE

"It seems our van with all the heavy instruments in it ran into a Teamsters strike there and we were prevented from unloading," Keller said. "We had a concert at 8 o'clock but those Teamsters were tough to deal with."

"We had to cancel the orchestra's program, but Vasary substituted for us and played a full-length piano concert, very successfully, too."

George Berry, bassoon player, said that San Francisco was the most enjoyable city on the trip. In Los Angeles he did not see the sun for five days, he insisted.

Some citizens of Fort Smith, Ark., last stop on the tour, want the orchestra to come back to help dedicate a new performing arts center, Fiocelli said, "One man offered to fly us there on a jet plane," he said.

To show his appreciation for the "endurance and devotion" of members of the orchestra on the tour, De Carvalho gave a party for them in Fort Smith the night before they started home.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be at the Sikeston Armory, 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 19th. Tickets are available at the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank, The Daily Standard and any member of the Sikeston Council of the Arts for $1.00 each, or you may mail your order with a returned addressed stamped envelope to Box 447 Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.

The expense of bringing this orchestra to Sikeston was underwritten by the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank and the Daily Standard.

Car Plunge Kills Man

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. AP -- Roy Thompson of St. Louis was injured fatally today when his car ran off U. S. 67 about 25 miles north of here and plunged down an embankment.

Troopers said Thompson apparently lost control of his car on wet pavement.

His wife suffered minor injuries.

Brezhnev to Continue as Red Leader

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev was re-elected unanimously today to head the Soviet Communist party as the party ended an 11-day congress which brought little change in policies or leadership.

Brezhnev announced to the closing Kremlin session of the party's 23rd congress that he had been chosen party general secretary, the most important job in the Soviet Union.

The congress changed the title from the first secretary, which Brezhnev had been since the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev in October 1964. General secretary was Stalin's title.

The party's two key groups, the Politburo that sets policy for the party and the Secretariat that carries it out, retained practically the same members as before the election earlier today by the Central Committee.

The politburo, the former Presidium which the congress reverted to its Stalin-era name, was reduced from 12 to 11 members by the retirement of former Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan and Nikolai M. Shvernik, and the addition of Arvid J. Pelshe, a leader of the Communist party in Latvia.

Mrs. Grace Hamby Wall announces the sale of Hamby Pest Control to Bruce-Terminix world's best-known termite and pest control firm

Dear Friends:

For 18 years, the Hamby Pest Control Company has been a part of the Sikeston community. Much time and effort has been put into making it the well-respected firm it is today. But now it is no longer practical for me to operate the business on my own.

I have looked around to find the most dependable and reliable pest and termite control organization in the country to assure our good customers continued fine service. With the purchase of Hamby Pest Control by Bruce-Terminix, you can be certain of the same skilled protection for your homes and businesses that our company has always provided. Bruce-Terminix is owned by E. L. Bruce Co., world's largest producer of hardwood flooring. All work is bonded and insured.

When you deal with Bruce-Terminix it will be the same as doing business with Hamby's. A resident manager, Mr. Earl Hart, is to be located right here in Sikeston, and he is ready to serve your needs immediately during this present termite swarming season. Be sure to call him.

Thank you for your loyal patronage through the years. We leave you in good hands.

Sincerely,
Grace Hamby Wall

Cold Facts on Symphony Tour: Stage Stoves, Dressing in Open

Members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, who returned this week from a month-long series of one-night stands in the West and Northwest, are glad to be home. But most of them say they would not trade their tour experiences for anythings.

"We played in all kinds of places and on all kinds of stages," Eleazar de Carvalho, conductor, told the Post-Dispatch. "We had audiences of 700 to 7000. We brought a cultural message from St. Louis to the West. We exported culture just like McDonnell (Aircraft Corp.) exports planes."

One of the first stops on the 7700-mile tour was at Graham, Tex., which De Carvalho said "I'll never forget".

It was a cold night, there was no heat in the auditorium and none in his dressing room. "So I wandered around bundled up in my overcoat," he related.

STOVES ON STAGE

"That was an experience," said Carmine Fiococelli, violinist and assistant music director. "Our trunks were lined up on the stage for a backdrop and stagehands placed some portable gas stoves on the stage to try to keep us warm."

In Roswell, N. M., the orchestra stayed in a "very nice motel" but the concert was in an auditorium with no dressing rooms.

"I walked over to the auditorium," De Carvalho related, "and there everyone was standing beside his trunk getting dressed in the open for the concert. It's a good thing it didn't rain."

Members of the orchestra traveled in three buses. A large moving van carried the heavier instruments.

August Keller, a Brazilian who plays an English horn said, "We got to know the other members of the orchestra pretty well on that trip."

There was an incident in Los Angeles, Keller said, that brought praise and congratulations to Tamas Vasary, Hungarian-born piano soloist, who accompanied the orchestra on the tour, longest in its 40 years of touring.

TEAMSTER STRIKE

"It seems our van with all the heavy instruments in it ran into a Teamsters strike there and we were prevented from unloading," Keller said. "We had a concert at 8 o'clock but those Teamsters were tough to deal with."

"We had to cancel the orchestra's program, but Vasary substituted for us and played a full-length piano concert, very successfully, too."

George Berry, bassoon player, said that San Francisco was the most enjoyable city on the trip. In Los Angeles he did not see the sun for five days, he insisted.

Some citizens of Fort Smith, Ark., last stop on the tour, want the orchestra to come back to help dedicate a new performing arts center, Fiocelli said, "One man offered to fly us there on a jet plane," he said.

To show his appreciation for the "endurance and devotion" of members of the orchestra on the tour, De Carvalho gave a party for them in Fort Smith the night before they started home.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be at the Sikeston Armory, 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 19th. Tickets are available at the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank, The Daily Standard and any member of the Sikeston Council of the Arts for $1.00 each, or you may mail your order with a returned addressed stamped envelope to Box 447 Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.

The expense of bringing this orchestra to Sikeston was underwritten by the Bank of Sikeston, 1st National Bank, Security National Bank and the Daily Standard.
